THE

PSALMS of DAVID,
Imitated in the Language of the
NEW TESTAMENT.

PSALM I. Common Metre.
The way and end of the righteous and the wicked.

1. BLEST is the man who shuns the place
   Where sinners love to meet;
   Who fears to tread their wicked ways;
   And hates the sinner's seat:

2. But in the statutes of the Lord
   Has placed his chief delight;
   By day he reads or hears the word,
   And meditates by night.

3. [He like a plant of gen'rous kind,
   By living waters fer,
   Safe from the storms and blasting wind,
   Enjoys a peaceful state.]

4. Green as the leaf and ever fair,
Shall his profession shine,
While fruits of holiness appear
Like clusters on the vine.

5. Not so the impious and unjust;
What vain designs they form!
Their hopes are blown away like dust,
Or chaff before the storm.

6. Sinners in judgement shall not stand
Amongst the sons of grace,
When Christ the judge at his right hand
Appoints his saints a place.

7. His eye beholds the Path they tread;
His heart approves it well;
But crooked ways of sinners lead
Down to the gates of hell.

PSALM I. Short Metre:
The Saint happy, the Sinner miserable.

1. THE man is ever blest
Who shuns the sinners ways,
Among their counsels never stands,
Nor takes the scorners place.

2. But makes the law of God
His study and delight,
Amidst the labors of the day,
And watches of the night.

3. He like a tree shall thrive,
With waters near the root;
Fresh as the leaf his name shall live;
His works are heav’nly fruit.

4. Not
4. Not so the ungodly race,
   They no such blessings find:
   Their hopes shall flee, like empty chaff
   Before the driving wind.

5. How will they bear to stand
   Before that judgment-seat
   Where all the saints at Christ's right hand
   In full assembly meet?

6. He knows, and he approves
   The way the righteous go;
   But sinners and their works shall meet
   A dreadful overthrow.

PSALM I. Long Metre.

The difference between the righteous and the wicked.

HAPPY the man whose cautious feet
   Shun the broad way that sinners go,
   Who hates the place where atheists meet,
   And fears to talk as scoffers do.

2. He loves t'employ his morning-light
   Amongst the statutes of the Lord;
   And spends the wakeful hours of night
   With pleasure pond'ring o'er his word.

3. He like a plant by gentle streams
   Shall flourish in immortal green;
   And heaven will shine with kindest beams
   On ev'ry work his hands begin.

4. But sinners find their counsels crost;
   As chaff before the tempest flies,
   So shall their hopes be blown and lost,
   When the last trumpet makes the skies.
5. In vain the rebel seeks to stand
In judgment with the pious race;
The dreadful Judge with stern command
Divides him to a different place.
6. "Straits is the way my saints have trod,
"I blest the path and drew it plain;
"But you would choose the crooked road,
"And down it leads to endless pain."

PSALM II. Short Metre.
Translated according to the divine pattern,

Christ dying, rising, interceding and reigning.

[1. Maker and Sov'reign Lord
Of heav'n and earth and seas,
Thy providence confirms thy word,
And answers thy decrees.
2. The things so long foretold
By David, are fulfill'd,
When Jews and Gentiles join'd to slay,
Jesus thine holy Child.]
3. Why did the Gentiles rage,
And Jews with one accord
Bend all their Counsels to destroy?
Th' anointed of the Lord?
4. Rulers and kings agree
To form a vain design;
Against the Lord their Pow'rs unite,
Against his Christ they Join.
5. The Lord derides their rage,
And will support his throne;
He that hath rais'd him from the dead,
Hath own'd him for his Son.

6. Now he's ascended high,
   And asks to rule the earth;
The merit of his blood he pleads,
   And pleads his heav'ly birth.

7. He asks, and God bestows
   A large inheritance;
Far as the world's remotest ends
   His kingdom shall advance.

8. The nations that rebel,
   Must feel his iron rod;
He'll vindicate those honors well
   Which he receiv'd from God.

9. (Be wise, ye rulers; now,
   And worship at his throne;
With trembling joy, ye people, bow
   To God's exalted Son.

10. If once his wrath arise,
    Ye perish on the place;
Then blessed is the soul that flies
    For refuge to his grace.)

P S A L M II. Common Met

1. WHY did the nations join to slay
   The Lord's anointed Son?
Why did they cast his laws away,
   And tread his gospel down?

2. The Lord that sits above the skies,
   Derides their rage below;
He speaks with vengeance in his eyes,
And strikes their spirits through.
3. "I call him my eternal Son,
   "And raise him from the dead;
   "I make my holy hill his throne,
   "And wide his kingdom spread.
4. "Ask me, my Son and then enjoy
   "The utmost heathen lands:
   "Thy rod of iron shall destroy
   "The rebel that withstands."
5. Be wise, ye rulers of the earth
   Obey th' anointed Lord:
   Adore the King of heavenly birth,
   And tremble at his word.
6. With humble love address his throne;
   For if he frown ye die:
   Those are secure, and those alone,
   Who on his grace rely.

PSALM II. Long Metre.

CHRIST'S death, resurrection and ascension.

1. WHY did the Jews proclaim their rage,
   The Romans why their swords employ
   Against the Lord their powers engage,
   His dear anointed to destroy?
2. "Come, let us break his bands; they say,
   "This man shall never give us laws;
   And thus they cast his yoke away,
   And nailed the monarch to the cross.
3. But God who high in glory reigns,
   Laughs at their pride, their rage contrasts;
He'll vex their hearts with inward pains,
And speak in thunder to their souls.

4. "I will maintain the king I made
"On Zion's everlasting hill;
"My hand shall bring him from the dead,
"And he shall stand your sov'reign still."

5. [His wond'rous rising from the earth,
Makes his eternal Godhead known:
The Lord declares his heav'nly birth,
"This day have I begot my Son.

6. "Ascend, my Son, to my right hand,
"There thou shalt ask, and I bestow
"The utmost bounds of heathen lands;
"To thee the northern isles shall bow."

7. But nations that resist his Grace
Shall fall beneath his iron stroke;
His rod shall crush his Foes with ease,
As potters earthen work is broke.

PAUSE

8. Now, ye that sit on earthly thrones;
Be wise, and serve the Lord the Lamb;
Now at his feet submit your crowns;
Rejoice and tremble at his name.

9. With humble love address the Son,
Left he grow angry and ye die;
His wrath will burn to worlds unknown,
If ye provoke his jealousy.

10. His storms shall drive you quick to hell:
He is a God, and ye but dust:
Happy the souls that know him well,
And make his grace their only trust. PSALM
MY God, how many are my fears!
How fast my foes encrease!
Conspiring my eternal death,
They break my present peace.

2. The lying tempter would persuade
There's no relief in heav'n:
And all my swelling sins appear
Too big to be forgiv'n.

3. But thou, my glory and my strength,
Shalt on the tempter tread,
Shalt silence all my threatening guilt,
And raise my drooping head.

4. [I cry'd, and from his holy hill
He bow'd a listen'ning ear:
I call'd my Father and my God,
And he subdu'd my fear.

5. He shed soft numbers on mine eyes,
In spite of all my foes;
I 'woke, and wonder'd at the grace
That guarded my repose.]

6. What tho' the hosts of death and hell,
All arm'd against me stood,
Terrors no more shall shake my soul;
My refuge is in God.

7. Arise, O Lord, fulfil thy grace,
While I thy glory sing:
My God has broke the Serpent's teeth,
And Death has lost his sting.

8. Salva...
PSALM IV. 11

B

Salvation to the Lord belongs;
His arm alone can save:
Blessings attend thy people here,
And reach beyond the grave.

PSALM III. 1,—5, 8. Long Metre.

A Morning Psalm.

O Lord, how many are my foes,
In this weak state of flesh and blood!
My peace they daily discompose;
But my defence and hope is God.
2. Tired with the burdens of the day,
To thee I raised an evening cry:
Thou heardst when I began to pray,
And thine Almighty help was nigh.
3. Supported by thy heav'ly aid,
I laid me down and slept secure;
Not death should make my heart afraid,
Though I should wake and rise no more.
4. But God sustain'd me all the night;
Salvation doth to God belong;
He raised my Head to see the Light,
And makes his praise my morning song.

PSALM IV. 1,2,3,5,6,7 Long Metre.

Hearing of Prayer; or God our portion, and Christ our hope.

1. O God of grace and righteousness,
Hear and attend when I complain:
Thou hast enlarged me in distress,
Bow down a gracious ear again.

2. Ye
2. Ye sons of men in vain ye try
To turn my glory into shame;
How long will scorners love to lie,
And dare reproach my favours name?

3. Know, that the Lord divides his saints
From all the tribes of men beside;
He hears the cry of penitents
For the dear sake of Christ that dy'd.

4. When our obedient hands have done
A thousand works of righteousness,
We put our trust in God alone,
And glory in his pard'ning grace.

5. Let the unthinking many say,
"Who will bestow some earthly good?"
But, Lord, thy light and love we pray,
Our souls desire this heav'nly food.

6. Then shall my cheerful powers rejoice
At grace and favors so divine;
Nor will I change my happy choice,
For all their corn and all their wine.

An Evening Psalm.

1. Lord, thou wilt hear me when I pray;
I am for ever thine;
I fear before thee all the day,
Nor would I dare to sin.

2. And while I rest my weary head,
From cares and bus'ness free,
'Tis sweet conversing on my bed
With my own heart and thee.
PSALM V. 3

3. I pay this ev'ning sacrifice:
   And when my work is done,
   Great God, my faith and hope relies
   Upon thy grace alone.

4. Thus, with my thou'ts compos'd to peace
   I'll give mine eyes to sleep;
   Thy hand in safety keeps my days,
   And will my slumber keep.

PSALM V. Common Metre.

For the Lord's-Day Morning.

1. LORD, in the Morning thou shalt hear
   My voice ascending high;
   To the will I direct my pray'r,
   To the lift up mine eye.

2. Up to the hills where Christ is gone
   To plead for all his Saints,
   Presenting at his Father's throne
   Our songs and our complaints.

3. Thou art a God, before whose light
   The wicked shall not stand;
   Sinners shall ne'er be thy delight,
   Nor dwell at thy right hand.

4. But to thy house will I ressort,
   To taste thy mercies there;
   I will frequent thine holy court,
   And worship in thy fear.

5. O may thy spirit guide my feet,
   In ways of righteousness!
   Make ev'ry path of duty straight
   And plain before my face.
6. My watchful enemies combine
   To tempt my feet astray;
They flatter with a base design
   To make my soul their prey.
7. Lord, crush the serpent in the dust,
   And all his plots destroy;
While those that in thy mercy trust
   Forever shout for joy.
8. The men that love and fear thy name
   Shall see their hopes fulfilled;
The mighty God will compass them
   With favor as a shield.

PSALM VI. Common Metre:
Complaint in Sickness; or Diseases healed.

1. IN anger, Lord, rebuke me not;
   Withdraw thy dreadful storm;
Nor let thy fury grow so hot
   Against a feeble worm.
2. My soul's bow'd down with heavy cares;
   My flesh with pain oppressed;
My couch is witness to my tears,
   My tears forbid my rest.
3. Sorrow and pain wear out my days;
   I waste the night with cries,
Counting the minutes as they pass,
   'Till the low morning rise.
4. Shall I be still tormented more?
   My eyes consum'd with grief?
How long, my God, how long before
   Thine hand affords relief?

5. He
5. He hears when dust and ashes speak,
   He pities all our groans,
   He saves us for his mercy's sake,
   And heals our broken bones.

6. The virtue of his sovereign word
   Restores our fainting breath:
   For silent graves praise not the Lord,
   Nor is he known in death.

Psalm VI. Long Metre;
Temptations in Sickness overcome.

1. LORD, I can suffer thy rebukes,
   When thou with kindness dost chastise;
   But thy fierce wrath I cannot bear,
   O let it not against me rise.

2. Pity my languishing estate,
   And ease the sorrows that I feel;
   The wounds thine heavy hand hath made,
   O let thy gentler touches heal.

3. See how I pass my weary days
   In sighs and groans; and when 'tis night,
   My bed is water'd with my tears:
   My grief consumes, and dims my sight.

4. Look how the powers of nature mourn!
   How long, Almighty God, how long?
   When shall thine hour of grace return?
   When shall I make thy grace my song?

5. I feel my flesh so near the grave,
   My thoughts are tempted to despair;
   But graves can never praise the Lord,
   For all is dust and silence there.

6. Depart;
PSALM VII.

6. Depart, ye tempters, from my soul;
And all despairing thoughts depart:
My God, who hears my humble moan,
Will ease my flesh and cheer my heart.

PSALM VII. Common Metre.

God's care of his People, and Punishment of Persecutors.

1. My trust is in my heav'nly friend;
   My hope in thee, my God;
Rise, and my helpless life defend
   From those that seek my blood.

2. With insolence and fury they
   My soul in pieces tear,
As hungry lions rend their pray,
   When no deliverer's near.

3. If I had e'er provok'd them first,
   Or once abus'd my foe,
Then let him tread my life to dust,
   And lay mine honor low.

4. If there be malice hid in me,
   I know thy piercing eyes;
I should not dare appeal to thee,
   Not ask my God to rise.

5. Arise, my God, lift up thy hand,
   Their pride and pow'r controll;
Awake to judgment, and command
   Deliv'rance for my soul.

PAUSE.

6. Let sinners and their wicked rage
   Be humbled to the dust;
Shall
Shall not the God of truth engage
To vindicate the Just?
7. He knows the heart, he tries the reins,
   He will defend the upright;
His sharpest arrows he ordains
   Against the sons of spight.
8. For me their malice digg'd a pit,
   But there themselves are cast;
My God makes all their mischief light
   On their own heads at last.]
9. That cruel persecuting race
   Must feel his dreadful sword;
Awake, my soul, and praise the grace
   And justice of the Lord.

Psalm VIII. Short Metre,

God's Sovereignty and Goodness; and Man's Dominion over the Creatures.

O LORD, our heav'nly King,
   Thy name is all divine:
Thy glories round the earth are spread,
   And o'er the heavens they shine.
2. When to thy works on high
   I raise my wondering eyes,
And see the moon compleat in light,
   Adorn the darksome skies;
3. When I survey the Stars,
   And all their shining forms,
Lord, what is man, that worthless thing,
   Akin to dust and worms?
4. Lord, what is worthless man,
   That thou should'st love him so?

Next
Next to thine angels is he plac'd.
And Lord of all below.

5. Thine honors crown his head,
While beasts like slaves obey,
And birds that cut the air with wings,
And fish that cleave the sea.

6. How rich thy bounties are!
And wonders are thy ways:
Of dust and worms thy power can frame
A monument of praise.

7. Out of the mouths of babes
And sucklings thou canst draw
Surprising honors to thy name,
And strike the world with awe.

8. O Lord, our heav'ny King,
Thy name is all divine:
Thy glories round the earth are spread,
And o'er the heav'ns they shine.

P S A L M VIII. Common Metre:
Christ's Condescension and Glorification; or God made Man.

1. O Lord, our God, how wondrous great
Is thine exalted name!
The glories of thy heav'ny state
Let men and babes proclaim.

2. When I behold thy works on high,
The moon that rules the night,
And stars that well adorn the sky,
Those moving worlds of light:

3. Lord, what is man, or all his race,
Who dwells so far below.
That thou shouldest visit him with grace,
    And love his nature so.
4. That thine eternal Son should bear
    To take a mortal form,
Made lower than his angels are,
    To save a dying worm?
5. [Yet while he liv'd on earth unknown,
    And men would not adore,
Th' obedient seas and fishes own
    His God-head and his pow'r.
6. The waves lay spread beneath his feet,
    And fish at his command,
Bring their large shoals to Peter's net,
    And tribute to his hand.
7. These lesser glories of the Son,
    Spoke thro' the fleshly cloud;
Now we behold him on his throne,
    And men confess him God.]
8. Let him be crown'd with majesty,
    Who bow'd his head to death,
And be his honors founded high,
    By all things that have breath.
9. Jesus our Lord, how wondrous great
    Is thine exalted name!
The glories of thy heav'ly state
    Let the whole earth proclaim.

P S A L M VI. Ver. 1, 2. Paraphras'd.
FIRST PART. Long Metre.
The Hosanna of the Children; or, Infants praising GOD.

ALMIGHTY ruler of the skies,
    Thro' the wide earth thy name is spread.
And thine eternal glories rise
O'er all the heav'ns thy hands have made.

2. To the voices of the young
A monument of honor raise;
And babes with un instructed tongues
Declare the wonders of thy praise.

3. Thy power assists their tender age:
To bring proud rebels to the ground,
To still the bold blasphemer's rage,
And all their policies confound.

4. Children amidst thy temple throng
To see their great Redeemer's face;
The Son of David is their song,
And young Hosannas fill the place.

5. The frowning scribes and angry priests
In vain their impious cavils bring:
Revenge fits silent in their breasts,
While Jewish babes proclaim their king.

PSALM VIII. Ver. 3, &c. Paraphras'd.
SECOND PART. Long Metre.

ADAM and CHRIST Lords of the old and new Creation.

1. LORD, what was man when made at first,
   Adam the offspring of the dust,
That thou should'st set him and his race
But just below an Angel's place!

2. That thou should'st raise his nature so,
And make him lord of all below?
Make ev'ry beast and bird submit,
And lay the fishes at his feet?

3. But
3. But O what brighter glories wait
To crown the second Adam's state!
What honors shall thy Son adorn,
Who condescended to be born?
4. See him below his angels' made,
See him in dust among the dead,
To save a ruin'd world from sin:
But he shall reign with pow'r divine.
5. The world to come redeem'd from all
The mis'ries that attend the fall,
New made and glorious shall submit
At our exalted Saviour's feet.

Psalm IX. First Part. Common Metre.

Wrath and Mercy from the Judgment-Seat.

WITH my whole heart I'll raise my song,
Thy wonders I'll proclaim;
Thou, Sev'reign judge of right and wrong,
Wilt put my foes to shame.

2. I'll sing thy majesty and grace;
My God prepares his throne
To judge the world in righteousness,
And make his vengeance known.

2. Then shall the Lord a refuge prove
For all the poor opprest;
To save the people of his love,
And give the weary rest.

4. The men that know thy name will trust
In thy abundant grace;
For thou hast ne'er forsook the just,
Who humbly sought thy face.

5. Sing
5. Sing praises to the righteous Lord,
   Who dwells on Zion's hill,
   Who executes his threatening word,
   And doth his grace fulfill.

Psalm IX. Ver. 12.
First Part. Common Metre.

The Wisdom and Equity of Providence.

WHEN the great Judge supreme and just
Shall once enquire for blood,
The humble souls that mourn in dust
Shall find a faithful God.

2. He from the dreadful gates of death
   Does his own children raise:
In Zion's gates with cheerful breath
   They sing their Father's praise.

3. His foes shall fall with headless feet
   Into the pit they made;
   And sinners perish in the net,
   That their own hands had spread.

4. Thus by thy judgments mighty God
   Are thy deep consents known;
   When men of mischief are destroy'd,
   The snare must be their own.

PAUSE.

5. The wicked shall sink down to hell;
   Thy wrath devour the lands
   That dare forget thee, or rebel
   Against thy known commands.

6. Thou shalt to sore distresses are brought;
   And wait, and long complain,
   Their
Their cries shall not be still forgot,
Nor shall their hopes be vain.
7. Rise, great Redeemer, from thy seat,
To judge and save the poor;
Let nations tremble at thy feet,
And man prevail no more.
8. Thy thunders shall affright the proud,
And put their hearts to pain,
Make them confess that thou art God,
And they but feeble men.

Psalm X. Common Metre.

Prayer heard, and Saints saved; or, Pride, Atheism, and Oppression, punished.
For a Humiliation Day.

1. Why doth the Lord stand off so far,
   And why conceal his face,
When great calamities appear,
   And times of deep distress?
2. Lord, shall the wicked still deride
   Thy justice and thy pow'r?
Shall they advance their heads in pride,
   And still thy saints devour?
3. They put thy judgements from their light,
   And then insult the poor;
They boast in their exalted height,
   That they shall fall no more.
4. Arise, O God, lift up thine hand;
   A tend our humble cry:
No enemy shall dare to stand,
   When God ascends on high.

Pause
Psalm XI

5. Why do the men of malice rage;
And say with foolish pride,
"The God of heav'n will ne'er engage
To fight on Zion's side."
6. But thou forever art our Lord;
And pow'rful is thine hand;
As when the heathens felt thy sword,
And perish'd from thy land.
7. Thou wilt prepare our hearts to pray
And cause thine ears to hear;
He hearkens what his children say,
And puts the world in fear.
8. Proud tyrants shall no more oppress,
No more despite the just;
And mighty sinners shall confess,
They are but earth and dust.

Psalm XI - Long Metre:

God loves the Righteous, and hates the Wicked.

1. MY refuge is the God of love;
Why do my foes insult and cry,
"Fly like a tim'rous, trembling dove;
To distant woods and mountains fly."
2. If government be all destroy'd,
(That firm foundation of our peace)
And violence make justice void,
Where shall the righteous seek redress?
3. The Lord in heav'n has fix'd his throne;
His eyes survey the world bel ow;
To him all mortal things are known;
His eyelids search our spirits thro'.
4. If
4. If he afflicts his saints so far,
   To prove their love and try their grace,
   What may the bold transgressors fear?
   His very soul abhors their ways.
5. On impious wretches he shall rain
   Tempests of brimstone, fire and death,
   Such as he kindled on the plain
   Of Sodom, with his angry breath.
6. The righteous Lord loves righteous souls;
   Whose thoughts and actions are sincere;
   And with a gracious eye beholds
   The men that his own image bear.

PSALM XII. Long Metre.

The Saints's Safety and Hope in evil Times; or,
Sins of the Tongue complained of, namely,
Blasphemy, Falsehood, &c.

1. LORD, if thou dost not soon appear,
   Virtue and truth will fly away;
   A faith'ul man amongst us here
   Will scarce be found if thou delay.
2. The whole discourse when neighbours meet
   Is fill'd with trifles loose and vain;
   Their lips are flattery and deceit,
   And their proud language is profane.
3. But lips that with deceit abound
   Shall not maintain their triumph long;
   The God of vengeance will confound
   The flatt'ring and blaspheming tongue.
4. "Yet shall our words be free, they cry;
   Our tongue shall be controul'd by none."
Where is the Lord will ask us why?
Or say, our lips are not our own?

5. The Lord, who sees the poor oppress,
And hears the oppressor's haughty strain,
Will rise to give his children rest,
Nor shall they trust his word in vain.

6. Thy word, O Lord, thou'ft often try'd,
Void of deceit shall still appear;
Not silver sev'n times purify'd
From dross and mixture shines so clear.

7. Thy grace shall in the darkest hour
Defend the holy soul from harm:
Tho' when the vilest men have pow'r,
On ev'ry side will sinners swarm.

PSALM XII. Common Metre.

Complaint of a general Corruption of Manners, or, the Promise and Sign of Christ's coming to Judgment.

1. HELP, Lord, for men of virtue fail,
Religion loses ground;
The sons of violence prevail,
And treacheries abound.

2. Their oaths and promises they break;
Yet ask the flatter's part:
With fair deceitful lips they speak,
And with a double heart.

3. If we reprove some hateful lie,
How is their fury stirr'd!
"Are not our lips our own? they cry,
"And who shall be our Lord?"

4. Scoffers
4. Scoffers appear on ev'ry side,
Where a vile race of men
Is rais'd to seats of pow'r and pride,
And bear the sword in vain.

5. Lord, when iniquities abound,
And Blasphemy grows bold;
When faith is hardly to be found,
And love is waxing cold.

6. Is not thy chariot halting on?
Haft thou not giv'n the sign?
May we not trust and live upon
A promise so divine?

7. "Yes, faith the Lord, now will I rise,
"And make oppressors flee;
"I shall appear to their surprise,
"And set my servants free."

8. Thy word like silver, sev'n times try'd,
Thro' ages shall endure;
The men that in thy truth confide,
Shall find their promise sure.

PSALM XIII. Long Metre.

Pleading with God under Desertion; or, Hope
OMITTED in Darkness.

1. HOW long, O Lord, shall I complain,
Like one that seeks his God in vain?
Canst thou thy face forever hide?
And I still pray, and be deny'd?

2. Shall I forever be forgot,
As one whom thou regardeft not?
Still shall my soul thine absence mourn;
And still despair of thy return.

3. How long shall my poor troubled breast
Be with these anxious thoughts oppress'd?
And Satan, my malicious foe,
Rejoice to see me sunk so low?

4. Hear, Lord, and grant me quick relief,
Before my death conclude my grief;
If thou with hold thy heav'nly light,
I sleep in everlasting night.

5. How will the powers of darkness boast,
If but one praying soul be lost?
But I have trusted in thy grace,
And shall again behold thy face.

6. Whate'er my fears or foes suggest,
Thou art my hope, my joy, my rest:
My heart shall feel thy love, and raise
My cheerful voice to songs of praise.

PSALM XIII. Common Metre.

Complaint under Temptations of the Devil.

1. HOW long wilt thou conceal thy face,
   My God, how long delay?
When shall I feel those heav'nly rays
   That chase my fears away?

2. How long shall my poor lab'ring soul
   Wrestle and toil in vain?
Thy word can all my foes controul,
   And ease my raging pain.

3. See how the Prince of Darkness tries
   All his malicious arts.
He spreadeth a mist around my eyes,
And throws his fiery darts.

4. Be thou my sun, be thou my shield,
My soul in safety keep;
Make haste, before mine eyes are seal'd:
In death's eternal sleep.

5. How would the tempter boast aloud,
If I became his prey!
Behold, the sons of hell grow proud
At thy so long delay.

6. But they shall fly at thy rebuke,
And Satan hide his head;
He knows the terrors of thy look,
And hears thy voice with dread.

7. Thou wilt display that love's reign grace
Where all my hopes have hung;
I shall employ my lips in praise,
And vict'ry shall be sung.

PSALM XIV.

First Part. Common Metre.

By Nature all Men are Sinners.

1. Fools in their hearts believe and say,
   "That all religion's vain;
   There is no God that reigns on high,
   "Or minds th' affairs of men."

2. From thoughts so dreadful and profane,
   Corrupt discourse proceeds;
And in their impious hands are found
Abominable Deeds.
3. The Lord from his celestial throne
   Look'd down on things below,
To find the man that sought his grace,
   Or did his justice know.
3. By nature all are gone astray;
   Their practice all the same,
There's none that fears his maker's hand;
   There's none that love's his name.
5. Their tongues are us'd to speak deceit;
   Their flanders never cease;
How swift to mischief are their feet;
   Nor knows the paths of peace?
6. Such seeds of sin (that bitter root)
   In ev'ry heart are found;
Nor can they bear diviner fruit,
   'Till grace refine the ground.

P S A L M X I V.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

The Folly of Persecutors.

1. Are sinners now so senseless grown,
   That they the saints devour?
And never worship at thy throne,
   Nor fear thine awful pow'r?
2. Great God, appear to their surpise;
   Reveal thy dreadful name;
Let them no more thy wrath despise.
   Nor turn our hope to shame.
3. Dost thou not dwell among the just?
   And yet our foes deride:
That we should make thy name our trust;
Great God, confound their pride.

4. O that the joyful day was come,
To finish our distress!
When God shall bring his children home,
Our songs shall never cease.

PSALM XV. Common Metre.

Character of a Saint; or, a Citizen of Zion;
or, the Qualifications of a Christian.

1. WHO shall inhabit in thy hill,
   Q God of holiness?
Whom will the Lord admit to dwell,
   So near his throne of grace?

2. The man that walks in pious ways,
   And works with righteous hands:
That trusts his maker's promises,
   And follows his commands.

3. He speaks the meaning of his heart;
   Nor swears with his tongue;
Will scarce believe an ill report,
   Nor do his neighbour wrong.

4. The wealthy sinner he contemns,
   Loves all that fear the Lord;
And tho' to his own hurt he swears,
   Still he performs his word.

5. His hands disdain a golden bribe,
   And never gripe the poor.
This man shall dwell with God on earth,
   And find his heav'n secure.
PSALM XV. Long Metre.

Religion and Justice, Goodness and Truth, or, Duties to God and Man; or, the Qualifications of a Christian.

WHO shall ascend thy heav'ny place,
Great God, and dwell before thy face?
The man that minds religion now,
And humbly walks with God below.

2. Whose hands are pure whose heart is clean;
Whose lips still speak the things they mean;
No filanders dwell upon his tongue;
He hates to do his neighbour wrong.

3. [Scarce will he trust an ill report,
Nor vent it to his neighbours hurt;
Sinners of hate he can despise,
But saints are honor'd in his eyes.]

4. [Firm to his word he ever stood,
And always makes his promise good;
Nor dares to change the thing he swears,
Whatever pain or loss he bears.]

5. [He never deals in bribing gold;
And mourns that justice should be sold;
While others gripe and grind the poor,
Sweet charity attends his door.]

6. He loves his enemies, and prays
For those that curse him to his face;
And doth to all men still the same
That he would hope or wish from them.

7. Yet, when his holiest works are done,
His soul depends on grace alone;
This is the man thy face shall see,
And dwell forever, Lord, with thee.

PSALM XVI. First Part. Long Metre.

Confession of our Poverty, and Saints the best
Company; or, Good Works profit Men, not God.

1. Preserve me, Lord, in time of need;
For succour to thy throne I flee;
But have no merits their to plead;
My goodness cannot reach to thee.

2. Oft have my heart and tongue confess
How empty and how poor I am;
My praise can never make thee blest,
Nor add new glories to thy name.

3. Yet, Lord thy saints on earth may reap
Some profit by the good we do;
These are the company I keep,
These are the choicest friends I know.

4. Let others choose the sons of mirth,
To give a relish to their wine;
I love the men of heav'ly birth,
Whose thoughts and language are divine.

PSALM XVI. Second Part. Long Metre.

Christ's All sufficiency.

1. How fast their guilt and sorrows rise,
Who haste to seek some idol God?
I will not taste their sacrifice,
Their offerings of forbidden blood.

2. My
2. My God provides a richer cup, And nobler food to live upon; He for my life has offer'd up, Jesus his best beloved Son.

3. His love is my perpetual feast; By day his counsels guide me right; And be his name forever blest Who gives me sweet advice by night.

4. I set him still before mine eyes; At my right hand he stands prepar'd To keep my soul from all surprise, And be my everlasting guard.

PSALM XVI. Third Part. Long Metre.

Courage in Death, and Hope of the Resurrection.

W HEN God is nigh, my faith is strong, His arm is my almighty prop; Be glad, my heart, rejoice my tongue, My dying flesh shall rest in hope.

2. Tho' in the dust I lay my head, Yet, gracious God, thou wilt not leave My soul forever with the dead, Nor lose thy children in the grave.

3. My flesh shall thy first call obey, Shake of the dust, and rise on high; Then shalt thou lead the wondrous way, Up to thy throne above the sky.

4. There streams of endless pleasure flow; And full discoveries of thy grace. (Which
PSALM XVI.

(Which we but tasted here below)
Spread heav'ny joys thro' all the place.

PSALM XVI. 1,——8.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

Support and Counsel from God, without Merit.

SAVE me, O Lord, from ev'ry foe;

In thee my trust I place;

Tho' all the good that I can do

Can ne'er deserve thy grace.

2. Yet if my God prolong my breath;
The saints may profit by't;
The saints, the glory of the earth,
The men of my delight.

3. Let heathens to their idols haste;
And worship wood or stone;
But my delightful lot is cast
Where the true God is known.

4. His hand provides my constant food;
He fills my daily cup:
Much am I pleas'd with present good,
But more rejoice in hope.

5. God is my portion and my joy;
His counsels are my light:
He gives me sweet advice by day,
And gentle hints by night.

6. My soul would all her thoughts approve
To his all-seeing eye;
Nor death nor hell my hope shall move,
When such a friend is nigh.
PSALM XVI.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

The Death and Resurrection of Christ.

I

SET the Lord before my face.

He bears my courage up:

My heart and tongue their joy express,

My flesh shall rest in hope.

My spirit, Lord, thou wilt not leave

Where souls departed are;

Nor quit my body to the grave;

To see corruption there.

Thou wilt reveal the path of life,

And raise me to thy throne;

Thy courts immortal pleasure give;

Thy presence joys unknown.

(Thus in the name of Christ the Lord,
The holy David sung;

And providence fulfills the word
Of his prophetic tongue.

Jesus, whom ev'ry saint adores,

Was crucify'd and slain;

Behold, the tomb, it's prey restores!

Behold he lives again!

When shall my feet arise and stand

On heav'n's eternal hills?

There sits the Son at God's right hand,

And there—the Father smiles.)
PSALM XVII.

PSALM XVII. 13, &c. Short Metre:
Portion of Saints and Sinners; or, Hope and Despair in Death.

1. A RISE, my gracious God,
   And make the wicked flee:
They are but thy chaffing rod,
   To drive thy saints to thee.

2. Behold the sinner dies;
   His haughty words are vain;
Here in this life his pleasure lies,
   And all beyond is pain.

3. Then let his pride advance,
   And boast of all his store;
The Lord is my inheritance,
   My soul can wish no more.

4. I shall behold the face
   Of my forgiving God;
And stand complete in righteousness:
   Wash'd in my Saviour's blood.

5. There's a new heav'n begun
   When I awake from death,
Drest in the likeness of thy Son,
   And draw immortal breath.

PSALM XVII Long Metre:
The Sinner's Portion, and Saint's Hope; or,

LORD, I am thine: But thy will prove
My faith, my patience, and my love;
When men of spite against me join,
They are the sword, the hand is thine.

D 2. Their
2. Their hope and portion lie below; 'Tis all the happiness they know, 'Tis all they seek; they take their shares; And leave the rest among their heirs.

3. What sinners value, I resign; Lord, 'tis enough that thou art mine: I shall behold thy blissful face, And stand complete in righteousness.

4. This life's a dream, an empty show; But the bright world to which I go Hath joys substantial and sincere; When shall I wake and find me there?

5. O glorious hour! O blest abode! I shall be near, and like my God! And flesh and sin no more controul The sacred pleasures of the soul.

6. My flesh shall slumber in the ground, 'Till the last trumpet's joyful sound; Then burst the chains with sweet surprise, And in my Saviour's image rise.

PSALM XVIII. FIRST PART.

Long Metre. Ver. 1,—6, 15,—18.

Deliverance from Despair; or, Temptations over come.

Thee will I love, O Lord, my strength, My rock, my tow'r, my high defence; Thy mighty arm shall be my trust, For I have found salvation thence.

2. Death, and the terrors of the grave, Stood round me with their dismal shade;
While floods of high temptations rose,
And made my sinking soul afraid.
3. I saw the op'ning gates of hell,
   With endless pains and sorrows there;
   Which none but they that feel can tell,
   While I was hurry'd to despair.
4. In my distress I call'd my God,
   When I could scarce believe him mine:
   He bow'd his ear to my complaint;
   Then did his grace appear divine.
5. [With speed he flew to my relief,
   As on a cherub's wing he rode;
   Awful and bright as lightning shone
   The face of my deliverer, God.
6. Temptations fled at his rebuke,
   The blast of his almighty breath;
   He sent salvation from on high,
   And drew me from the deeps of death.]
7. Great were my fears, my foes were great,
   Much was their strength, and more their rage,
   But Christ my Lord is conqueror still,
   In all the wars that devils wage.
8. My song forever shall record
   That terrible, that joyful hour;
   And give the glory to the Lord,
   Due to his glory and his pow'r.

P S A L M X V I I I .
SECOND PART. Ver 20,— 26. Long Metre.
Sincerity proved and rewarded.

1. LORD, thou hast seen my soul sincere,
   Hast made thy truth and love appear;
   Before
Before mine eyes I set thy laws,
And thou hast own'd my righteous cause.

2. Since I have learn'd thy holy ways,
I walk'd upright before thy face;
Or if my feet did e'er depart,
'Twas never with a wicked heart.

3. What fore temptations broke my rest?
What wars and struggles in my breast!
But thro' thy grace that reigns within,
I guard against my darling sin.

4. That sin which close besets me still,
That works and strives against my will;
When shall thy Spirit's sovereign pow'r
Destroy it, that it rise no more?

5. [With an impartial hand the Lord
Deals out to mortals their reward:
The kind and faithful souls shall find
A God as faithful and as kind.

6. The just and pure shall ever say,
Thou art more pure, more just than they,
And men that love revenge shall know,
God hath an arm of vengeance too.]

Psalm XVIII. Third Part.

Ver. 30,—35, 46, &c. Long Metre.
Rejoicing in God; or, Salvation and Triumph.

1. J ust are thy ways, and true thy word,
Great rock of my secure abode:
Who is a God beside the Lord?
Or where's a refuge like our God?

2. 'Tis
2. 'Tis he that girds me with his might;
Gives me his holy sword to wield;
And while with sin and hell I fight,
Spreads his salvation for my shield.

3. He lives (and blessed be my rock!)
The God of my salvation lives:
The dark designs of hell are broke;
Sweet is the peace my Father gives.

4. Before the scoffers of the age:
I will exalt my Father's name:
Nor tremble at their mighty rage;
But meet reproach, and bear the shame.

5. To David and his royal seed,
Thy grace forever shall extend:
Thy love to saints in Christ their head,
Knows not a limit, nor an end.

PSALM XVIII.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

Victory and Triumph over Temporal Enemies.

1. We love thee, Lord, and we adore;
Now is thine arm reveal'd:
Thou art our strength our heav'nly tower,
Our bulwark and our shield.

2. We fly to our eternal rock
And find a sure defence;
His holy name our lips invoke,
And draw salvation thence.

3. When God our leader shines in arms,
What mortal heart can bear
The thunder of his loud alarms?
The lightning of his spear?
4. He rides upon the winged wind,
And Angels in array
In millions wait to know his mind,
And swift as flames obey.
5. He speaks, and at his fierce rebuke
Whole armies are dismay'd;
His voice, his frown, his angry look,
 Strikes all their courage dead.
6. He forms our Generals for the field,
With all their awful skill;
Gives them his dreadful sword to wield,
And makes their hearts of steel.
7. [He arms our Captains to the fight,
(Thou there his name's forgot;]
He girded Cyrus with his might,
But Cyrus knew him not.)
8. Oft has the Lord whole nations blest,
For his own church's sake:
The pow'rs that give his people rest,
Shall of his care partake.]

PSALM XVIII. Second Part. Common Metre.

The Conqueror's Song.

1. To thine almighty arm we owe
The triumphs of the day:
Thy terrors, Lord, confound the foe,
And melt their strength away.
2. 'Tis by thine aid our troops prevail,
And break united pow'rs.
Or burn their boasted fleets, or scale
The proudest of their tow'rs.

3. How have we chas'd them thro' the field,
And trod them to the ground,
While thy salvation was our shield,
But they no shelter found!

4. In vain to idol-saints they cry,
And perish in their blood;
Where is a rock so great, so high,
So power'ful as our God!

5. The rock of Israel ever lives,
His name be ever blest;
'Tis his own arm the victory gives,
And gives his people rest.

6. On kings that reign as David did,
He pours his blessings down;
Secures their honors to their seed,
And well supports their crown.

PSALM XIX. First Part, Short Metre.

The Book of Nature and Scripture.

For a Lord's Day Morning.

1. BEHOLD, the lofty sky,
Declare's it's maker God,
And all his starry works on high,
Proclaim his pow'r abroad.

2. The darkness and the light,
Still keep their course the same,
While night to day, and day to night,
Divinely teach his name.
3. In ev'ry different land.
   Their general voice is known;
   They shew the wonders of his hand,
   And orders of his throne.
4. Ye British lands rejoice;
   Here he reveals his word;
   We are not left to nature's voice,
   To bid us know the Lord.
5. His Statutes and Commands
   Are set before our eyes.
   He puts his gospel in our hands,
   Where our salvation lies.
6. His laws are just and pure.
   His truth without deceit,
   His promises forever sure,
   And his rewards are great.
7. [Not honey to the taste
   Affords so much delight,
   Nor gold that has the surface pass'd,
   So much allure the sight.]
8. While of thy works I sing,
   Thy glory to proclaim,
   Accept the praise, my God, my King,
   In my Redeemer's name.

PSALM XIX. Second Part. Short Metre.
God's Word most excellent; or, Sincerity and Watchfulness.

For a Lord's-Day Morning.

BEHOLD the morning sun
Begins his glorious way:

His
His beams thro' all the nations run;
And life and light convey.
2. But where the gospel comes
It spreads diviner light,
It calls dead sinners from their tombs,
And gives the blind their sight.
3. How perfect is thy word!
And all thy judgements just!
Forever sure thy promise Lord,
And men securely trust,
4. My gracious God, how plain
Are thy directions giv'n!
O may I never read in vain,
But find the path to heav'n.

5. I hear thy word with love,
And I would fain obey;
Send thy good spirit from above
To guide me left I stray.
6. O who can ever find
The errors of his ways?
Yet, with a bold presumptuous mind,
I would not dare transgress.
7. Warn me of ev'ry sin;
Forgive my secret faults;
And cleanse this guilty soul of mine,
Whose crimes exceed my thoughts.
8. While with my heart and tongue
I spread thy praise abroad;
Accept the worship and the song,
My Saviour and my God.
PSALM XIX. Long Metre.
The Books of Nature and of Scripture compared; or, The Glory and Success of the Gospel.

1. THE heav'ns declare thy glory, Lord, In ev'ry star thy wisdom shines; But when our eyes behold thy word, We read thy name in fairer lines.

2. The rolling sun, the changing light, And nights and days thy pow'r confess, But the blest volume thou hast writ, Reveals thy justice and thy grace.

3. Sun, moon, and stars convey thy praise Round the whole earth, and never stand; So when thy truth began its race, It touch'd and glanc'd on ev'ry land.

4. Nor shall thy spreading gospel rest, 'Till thro' the world thy truth has run; 'Till Christ has all the nations blest That see the light or feel the sun.

5. Great Sun of Righteousness arise, Bless the dark world with heav'nly light; Thy gospel makes the simple wise, Thy laws are pure, thy judgements right.

6. Thy noblest wonders here we view, In souls renew'd and sins forgiv'n; Lord, cleanse my sins, my soul renew, And make thy word my guide to heav'n.

PSALM XIX. To the 113th Psalm Tune.
The Book of Nature and Scripture.

Great God, the heav'ns well order'd frame Declares the glories of thy name; There
There thy rich works of wonder shine;
A thousand starry beauties there,
A thousand radiant marks appear,
Of boundless pow'r and skill divine.

2. From night to day, from day to night,
The dawning and the dying light,
Lectures of heav'nly wisdom read;
With silent eloquence they raise
Our thoughts to our Creator's praise,
And neither found nor language need.

3. Yet their divine instructions run
Far as the journies of the sun,
And ev'ry nation knows their voice;
The sun, like some young bridegroom drest,
Breaks from the chambers of the east,
Rolls round, and makes the earth rejoice.

4. Where'er he spreads his beams abroad,
He smiles, and speaks his maker God;
All nature joins to shew thy praise.
Thus God in ev'ry creature shines;
Fair is the book of nature's lines,
But fairer is thy book of grace.

PAUSE.

5. I love the volumes of thy word;
What light and joy these leaves afford,
To souls benighted and distrest!
Thy precepts guide my doubtful way,
Thy fear forbids my feet to stray,
Thy promise leads my heart to rest.

6. From the discov'ries of thy law,
The perfect rules of life I draw;
These
These are my study and delight;
Not honey so invites the taste,
Nor gold that hath the furnace past,
Appears so pleasing to the sight.

7. Thy threatenings wake my numbering eyes,
And warn me where my danger lies;
But 'tis thy blessed gospel Lord,
That makes my guilty conscience clean;
Converts my soul, subdues my sin,
And gives a free but large reward.

8. Who knows the errors of his thoughts?
My God, forgive my secret faults,
And from presumptuous sins restrain:
Accept my poor attempts of praise,
That I have read thy book of grace,
And book of nature not in vain.

PSALM XX. Long Metre.
Prayer and Hope of Victory.

For a Day of Prayer in Time of War.

NOW may the God of pow'r and grace
Attend his people's humble cry!
Jehovah hears when Israel prays,
And brings deliverance from on high.

2. The name of Jacob's God, defends
Better than shields of brazen walls,
He from his sanctuary sends
Succour and strength when Zion calls.

3. Well he remembers all our sighs;
His love exceeds our best deserts;
His love accepts the sacrifice
Of humble groans, and broken hearts.

4. In
4. In his salvation is our hope,
And in the name of Isr’el’s God
Our troops shall lift their banners up;
Our navies spread their flags abroad.

5. Some trust in horses train’d for war,
And some of chariots make their boasts;
Our surest expectations are
From thee, the Lord of heav’nly hosts.

6. [O may the mem’ry of thy name,
Inspire our armies for the fight!
Our foes shall fall and die with shame;
Or quit the field with shameful flight.]

7. Now save us Lord from flavih fear,
Now let our hope be firm and strong.
’Till thy salvation shall appear,
And joy and triumph raise the song.

PSALM XXI. Common Metre.

Our King is the care of Heaven.

THE King, O Lord, with songs of praise
Shall in thy strength rejoice;
And, blest with thy salvation, raise To heav’n his cheerful voice.

2. Thy sure defence thro’ nations round
Has spread his glorious name;
And his successful actions crown’d
With majesty and fame.

3. Then let the king on God alone
For timely aid rely;
His mercy shall support the throne,
And all our wants supply.

E 4. But
4. But, righteous Lord, his stubborn foes
   Shall feel thy dreadful hand;
   Thy vengeful arm shall find out those
   That hate his mild commands.
5. When thou against them dost engage
   Thy just, but dreadful doom,
   Shall, like a fiery oven's rage,
   Their hopes and them consume.
6. Thus, Lord, thy wondrous pow'r declare;
   And thus exalt thy fame;
   Whilst we glad songs of praise prepare
   For thy almighty name.

PSALM XXI. 1,—9. Long Metre;

CHRIST exalted to the Kingdom.

1. DAVID rejoic'd in God his strength,
   Rais'd to the throne by special grace;
   But Christ the Son appears at length,
   Fulfils the triumph and the praise.
2. How great is the Messiah's joy,
   In the salvation of thy hand!
   Lord thou hast rais'd his kingdom high,
   And giv'n the world to his command.
3. Thy goodness grants whate'er he will;
   Nor doth the least request withhold;
   Blessings of love prevent him still,
   And crowns of glory, not of gold.
4. Honor and majesty divine,
   Around his sacred temples shine;
   Blest with the favor of thy face,
   And length of everlasting days.
5. Thine hand shall find out all his foes;
And as a fiery oven glows
With raging heat and living coals,
So shall thy wrath devour their souls.

PSALM XXII. 1,—16.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

The Sufferings and Death of Christ.

1. WHY has my God my soul forsook,
" Nor will a smile afford?"

(Thus David once in anguish spoke,
And thus our dying Lord.)

2. Tho' 'tis thy chief delight to dwell
Among thy praising saints,
Yet thou canst hear a groan as well,
And pity our complaints.

3. Our fathers trusted in thy name,
And great deliverance found;
But I'm a worm, despis'd of men,
And trodden to the ground.

4. Shaking their heads, they pass me by,
And laugh my soul to scorn;
" In vain he trusts in God they cry,
" Neglected and forlorn."

5. But thou art he who form'd my flesh,
By thine almighty word;
And since I hung upon the breast,
My hope is in the Lord.

6. Why will my father hide his face
When foes stand threat'ning round,
In the dark hour of deep distress?
And not an helper found.

PAUSE
7. Behold thy darling left among
   The cruel and the proud,
As bulls of Bashan fierce and strong,
   As lions roaring loud.
8. From earth and hell my sorrows meet
   To multiply the smart;
They nail my hands they peirce my feet,
   And try to vex my heart.
9. Yet if thy sov'reign hand let loose
   The rage of earth and hell,
Why will my heav'ly father bruise
   The son he loves so well?
10. My God if possible it be,
   Withhold this bitter cup,
But I resign my will to thee,
   And drink the sorrows up.
11. My heart dissolves with pangs unknown;
   In groans I waste my breath;
Thy heavy hand has brought me down
   Low as the dust of death.
12. Father, I give my spirit up,
   And trust it in thy hand;
My dying flesh shall rest in hope,
   And rise at thy command.

PSALM XXII. 20, 21, 27,—31.
SECOND PART. Common Metre.
CHRIST'S SUFFERINGS and KINGDOM.

1. "NOW from the roaring lion's rage
   "O Lord, protect thy son; Not “Nor leave thy darling to engage
   "The pow’rs of hell alone."

2. Thus did our suff’ring Saviour pray,
   With mighty cries and tears;
   God heard him in that dreadful day,
   And chas’d away his fears.

3. Great was the vict’ry of his death;

P S A L M X X I I. Long Metre.

CHRIST’S SUFFERINGS AND EXALTATION:

1. NOW let our mournful songs record
   The dying sorrows of our Lord,
   When he complain’d in tears of blood,
   As one forsaken of his God.

2. The Jews beheld him thus forlorn,
   And shook their heads and laugh’d in scorn.
   — He
He rescu'd others from the grave;
Now let him try himself to save.
3. "This is the man did once pretend
God was his father and his friend;
If God the blessed lov'd him so,
Why doth he fail to help him now?"
4. Barbarous people! cruel priests!
How they stood round like savage beasts;
Like lions gaping to devour,
When God had left him in their pow'r.
5. They wound his head, his hands, his feet,
'Till streams of blood each other meet;
By lot his garments they divide,
And mock the pangs in which he dy'd.
6. But God his father heard his cry;
Rais'd from the dead he reigns on high;
The nations learn his righteousness,
And humble sinners taste his grace.

Psalm XXIII. Long Metre.

God our Shepherd.

1. My shepherd is the living Lord;
Now shall my wants be well supply'd;
His providence and holy word,
Become my safety and my guide.
2. In pastures where salvation grows,
He makes me feed he makes me rest;
There living water gently flows,
And all the food divinely blest.
3. My wand'ring feet his ways mistake,
But he restores my soul to peace,
And leads me for his mercy's sake,
In the fair paths of righteousness.

4. Tho' I walk thro' the gloomy vale,
   Where death and all its terrors are,
   My heart and hope shall never fail,
   For God my Shepherd's with me there.

5. Amidst the darkness and the deeps,
   Thou art my comfort, thou my stay;
   Thy staff supports my feeble steps,
   Thy rod directs my doubtful way.

6. The sons of earth and sons of hell,
   Gaze at thy goodness, and repine
   To see my table spread so well,
   With living bread, and cheerful wine.

[7. How I rejoice when on my head
   Thy spirit condescends to rest!
' Tis a divine anointing, shed
   Like oil of gladness at a feast.

8. Surely the mercies of the Lord,
   Attend his household all their days;
   There will I dwell to hear his word,
   To seek his face and sing his praise.

P S A L M X X I I I .  Common Metre.

1. M Y Shepard will supply my need,
   Jehovah is his name;
In pastures fresh he makes me feed,
   Beside the living stream.

2. He brings my wand'ring spirit back
   When I forfake his ways,
   And leads me, for his mercy's sake,
In paths of truth and grace.

3. When I walk through the shades of death,
Thy presence is my stay;
A word of thy supporting breath
Drives all my fears away.

4. Thy hand, in sight of all my foes,
Doth still my table spread;
My cup with blessings overflows,
Thine oil anoints my head.

5. The sure provisions of my God
Attend me all my days:
O may thy house be mine abode,
And all my work be praise.

6. There would I find a settled rest,
(While others go and come)
No more a stranger or a guest.
But like a child, at home.

PSALM XXIII. Short Metre.

1. THE Lord my shepard is,
I shall be well supply'd;
Since he is mine, and I am his,
What can I want beside?

2. He leads me to the place
Where heav'ly pasture grows,
Where living waters gently pafs,
And full salvation flows.

3. If e'er I go astray,
He doth my soul reclaim,
And guides me in his own right way
For his most holy name.

4. While he affords his aid
I cannot yield to fear;
Tho' I should walk thro' death's dark shade,
My Shepherd's with me there.

5. In sight of all my foes
Thou dost my table spread;
My cup with blessings overflows,
And joy exalts my head.

6. The bounties of thy love
Shall crown my following days;
Nor from thy house will I remove,
Nor cease to speak thy praise.

P S A L M XXIV. Common Metre.

Dwelling with G O D.

1. THE earth for ever is the Lord's
   With Adam's num'rous race;
He rais'd its arches o'er the floods,
And built it on the seas.

2. But who among the sons of men
   May visit thine abode?
He that has hands from mischief clear,
Whose heart is right with God.

3. This is the man may rise and take
   The blessings of his grace:
This is the lot of those that seek
The God of Jacob's face.

4. Now let our soul's immortal pow'rs
   To meet the Lord prepare,
Lift up their everlasting doors,
The King of Glory's near.

5. The King of glory, who can tell
   The wonders of his might?
He rules the nations; but to dwell
With saints is his delight.

PSALM XXIV. Long Metre.
Saints dwell in heaven; or Christ's ascension.

This spacious earth is all the Lord's,
And men and worms, and beasts and
He rais'd the building on the seas,  (birds;
And gave it for their dwelling place.
2. But there's a brighter world on high,
Thy palace, Lord, above the sky!
Who shall ascend that blest abode?
And dwell so near his Maker God?

3. He that abhors and fears to sin,
Whose heart is pure, whose hands are clean,
Him shall the Lord the Saviour bless,
And clothe his soul with righteousness.

4. These are the men, the pious race,
That seek the God of Jacob's face;
These shall enjoy the blissful light,
And dwell in everlasting light.

PAUSE:

5. Rejoice, ye shining worlds on high,
Behold the King of Glory's nigh:
Who can this King of Glory be?
The mighty Lord, the Saviour's he.

6. Ye heav'nly gates, your leaves display,
To make the Lord the Saviour way:
Laden with spoils from earth and hell,
The Conqu'ror comes with God to dwell.

7. Rais'd from the dead he goes before;
He opens heav'n's eternal door,
To give his saints a blest abode,
Near their Redeemer and their God.

FIRST PART. Short Metre.

Waiting for Pardon and Direction.

1. Lift my soul to God,
   My trust is in his name:
Let not my foes that seek my blood,
   Still triumph in my shame.

2. Sin and the powers of hell
   Persuade me to despair;
LORD make me know thy cov'nant well
   That I may 'scape the snare.

3. From the first dawning light,
   'Till the dark ev'ning rise,
For thy salvation, LORD, I wait
   With ever-longing eyes.

4. Remember all thy grace,
   And lead me in thy truth;
Forgive the sins of riper days,
   And follies of my youth.

5. The Lord is just and kind;
   The meek shall learn his ways;
And ev'ry humble sinner find
   The methods of his grace.

6. For his own goodness sake,
   He saves my soul from shame:
He pardons (though my guilt be great)
   Through my Redeemer's name.
PSALM XXV. 12, 14, 10, 13.

SECOND PART. Short Metre.

Divine Instruction.

1. WHERE shall the man be found
   That fears to offend his God;
That loves the gospel's joyful sound,
   And trembles at the rod?
2. The LORD shall make him know
   The secrets of his heart,
The wonders of his cov'nant show,
   And all his love impart.
3. The dealings of his hand
   Are truth and mercy still,
With such as to his cov'nant stand,
   And love to do his will.
4. Their soul shall dwell at ease
   Before their maker's face,
Their seed shall taste the promises
   In their extensive grace.

PSALM XXV. 15—22.

THIRD PART. Short Metre.

Distress of Soul or Backsliding and Desertion.

1. MINE eyes and my desire
   Are ever to the LORD;
I love to plead his promises,
   And rest upon his word.
2. Turn, turn thee to my soul;
   Bring thy salvation near;
When will thy hand release my feet
   Out of the deadly snare?
3. When shall the sov'reign grace
Of my forgiving God
Restore me from those dang'rous ways
My wand'ring feet have trod!

4. The tumult of my thoughts
Death but enlarge my woe:
My spirit languishes, my heart
Is desolate and low.

5. With ev'ry morning light
My sorrow new begins;
Look on my anguish and my pain,
And pardon all my sins.

6. Behold the hosts of hell,
How cruel is their hate?
Against my life they rise, and join
Their fury with deceit.

7. O keep my soul from death,
Nor put my hope to shame,
For I have plac'd my only trust
In my Redeemer's name.

8. With humble faith I wait
To see thy face again;
Of Is'r'el it shall ne'er be said,
He fought the Lord in vain.

Psalm XXVII. Long Metre.

Self Examination; or, Evidences of Grace.

Judge me, O Lord, and prove my ways,
And try my reins, and try my heart;
My faith upon thy promise flays,
Nor from thy law my feet depart.
PSALM XXVII.

2. I hate to walk, I hate to sit
With men of vanity and lies;
The scoffer and the hypocrite
Are the abhorrence of mine eyes.

3. Amongst thy saints will I appear
With hands well wash'd in innocence
But when I stand before thy bar,
The blood of Christ is my defence.

4. I love thy habitation, Lord,
The temple where thine honors dwell,
There shall I hear thy holy word,
And there thy works of wonder tell.

5. Let not my soul be join'd at last
With me of treachery and blood,
Since I my days on earth have past
Among the saints, and near my God.

PSALM XXVII. 1.—6.

First Part. Common Metre.

The Church is our Delight and Safety.

1. THE LORD of glory is my light
And my salvation too;
God is my strength; nor will I fear
What all my foes can do.

2. One privilege my heart desires;
O grant me an abode
Among the churches of thy saints,
The temples of my God.

3. There shall I offer my requests,
And see thy beauty still:
Shall hear thy messages of love,
And there enquire thy will.
4. When troubles rise, and storms appear,
   There may his children hide;
God has a strong pavilion where
   He makes my soul abide,
5. Now shall my head be lifted high
   Above my foes around,
And songs of joy and victory
   Within thy temple found.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

Prayer and Hope.

1. SOON as I heard my Father say,
   "Ye children seek my grace;"
My heart reply'd without delay,
   "I'll seek my Father's face."
2. Let not thy face be hid from me,
   Nor frown my soul away;
God of my life, I fly to thee
   In a distressing day.
3. Should friends and kindred near and dear,
   Leave me to want or die,
My God would make my life his care,
   And all my need supply.
4. My fainting flesh had dy'd with grief,
   Had not my soul believ'd
   To see thy grace provide relief;
   Nor was my hope deceiv'd.
5. Wait on the Lord, ye trembling saints,
   And keep your courage up;
He'll raise your spirit when it faints,
   And far exceed your hope.

PSALM
PSALM XXIX. Long Metre.

Storm and Thunder.

Give to the Lord, ye sons of fame,
Give to the Lord renown and pow'r;
 Almighty due honors to his name,
And his eternal might adore.

2. The Lord proclaims his pow'r aloud
Over the ocean and the land;
His voice divides the wat'ry cloud,
And lightnings blaze at his command.

3. He speaks, and tempest, hail and wind,
Lay the wide forest bare around;
The fearful hart and frightened hind
Leap at the terror of the sound.

4. To Lebanon he turns his voice;
And lo, the stately cedars break;
The mountains tremble at the noise;
The valleys roar, the deserts quake.

5. The Lord sits sovereign on the flood;
The thund'rer reigns for ever King:
But makes his church his blest abode,
Where we his awful glories sing.

6. In gentler language there the Lord
The counsel of his grace imparts;
Amidst the raging storm his word
Speaks peace and courage to our hearts.

PSALM XXX. First Part. Long Metre.

Sickness healed, and Sorrows removed.

I will extol thee, Lord, on high;
At thy command diseases fly:
Who
Nor leave thy darling to engage
The pow'rs of hell alone.”

2. Thus did our suffering Saviour pray,
With mighty cries and tears;
God heard him in that dreadful day,
And chas'd away his fears.

3. Great was the victory of his death;
His throne exalted high;
And all the kindreds of the earth

PSALM XXXII.

1. HAPPY the man to whom his God
No more imputes his sin,
But wash'd in the Redeemer's blood
Hath made his garments clean!

2. Happy beyond expression, he
Whole debts are thus discharg'd;
And from the guilty bondage free
He feels his soul enlarged.

3. His spirit hates deceit and lies,
His words are all sincere;
He guards his heart, he guards his eyes,
To keep his conscience clear.

4. While I my inward guilt supprest,
No quiet could I find;
Thy wrath lay burning in my breast,
And rack'd my tortur'd mind.

5. Then I confess'd my troubled tho'ts,
My secret sins reveal'd;
Thy pard'ning grace forgave my faults,
Thy grace my pardon seal'd.

6. This shall invite thy saints to pray;
When like a raging flood
Temptations rise, our strength and stay
Is a forgiving God.

BLEST is the man, for ever blest,
Whose guilt is pardon'd by his God,
Whole sins with sorrow are confess,
And cover'd with his Saviour's blood.

2. Blest is the man to whom the Lord
Imputes not his iniquities,
He pleads no merits of reward,
And not on works but grace relies.

3. From guilt his heart and lips are free;
His humble joy, his holy fear,
With deep repentance well agree,
And join to prove his faith sincere.

4. How glorious is that righteousness
That hides and cancels all his sins!
While a bright evidence of grace,
Through his whole life appears and shines.

PSALM XXXII. Second Part. Long Metre

A guilty Conscience eased by Confession and Pardon.

1. While I keep silence and conceal
My heavy guilt within my heart,
What torments doth my conscience feel!
What agonies of inward smart!

2. I spread my sins before the Lord,
And all my secret faults confess;
Thy gospel speaks a pard'ning word,
Thine holy Spirit seals the grace.

3. For this shall ev'ry humble soul
Make swift addresses to thy seat:
When floods of hugh temptations roll,
There shall they find a safe retreat.

4. How safe beneath thy wings I lie,
When days grow dark and storms appear?
And when I walk, thy watchful eye
Shall guide me safe from ev'ry snare.

PSALM XXXIII.

First Part. Common Metre:

Works of Creation and Providence.

1. REJOICE, ye righteous in the Lord;
   This work belongs to you:
   Sing of his name, his ways, his word,
   How holy, just and true!

2. His mercy and his righteousness
   Let heaven and earth proclaim;
   His works of nature and of grace
   Reveal his wond'rous name.

3. His wisdom and almighty word
   The heav'nly arches spread;
   And by the spirit of the Lord
   Their shining hosts were made.

4. He bid the liquid waters flow
   To their appointed deep;
   The flowing seas their limits know;
   And their own station keep.

5. Ye tenants of the spacious earth,
   With fear before him stand:
   He spake and nature took its birth,
   And rests on his command.

6. He scorns the angry nations rage,
   And breaks their vain designs;
   His counsel stands through ev'ry age,
   And in full glory shines.

PSALM
BLEST is the nation where the Lord
Hath fix'd his gracious throne;
Where he reveals his heav'nly word,
And calls their tribes his own.

2. His eye with infinite survey
Does the whole world behold;
He form'd us all of equal clay,
And knows our feeble mould.

3. Kings are not rescu'd by the force,
Of armies from the grave;
Nor speed nor courage of an horse
Can the bold rider save.

4. Vain is the strength of beasts or men,
To hope for safety thence;
But holy souls from God obtain
A strong and sure defence.

5. God is their fear, and God their trust;
When plagues or famine spread,
His watchful eye secures the just,
Among ten thousand dead.

6. Lord, let our hearts in thee rejoice,
And bless us from thy throne;
For we have made thy word our choice,
And trust thy grace alone.

YE holy souls, in God rejoice,
Your Maker's praise becomes your voice.
Great is your theme, your songs be new,
Sing of his name, his word, his ways,
His works of nature and of grace,
How wise and holy, just and true!

2. Justice and truth he ever loves,
   And the whole earth his goodness proves;
   His word the heav’nly arches spread;
How wide they flame from north to south!
And by the spirit of his mouth
   Were all the fiery armies made.

3. He gathers the wide flowing seas,
   Those watry treasures know their place
   In the vast store-house of the deep:
He spake, and gave all nature birth,
   And fires and seas, and heav’n and earth;

3. The eye of thy compassion, Lord,
   Doth more secure defence afford
   When deaths or dangers threat'ning stand,
   Thy watchful eye preserves the just,
   Who make thy name their fear and trust,
   When wars or famine waste the land.

4. In sickness or the bloody field,
   Thou our Physician, thou our shield,
   Send us salvation from thy throne;
   We wait to see thy goodness shine;
   Let us rejoice in a help divine,
   For all our hope is God alone.

Psalm XXXIV.

First Part. Long Metre.

God's Care of the Saints; or, Deliverance by Prayer.

1. LORD, I will bless thee all my days,
   Thy praise shall dwell upon my tongue;
   My soul shall glory in thy grace,
   While saints rejoice to hear the song.

2. Come magnify the Lord with me;
   Come, let us all exalt his name:
   I fought th' eternal God, and he
   Has not expos'd my hope to shame.
3. I told him all my secret grief,
   My secret groaning reach'd his ears;
   He gave my inward pains relief,
   And calm'd the tumult of my fears.

4. To him the poor lift up their eyes,
   Their faces feel the heav'ly shine;
   A beam of mercy from the skies,
   Fills them with light and joy divine.

5. His holy Angels pitch their tents
   Around the men that serve the Lord:
   O fear and love him, all his saints,
   Taste of his grace, and trust his word.

6. The wild young lions pinch'd with pain
   And hunger, roar thro' all the wood:
   But none shall seek the Lord in vain,
   Nor want supplies of real good.

Religious Education; or, Instructions of Piety.

Children in years and knowledge young,
   Your parents hope, your parents joy,
   Attend the counsels of my tongue;
   Let pious tho'ts your minds employ.

2. If you require a length of days,
   And peace to crown your mortal state,
   Restrain your feet from impious ways,
   Your lips from slander and deceit.

3. The eyes of God regard his saints;
   His ears are open to their cries,
   He sets his frowning face against
   The sons of violence and lies.
4. To humble souls and broken hearts,
   God with his grace is ever nigh,
   Pardon and hope his love imparts,
   When men in deep contrition lie.

5. He tells their tears, he counts their groans,
   His Son redeems their souls from death;
   His Spirit heals their broken bones,
   They in his praise employ their breath.

PSALM XXXIV. i,—10.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

Prayer and Praise for eminent Deliverances.

1. I'll bless the Lord from day to day;
   How good are all his ways!
   Ye humble souls that use to pray,

2. Sing to the honor of his name,
   How a poor sinner cry'd,
   Nor was his hope expos'd to shame,
   Nor was his suit deny'd.

3. When threat'ning sorrows round me flood
   And endless fears arose,
   Like the loud billows of a flood,
   Redoubling all my woes.

4. I told the Lord my sore distress,
   With heavy groans and tears;
   He gave my sharpest torments ease,
   And silenced all my fears.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

Exhortations to Peace and Holiness.

COME, children, learn to fear the Lord,
And that your days be long,
Let not a false or spiteful word
Be found upon your tongue.

2. Depart from mischief, practise love,
Pursue the works of peace;
So shall the Lord your ways approve,
And set your souls at ease.

3. His eyes awake to guard the just,
His ears attend their cry;
When broken spirits dwell in dust,
The God of grace is nigh.

4. What thro' the sorrows here they taste
Are PSALM XXXV.

Are sharp and tedious too,
The Lord who saves them all at last,
Is their supporter now.

5. Evil shall finite the wicked dead;
But God secures his own,
Prevents the mischief when they slide,
Or heals the broken bone.

6. When desolation like a flood
O'er the proud sinner rolls,
Saints find a refuge in their God,
For he redeemed their souls.

PSALM XXXV. 1,—9.

First Part. Common Metre.

Prayer and Faith of persecuted Saints, or, Imprecations mixed with charity.

NOW plead my cause Almighty God,
With all the sons of strife;
And fight against the men of blood,
Who fight against my life.

2. Draw out thy spear, and stop their way,
Lift thy avenging rod;
But to my soul in mercy say,
"I am thy Saviour-God."

3. They plant their snares to catch my feet,
And nets of mischief spread:
Plunge the destroyers in the pit
That their own hands have made.

4. Let fogs and darkness hide their way,
And slippery be their ground;
Thy wrath shall make their lives a prey,
And all their rage confound.

5. The
They fly like chaff before the wind,
   Before thine angry breath;
The Angel of the Lord behind,
   Pursues them down to death.

They love the road that leads to hell;
   Then let the rebels die,
Whose malice is implacable,
   Against the Lord on high.

But if thou hast a chosen few
   Amongst the impious race,
Divide them from the bloody crew,
   By thy surpassing grace.

Then will I raise my tuneful voice,
   To make thy wonders known;
In their salvation I'll rejoice,
   And bless thee for my own.

SECOND PART. Common Mere.

Love to Enemies; or, the Love of Christ to Sinners typified in David

Behold the love, the generous love
   That holy David shows:
Hark how his sounding bowels move
   To his afflicted foes!

When they are sick his soul complains,
   And seems to feel the smart;
The spirit of the gospel reigns,
   And melts his pious heart.

How did his flowing tears condole,
   As for a brother dead;
   And
And fasting mortify'd his soul,
While for their life he pray'd.
4. They groan'd and curs'd him on their bed,
Yet still he pleads and mourns;
And double blessings on his head
The righteous God returns.
5. O glorious type of heav'nly grace!
Thus Christ the Lord appears;
While sinners curse, the Saviour prays,
And pities them with tears.
6. He the true David, Sterel's king,
Blest and belov'd of God,
To save us rebels dead in sin,
Paid his own dearest blood.

PSALM XXXVI. 5.—9. Long Metre.
The Perfections and Providence of God; or,
General Providence and Special Grace.

1. HIGH in the heav'n's, eternal God,
Thy goodness in full glory shines;
Thy truth shall break thro' ev'ry cloud
That veils and darkens thy designs.
2. Forever firm thy justice stands,
As mountains their foundations keep;
Wise are the wonders of thy hands;
Thy judgments are a mighty deep.
3. Thy providence is kind and large,
Both man and beast thy bounty share;
The whole creation is thy charge,
But saints are thy peculiar care.
4. My God! how excellent thy grace;
Whence
Whence all our hope and comfort springs;
The sons of Adam in distress
Fly to the shadow of thy wings.
5. From the provisions of thy house
We shall be fed with sweet repast;
There mercy like a river flows,
And brings salvation to our taste.
6. Life, like a fountain rich and free,
Springs from the presence of my Lord;
And in thy light our souls shall see
The glories promis'd in thy word.

Practical Atheism exposed; or, the Being and Attributes of God asserted.

WHILE men grow bold in wicked ways,
And yet a God they own,
My heart within me often says,
"Their thoughts believe there's none."
2. Their thoughts and ways at once declare
(Whate'er their lips profess)
God hath no wrath for them to fear,
Nor will they seek his grace.
1. What strange self-flattery blinds their eyes!
But there's a hast'ning hour,
When they shall see with sore surprise
The terrors of thy pow'r.
3. Thy justice shall maintain its throne,
Tho' mountains melt away;
Thy judgments are a world unknown,
A deep unfathom'd sea.
5. Above
5. Above these heav’n-created rounds,
   Thy mercies, Lord, extend;
   Thy truth out lives the narrow bounds
   Where time and nature end.
6. Safety to man thy goodness brings,
   Nor overlooks the beast;
   Beneath the shadow of thy wings
   Thy children choose to rest.
7. [From thee when creature-streams run low,
   And mortal comforts die,
   Perpetual springs of life shall flow,
   And raise our pleasures high.
8. Tho’ all created light decay,
   And death close up our eyes,
   Thy presence makes eternal day.
   Where clouds can never rise.]

PSALM XXXVI. 1—7. Short Metre.
The Wickedness of Man, and the Majesty of God;
or, Practical Atheism exposed.

1. WHEN man grows bold in sin,
   My heart within me cries,
   “He hath no faith of God within,
   “Nor fear before his eyes.”
2. [He walks a while conceal’d
   In a self-flattering dream,
   ‘Till his dark crimes at once reveal’d,
   Expose his hateful name.]
3. His heart is false and foul,
   His words are smooth and fair;
   Wisdom is banish’d from his soul,
   And leaves no goodness there.
4. He plots upon his bed
   New mischiefs to fulfil;
He sets his heart and hand and head
   To practise all that's ill.
5. But there's a dreadful God,
   Tho' men renounce his fear;
His justice hid behind the cloud,
   Shall one great day appear.
6. His truth transcends the sky;
   In heav'n his mercies dwell;
Deep as the sea his judgments lie,
   His anger burns to hell.
7. How excellent his love!
   Whence all our safety springs:
O never let my soul remove
   From underneath his wings.

Psalm XXXVII. 1.-15.

First Part. Common Metre.

The Cure of Envy, Fretfulness and Unbelief; or,
   the Rewards of the Righteous and the Wicked;
or, the World's Hatred and the Saint's Patience.

1. Why should I vex my soul, and fret
   To see the wicked rise?
Or envy sinners waxing great
   By violence and lies?
2. As flow'ry gra's cut down at noon,
   Before the evening fadi,
So shall their glories vanish soon
   In everlasting shades.

3. Then
3. Then let me make the Lord my trust,
   And practise all that's good;
So shall I dwell among the just,
   And he'll provide me food.
4. I to my God my ways commit,
   And cheerful wait his will;
Thy hand which guides my doubtful feet,
   Shall all my desires fulfil.
5. Mine innocence shalt thou display,
   And make thy judgments known,
Fair as the light of dawning day,
   And glorious as the noon.
6. The meek at last the earth possess,
   And are the heirs of heav'n;
True riches with abundant peace
   To humble souls are giv'n.

   Pause.
7. Rest in the Lord, and keep his way,
   Nor let your anger rise,
Tho' providence should long delay
   To punish haughty vice.
8. Let sinners join to break your peace,
   And plot, and rage and foam;
The Lord derides them, for he sees
   Their day of vengeance come.
9. They have drawn out the threatening sword,
   Have bent the murderous bow,
To slay the men that fear the Lord,
   And bring the righteous low.
10. My God shall break their bows and burn
    Their persecuting darts;
PSALM XXXVII.

Shall their own swords against them turn,
And pain surprize their hearts.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

Charity to the Poor; or, Religion in Words and Deeds.

1. WHY do the wealthy wicked boast,
   And grow profanely bold?
The meanest portion of the just
   Exceeds the sinner's gold.

2. The wicked borrows of his friends,
   But ne'er designs to pay;
The saint is merciful and lends,
   Nor turns the poor away.

3. His alms with liber'al heart he gives
   Amongst the sons of need;
His mem'ry to long ages lives,
   And blessed is his seed.

4. His lips abhor to talk profane,
   To slander or defraud;
His ready tongue declares to men,
   What he has learn'd of God.

5. The law and gospel of the Lord
   Deep in his heart abide;
Led by the spirit and the word,
   His feet shall never slide.

6. When sinners fall the righteous stand,
   Preferred from ev'ry snare;
They shall possess the promised land,
   And dwell forever there.
Third Part. Common Metre.

The Way and End of the Righteous and the Wicked.

1. My God the steps of pious men
   Are order'd by thy will;
   Tho' they should fall they rise again,
   Thy hand supports them still.

2. The Lord delights to see their ways,
   Their virtue he approves;
   He'll ne'er deprive them of his grace,
   Nor leave the men he loves.

3. The heav'nly heritage is their's,
   Their portion and their home;
   He feeds them now and makes them heirs
   Of blessings long to come.

4. Wait on the Lord ye sons of men,
   Nor fear when tyrants frown;
   Ye shall confess their pride was vain,
   When justice casts them down.

Pause.

5. The haughty sinner have I seen,
   Not fearing man nor God,
   Like a tall bay tree, fair and green,
   Spreading his arms abroad.

6. And lo, he vanish'd from the ground,
   Destroy'd by hands unseen;
   Nor root, nor branch, nor leaf was found
   Where all that pride had been.

7. But mark the man of righteousness,
   His serv'ral steps attend;
True pleasure runs thro' all his ways,
And peaceful is his end.

PSALM XXXVIII. Common Metre.

Guilt of Conscience and Relief; or, Repentance and Prayer for Pardon and Health.

1. A MIDST thy wrath remember love;
Restore thy servant, Lord;
Nor let a father's chast'ning prove
Like an avenging sword.

2. Thine arrows stick within my heart;
My flesh is sorely press'd;
Between the sorrow and the smart,
My spirit finds no rest.

3. My sins a heavy load appear;
And o'er my head are gone;
Too heavy they for me to bear,
Too hard for me t' atone.

4. My thoughts are like a troubled sea;
My head still bending down;
And I go mourning all the day
Beneath my father's frown.

5. Lord I am weak and broken sore;
None of my pow'rs are whole;
The inward anguish makes me roar;
The anguish of my soul.

6. All my desire to thee is known;
Thine eye counts ev'ry tear,
And ev'ry sigh and ev'ry groan
Is notic'd by thine ear.

7. Thou art my God my only hope;
My God will hear my cry,
Psalter

My God will bear my spirit up,
   When Satan bids me die.
8. [My foot is ever apt to slide,
   My toes rejoice to see't:
They raise their pleasure and their pride,
   When they supplant my feet.
9. But I'll confess my guilt to thee
   And grieve for all my sin:
I'll mourn how weak my graces be,
   And beg support divine.
10. My God forgive my follies past,
    And be forever nigh;
O Lord of my salvation haste,
    Before thy servant die.]

Psalm XXXIX. 1,—3.

First Part. Common Metre.

Watchfulness over the Tongue; or, Prudence and Zeal.

1. Thus I revolv'd before the Lord;
   "Now will I watch my tongue,
   "Left I let slip one sinful word,
   "Or do my neighbour wrong."
2. And if I'm e'er constrain'd to stay
   With men of lives prophane,
I'll set a double guard that day,
   Nor let my talk be vain.
3. I'll scarce allow my lips to speak,
   The pious thoughts I feel,
Left scorners should the occasion take
   To mock my holy zeal.
4. Yet if some proper hour appear,
   I'll not be overaw'd,
But let the scoffing sinners hear,
   That, I can speak for God.

P S A L M XXXIX. 4,—7.

Second Part. Common Metre.

The Vanity of Man as mortal.

1. EACH me the measure of my days,
   Thou maker of my frame;
I would survey life's narrow space,
   And learn how frail I am.

2. A span is all that we can boast,
   An inch or two of time;
Man is but vanity and dust,
   In all his flow'r and prime.

3. See the vain race of mortals move
   Like shadows o'er the plain;
They rage and strive, desire and love,
   But all their noise is vain.

4. Some walk in honor's guady show;
   Some dig for golden ore,
They toil for heirs, they know not who,
   And strait are seen no more.

5. What should I wish or wait for then
   From creatures earth and dust,
They make our expectations vain,
   And disappoint our trust.

6. Now I forbid my carnal hopes,
   My fond desires recall;
I give my mortal interest up,
   And make my God my all.
PSALM XXXIX.

PSALM XXXIX. 9,—13.

Third Part. Common Metre.

Sick Bed Devotion; or, Pleading without repining.

1. GOD of my life, look gently down,
   Behold the pains I feel;
   But I am dumb before thy throne,
   Nor dare dispute thy will.

2. Diseases are thy servants, Lord;
   They come at thy command:
   I'll not attempt a murm'ring word
   Against thy chast'ning hand.

3. Yet I may plead with humble cries,
   Remove thy sharp rebukes:
   My strength consumes, my spirit dies,
   Thro' thy repeated strokes.

4. Crush'd as a moth beneath thy hand,
   We moulder to the dust;
   Our feeble pow'rs can ne'er withstand,
   And all our beauty's lost.

5. [This mortal life decays apace,
   How soon the bubble's broke!
   Adam, and all his num'rous race,
   Are vanity and smoke.]

6. I'm but a sojourner below,
   As all my fathers were;
   May I be well prepar'd to go,
   When I the summons hear.

7. But if my life be spar'd awhile
   Before my last remove,
Thy praise shall be my business still,
And I'll declare thy love.

Psalm XL. 1, 5, 17.
A Song of Deliverance from great Distress.

I waited patient for the Lord,
He bow'd to hear my cry;
He saw me resting on his word,
And brought salvation nigh.

2. He rais'd me from a horrid pit,
Where mourning long I lay,
And from my bonds releas'd my feet,
Deep bonds of miry clay.

3. Firm on a rock he made me stand,
And taught my cheerful tongue
To praise the wonders of his hand,
In a new thankful song.

4. I'll spread his works of grace abroad;
The saints with joy shall hear,
And sinners learn to make my God,
Their only hope and fear.

5. How many are thy thoughts of love!
Thy mercies, Lord, how great!
We have not words nor hours enough
Their numbers to repeat.

6. When I'm afflicted, poor and low,
And light and peace depart,
My God beholds my heavy woe,
And bears me on his heart.

The Incarnation and Sacrifice of Christ.

Thus faith the Lord "your work is vain,
"Give your burnt off'rings o'er;"
In dying goats, and bullocks slain,
"My soul delights no more."

Then spake the Saviour, "Lo, I'm here;
"My God to do thy will;
Whate'er thy sacred books declare,
"Thy servant shall fulfil,
Thy law is ever in my sight,
"I keep it near my heart;
Mine ears are open'd with delight
"To what thy lips impart."

And see the blest redeemer comes!
Th' eternal Son appears!
And at th' appointed time assumes
The body God prepares.

Much he reveal'd his father's grace;
And much his truth he shew'd,
And preach'd the way of righteousness,
Where great assemblies stood.

His father's honor touch'd his heart,
He pitied sinners cries,
And to fulfil a Saviour's part,
Was made a sacrifice.

No blood of beasts on altars shed
Could wash the conscience clean,
But the rich sacrifice he paid,
Atones for all our sin.

Then was the great salvation spread,
And satan's kingdom shook;
Thus by the woman's promise'd seed
The serpents head was broke.
PSALM XL. 5,—10. Long Metre.

Chrift our Sacrifice.

The wonders, Lord, thy love has wrought:
  Exceed our praise, surmount our thought;
Should I attempt the long detail,
My speech would taint my numbers fail.

1. No blood of beasts on altars spilt,
Can cleanse the fouls of men from guilt;
But thou hast set before our eyes,
An all sufficient sacrifice.

2. Lo! thine eternal Son appears!
To thy desires he bows his ears;
Assumes a body well prepar'd,
And well performs a work so hard.

3. Behold, I come" (the Saviour cries,
With love and duty in his eyes)
"I come to bear the heavy load
Of sins, and do thy will, my God.

4. "'Tis written in thy great decree,
'Tis in thy book foretold of me,
I must fulfil the Saviour's part;
And lo! Thy law is in my heart.

5. "I'll magnify thy holy law,
And rebels to obedience draw,
When on my cross I'm lifted high,
Or to my crown above the sky.

6. "The spirit shall descend and show
What thou hast done, and what I do,
The wond'ring world shall learn thy grace,
Thy wisdom and thy righteousness."
PSALM XLII. 1.—5. First Part. Common Metre. Desertion and Hope; or, Complaint of Absence from public Worship.

With earnest longings of the mind,
My God, to thee I look;
So pants the hunted hart to find
And taste the cooling brook.

2. When shall I see thy courts of grace,
And meet my God again?
So long an absence from thy face
My heart endures with pain.
3. Temptations vex my weary soul,
   And tears are my repast;
The foe insults without control,
   "And where's your God at last?"
4. 'Tis with a mournful pleasure now
   I think on ancient days:
Then to thy house did numbers go,
   And all our work was praise.
5. But why's my soul sunk down so far,
   Beneath this heavy load?
Why do my thoughts indulge despair,
   And sin against my God?
6. Hope in the Lord whose mighty hand,
   Can all thy woes remove;
For I shall yet before him stand,
   And sing restoring love.

P S A L M XLII. 6.—11.
SECOND PART. Long Metre.
Melancholly Thoughts reproved; or, Hope in Afflictions.

1. MY spirit sinks within me, Lord;
   But I will call thy name to mind,
And times of past distress record,
When I have found my God was kind.
2. Hugh troubles with tumultuous noise
Swell like a sea, and round me spread;
Thy water-spouts drown all my joys,
And rising waves roll o'er my head.
3. Yet will the Lord command his love
When I address his throne by day:
Nor in the night his grace remove;
The night shall hear me sing and pray.
4. I'll cast myself before his feet,
And say, "My God, my heav'nly rock!
" Why doth thy love so long forget
" The soul that groans beneath thy stroke."
5. I'll chide my heart that sinks so low,
Why should my soul indulge her grief?
Hope in the Lord, and praise him him too;
He is my rest, my sure relief.
6. Thy light and truth shall guide me still;
Thy word shall my best thoughts employ,
And lead me to thy heav'nly hill,
My God, my most exceeding joy!

PSALM XLIV. 1,2,3,8,15,26. Com Met
The Church's Complaint in Persecution.

LORD we have heard thy works of old,
Thy works of pow'r and grace,
When to our ears our fathers told
The wonders of their days.
2. How thou didst build thy churches here,
And make thy gospel known;
Amongst them did thine arm appear,
Thy light and glory shone.
3. In God they boasted all the day,
And in a cheerful throng
Did thousands meet to praise and pray,
And grace was all their song.
4. But now our souls are seiz'd with shame,
Confusion fills our face,
To hear the enemy blaspheme,
And fools reproach thy grace.

5. Yet
5. Yet have we not forgot our God,
   Nor faintly dealt with heav'n;
   Nor have our steps declin'd the road
   Of duty thou hast giv'n.

6. The' dragons all around us roar
   With their destructive breath,
   And thine own hand has bruis'd us sore,
   Hard by the gates of death.

   Pause.

7. We are expos'd all day to die
   As martyrs for thy cause,
   As sheep for slaughter bound we lie
   By sharp and bloody laws.

8. Awake, arise, almighty Lord!
   Why sleepest thy wonted grace?
   Why should we look like men abhor'd,
   Or banish'd from thy face?

9. Wilt thou forever cast us off,
   And still neglect our cries?
   Forever hide thy heav'nly love
   From our afflicted eyes?

10. Down to the dust our soul is bow'd,
   And dies upon the ground;
    Rise for our help rebuke the proud,
    And all their pow'rs confound.

11. Redeem us from perpetual shame,
    Our Saviour and our God;
    We plead the honors of thy name.
    The merits of thy blood.

PSALM XLV. Short Metre:

1. MY Saviour and my King,
   Thy beauties are divine;
Thy lips with blessings overflow;
And ev'ry grace is thine.

2. Now make thy glory known;
Gird on thy dreadful sword,
And ride in majesty to spread,
The conquests of thy word.

3. Strike thro' thy stubborn foes;
Or melt their hearts t' obey,
While justice, meekness, grace and truth,
Attend thy glorious way.

4. Thy laws, O God are right,
Thy throne shall ever stand:
And thy victorious gospel proves
A scepter in thy hand.

5. Thy father and thy God
Hath without measure shed
His spirit like a joyful oil
T' anoint thy sacred head.

6. Behold at thy right hand
The Gentile church is seen
Like a fair bride in rich attire,
And princes guard the queen.

7. Fair bride receive his love:
Forget thy father's house;
Forsake thy gods, thy idol gods;
And pay thy Lord thy vows.

8. O let thy God and King
Thy sweetest thoughts employ;
Thy children shall his honor sing,
In palaces of joy.

PSALM
PSALM XLV.

PSALM XLV. Common Metre.

The personal Glories and Government of Christ.

1. I'll speak the honors of my king;
   His form divinely fair;
   None of the sons of mortal race
   May with the Lord compare.

2. Sweet is thy speech, and heav'ly grace
   Upon thy lips is shed:
   Thy God with blessings infinite
   Hath crown'd thy sacred head.

3. Gird on thy sword victorious prince!
   Ride with majestic sway:
   Thy terror shall strike thro' thy foes,
   And make the world obey.

4. Thy throne, O God, forever stands;
   Thy word of grace shall prove
   A peaceful sceptre in thy hands
   To rule the saints by love.

5. Justice and truth attend thee still;
   But mercy is thy choice;
   And God, thy God, thy soul shall fill
   With most peculiar joys.

PSALM XLV.

FIRST PART. Long Metre.

1. Now be my heart inspir'd to sing
   The glories of my Saviour-King,
   Jesus the Lord, how heav'ly fair
   His form! how bright his beauties are!

2. O'er all the sons of human race
   He shines with a superior grace;
PSALM XLV.

1. Love from his lips divinely flows,
   And blessings all his state compose.

2. Dress thee in arms, most mighty Lord!
   Gird on the terror of thy sword!
   In majesty and glory ride,
   With truth and meekness at thy side.

3. Thine anger, like a pointed dart,
   Shall pierce the foes of stubborn heart:
   Or words of mercy kind and sweet
   Shall melt the rebels at thy feet.

4. Thy throne, O God, forever stands;
   Grace is the sceptre in thy hands;
   Thy laws and works are just and right;
   Justice and grace are thy delight.

5. God, thine own God, has richly shed
   His oil of gladness on thy head,
   And with his sacred spirit blest
   His first born son above the rest.

PSALM XLV.

SECOND PART. Long Metre.

Christ and his Church, or, The mystical Marriage.

THE King of saints, how fair his face,
   Adorn'd with majesty and grace!
He comes with blessings from above,
   And wins the nations to his love.

2. At his right hand our eyes behold
   The Queen array'd in purest gold:
   The world admires her heav'nly dress;
   Her robe of joy and righteousness.

3. He forms her beauties like his own;
   He calls and seats her near his throne;
Fair stranger let thy heart forget
The idols of thy native state.

4. So shall the King the more rejoice,
In thee the fav’rite of his choice;
Let him be lov’d and yet ador’d,
For he’s thy maker and thy Lord.

5. O happy hour when thou shalt rise
To his fair palace in the skies,
And all thy sons a num’rous train,
Each like a prince in glory reign.

6. Let endless honors crown his head;
Let ev’ry age his praises spread;
While we with cheerful songs approve,
The condescensions of his love.

First Part. Long Metre.

The Church’s Safety and Triumph among national Desi’reons.

GOD is the refuge of his saints,
When storms of sharp distress invade;
E’en we can offer our complaints,
Behold him present with his aid.

2. Let mountains from their seats be hurl’d,
Down to the deep and buried the e:
Convulsions shake the solid world,
Our faith shall never yield to fear.

3. Loud may the troubled ocean roar,
In sacred peace our souls abide;
While ev’ry nation, ev’ry shore,
Trembles and dreads the swelling tide

4. There,
4. There is a stream, whose gentle flow,
Supplies the city of our God;
Life, love and joy, still gliding thro'
And water'ning our divine abode.

5. That sacred stream shone holy word,
That all our raging fears controls;
Sweet peace thy promises afford,
And give new strength to fainting souls.

6. Sion enjoys her monarch's love,
Secure against a threatening hour;
Nor can her firm foundations move,
Built on his truth, and arm'd with pow'r.

PSALM XLVII.
SECOND PART. Long Metre.

God fights for his Church.

LET Sion in her King rejoice,
Tho' tyrants rage and kingdom's rise;
He utters his almighty voice,
The nations melt, the tumult dies.

2. The Lord of old for Jacob fought;
And Jacob's God is still our aid;
Behold the works his hand has wrought!
What desolations he has made!

3. From sea to sea, thro' all the shores
He makes the noise of battle cease:
When from on high his thunder roars,
He awes the trembling world to peace.

4. He breaks the bow, he cuts the spear;
Chariots he burns with heav'nly flame;
Keep silence all the earth, and hear
The sound and glory of his name.
5. "Be still, and learn that I am God,
"I'll be exalted o'er the lands;
"I will be known and fear'd abroad;
"But still my throne in Zion stands."

6. O Lord of hosts almighty King!
While we so near thy presence dwell,
Our faith shall fit secure and sing
Defiance to the gates of hell.

PSALM XLVII, Common Metre.

Christ ascending and reigning.

1. FOR a shout of sacred joy
To God the Soveraign King!
Let ev'ry land their tongues employ,
And hymns of triumph sing.

2. Jesus our God ascends on high!
His heav'ly guards around,
Attend him rising through the sky
With trumpets joyful sound.

3. While angels shout and praise their king,
Let mortals learn their strains;
Let all the earth his honor sing;
O'er all the earth he reigns.

4. Rehearse his praise with awe profound;
Let knowledge lead the song;
Nor mock him with a solemn sound,
Upon a thoughtless tongue.

5. In Is'el stood his ancient throne;
He lov'd that chosen race:
But now he calls the world his own,
And heathens taste his grace.

6. The British is'ands are the Lord's,
There Abram's God is known;
While pow'rs and princes, shields and swords
Submit before his throne.

PSALM XLVIII. 1.—8.
FIRST PART. Short Metre.
The Church is the Honor and Safety of a Nation.

1. GREAT is the Lord our God,
And let his praise be great;
He makes his churches his abode,
His most delightful seat.

2. These temples of his grace,
How beautiful they stand!
The honors of our native place,
And bulwarks of our land.

3. In Sion God is known,
A refuge in distress;
How bright has his salvation shone—
Thro' all our palaces?

4. When kings against her join'd,
And saw the Lord was there
In wild confusion of the mind.
They fled with hasty fear.

5. When natives tall and proud
Attempt to spoil our peace,
He sends his tempest roaring loud,
And sinks them in the seas.

6. Oft have our father's told,
Our eyes have often seen,
How well our God secures the fold
Where his own sheep have been.

7. In ev'ry new distress,
We'll to his house repair,

We'll
We'll think upon his wond'rous grace,
And seek deliv'rance there.

PSALM XLVIII. 10,—14.
SECOND PART. Short Metre.
The Beauty of the Church; or, Gospel Worship and Order.

1. FAR as thy name is known,
The world declares thy praise;
Thy saints, O Lord, before thy throne,
Their songs of honor raise.

2. With joy let Judah stand
On Sion's chosen hill,
Proclaim the wonders of thy hand,
And counsels of thy will.

3. Let strangers walk around
The city where we dwell,
Compass and view thine holy ground,
And mark the building well:

4. The orders of thy house,
The worship of thy court,
The cheerful songs, the solemn vows,
And make a fair report.

5. How decent and how wise!
How glorious to behold!
Beyond the pomp that charms the eyes,
And rights adorn'd with gold.

6. The God we worship now
Will guide us till we die;
Will be our God while here below,
And our's above the sky.
P S A L M XLIX. 6,—14.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

Pride and Death; or, The Vanity of Life & Riches

Why doth the man of riches grow
To insolence and pride,
To see his wealth and honors flow
With ev'ry rising tide.

2. Why doth he treat the poor with scorn,
Made of the self same clay,
And boast as tho' his flesh was born
Of better dust than they?

3. Not all his treasures can procure,
His soul a short reprieve,
Redeem from death one guilty hour,
Or make his brother live.

4. Life is a blessing can't be sold,
The ransom is too high;
Justice will ne'er be brib'd with gold,
That man may never die.

5. He sees the brutish and the wise,
The tim'rous and the brave,
Quit their possessions, close their eyes,
And hasten to the grave.

6. 'Tis his inward thought and pride,
"My house shall ever stand:
And that my name may long abide,
I'll give it to my land."

7. Vain are his thoughts, his hopes are lost,
How soon his mem'ry dies!
His name is written in the dust
Where his own carcass lies.

PAUSE.
Psalm XLIX. 14, 15.

Second Part. Common Metre.

Death and the Resurrection.

Ye sons of pride that hate the just,
And trample on the poor,
When death has brought you down to dust,
Your pomp shall rise no more.

The last great day shall change the scene,
When will that hour appear?
When shall the just revive and reign
O'er all that scorn'd them here?

God will my naked soul receive,
When separate from the flesh;
And break the prison of the grave,
To raise my bones afresh.

Heaven is my everlasting home;
Th' inheritance is sure;
Yet men of pride their rage resume,
But I'll repine no more.
PSALM XLIX. Long Metre.
The rich Sinner's Death, and the Saint's Resurrection.

WHY do the proud insult the poor,
And boast the large estates they have?
How vain are riches to secure
Their haughty owners from the grave!
2. They can't redeem one hour from death,
With all the wealth in which they trust;
Nor give a dying brother breath,
When God commands him down to dust.
3. There the dark earth and dismal shade,
Shall clasp their naked bodies round;
That flesh so delicately fed,
Lies cold, and moulders in the ground.
4. Like thoughtless sheep the sinner dies,
Laid in the grave for worms to eat;
The saints shall in the morning rise,
And find th' oppressor at their feet.
5. His honors perish in the dust,
And pomp and beauty, birth and blood:
That glorious day exalts the Just
To full dominion o'er the proud.
6. My Saviour shall my life restore,
And raise me from my dark abode:
My flesh and soul shall part no more;
But dwell forever near my God.

PSALM L. 1,—6.

First Part. Common Metre.
The last Judgment; or, The Saints rewarded.

The Lord, the Judge before his throne
Bids the whole earth draw nigh:
The nations near the rising sun,
And near the western sky.

2. No more shall b'od blasphemers say;
   "Judgement will ne'er begin;"
No more abuse his long delay,
To impudence and sin.

3. Thron'd on a cloud our God shall come;
   Bright flames prepare his way,
   Thunder and darkness, fire and storm,
   Lead on the dreadful day.

4. Heav'n from above his call shall hear;
   Attending Angels come;
And earth and hell shall know and fear
   His justice and their doom.

5. "But gather all my saints, (he cries)
   "That made their peace with God
   "By the Redeemer's sacrifice,
   "And seal'd it with his blood.

6. "Their faith and works bro't forth to light
   "Shall make the world confess
   "My sentence of reward is right,
   "And heav'n adore my grace.

PSALM L. Second Part. Common Metre:

Obedience is better than Sacrifice.

Thus saith the Lord, "The spacious fields
   "And flocks and herds are mine;
   "O'er all the cattle of the hills,
   "I claim a right divine.

2. "I ask no sheep for sacrifice,
   "Nor bullocks burnt with fire;"
To hope and love, to pray and praise,
" Is all that I require.
3. " Call upon me when trouble's near,
" My hand shall set thee free;
" Then shall thy thankful lips declare
" The honor due to me.
4. " The man that offers humble praise,
" He glorifies me best:
" And those that tread my holy ways,
" Shall my salvation taste."

PSALM L. 1,5,8,16,21,22.

THIRD PART. Common Metre.

The Judgement of Hypocrites.

When Christ to judgment shall descend,
And saints surround their Lord,
He calls the nations to attend,
And hear his awful word.

2. " Not for the want of bullocks slain
" Will I the world reprove;
" Altars and rites and forms are vain,
" Without the fire of love.

3. " And what have hypocrites to do
" To bring their sacrifice?
" They call my statutes just and true,
" But deal in theft and lies.

" And sin without controul?
" But I shall bring your crimes to light,
" With anguish in your soul.

5. Consider, ye that slight the Lord,
Before his wrath appear;
If once you fall beneath his sword,
There’s no deliv’rer there.

Psalm L. Long Metre.
Hypocrisy exposed.

The Lord the judge his churches warns,
Let hypocrites at end and fear,
Who place their hopes in rites and forms,
But make not faith nor love their care.

2. Vile wretches dare rehearse his name,
With lips of falsehood and deceit;
A friend or brother they delame,
And sooth and flatter those they hate.

3. They watch to do their neighbours wrong,
Yet dare to seek their maker’s face;
They take his cov’nant on their tongue,
But break his laws, abuse his grace.

4. To heav’n they lift their hands unclean,
Defil’d with lust, defil’d with blood;
By night they practise ev’ry sin.
By day their mouths draw near to God.

5. And while his judgments long delay,
They grow secure, and sin the more;
They think he sleeps as well as they,
And put far off the dreadful hour.

6. O dreadful hour! when God draws near,
And sets their crimes before their eyes!
His wrath their guilty souls shall tear,
And no deliv’rer dare to rise.

Psalm L. To a new Tune!
The last Judgment.

The Lord, the sov’reign sends his summons forth,
Calls the south nations, and awakes the north,
From east to west the founding orders spread,
Thro' distant worlds and regions of the dead:
No more shall atheists mock his long delay:
His vengeance sleeps no more: Behold the day!
2 Behold the judge descends, his guards are nigh,
Tempest and fire attend him down the sky;
Heav'n, earth and hell draw near; let all things come
to hear his justice, and the sinner's doom:
But gather first my saints (the Judge commands)
Bring them, ye angels from their distant lands.
3 Behold my cov'rant stands forever good,
Seal'd by th' eternal sacrifice in blood,
And sign'd with all their names, the Greek the Jew,
That paid the ancient worship or the new,
There's no distinction here, come spread their thrones,
And near me seat my favorites and my sons.
4 I the Almighty Saviour and their God,
I am their judge, ye heav'n's proclaim abroad
My just eternal sentence, and declare,
Those awful truths that sinners dread to hear:
Sinner in Zion tremble and retire;
I doom the painted hypocrite to fire.
5 Not for the want of goats or bullocks slain,
Do I condemn thee; bulls and goats are vain,
Without the names of love. In vain the fane
Of brutal off'ring's that were mine before;
Mine are the tamer beasts and savage breed,
Flocks, herds, and fields and forests where they feed.
6 If I were hungry would I ask thee food?
When did I thirst, or drink thy bullocks blood?
Can I be satisfied with thy cringing bows,
Thy solemn chattering, or fantastic vows?
Are my eyes charm'd thy vestments to behold,
Glaring in gems and gay in woven gold?
7 Unthinking wretch, how couldst thou hope to please
A God, a spirit with such toys as these?
While with my grace and statutes on thy tongue
Thou livest deceit, and dost thy brother wrong!
In vain to pious forms thy zeal pretends,
Thieves and adulterers are thy chosen friends.
3. Silent I waited with long suffering love,
But didst thou hope that I would never reprove?
And cherish such an impious thought within,
That God the righteous would indulge thy sin?
Behold my terrors now; my thunders roll,
And thy own crimes affright thy guilty soul.
9. Sinners, awake betimes; ye fools, be wise,
Awake before this dreadful morning rise;
Change your ways, thou'st your crooked works amend,
Fly to the saviour, make the judge your friend;
Left like a lion his last vengeance tear,
Your trembling souls, and no deliverer's near.

PSALM L. To the old proper Tune.

The last Judgment.

The God of glory sends his summons forth,
Calls the nations, and awakes the north;
From east to west the sovereign orders spread,
Through distant worlds and regions of the dead,
The trumpet sounds, hell trembles, heav'n rejoices,
Lift up your heads, ye saints, with cheerful voices.
2. No more shall atheists mock his long delay;
His vengeance sleeps no more: behold the day!
Behold the judge descends, his guards are nigh;
Tempests and fire attend him down the sky.
When God appears all nature shall adore him,
While sinners tremble, saints rejoice before him.
3. Heav'n, earth and hell draw near, let all things come
To hear my justice, and the sinner's doom;
But gather first my saints (the judge commands)
Bring them, ye angels, from their distant lands.
When Christ returns, wake or'th cheerful passion,
And mount, ye saints! he comes for your salvation.
4. Behold I my covenant lands forever good,
Seal'd be the eternal sacrifice in blood,
And sign'd with all their names, the Greek the Jew,
That paid the ancient worship or the new,
There's no distinction here, join all your voices,
And raise your heads, ye saints for heav'n rejoices.

5. Here (faith the Lord) ye angels spread their thrones,
And near me seat my fav'rites and my sons:
Come, my redeem'd, possess the joys prepar'd,
E'er time began; 'tis your divine reward.
When Christ return's, wake ev'ry cheerful passion,
And shout, ye saints! he comes for your salvation.

PAUSE I.

6. I am the saviour, I the almighty God;
I am the judge; ye heav'n's proclaim abroad,
My just eternal sentence and declare
Those awful truths that sinners dread to hear.
When God appears all nature shall adore him;
While sinners tremble, saints rejoice before him.

7. Stand forth thou bold blasphemer, and profane,
Now feel my wrath, or call my threat'nings vain:
Thou hypocrite, once drest in saints attire,
I doom thee: painted hypocrite to fire,
Judgment proceeds, hell trembles, heav'n rejoices,
Lift up your heads, ye saints, with cheerful voices.

8. Not for the want of goats or bullocks slain
Do I condemn thee, bulls and geats are vain
Without the flames of love. In vain the store
Of brutal off'nings that were mine before.
Earth is the Lord's all nature shall adore him;
While sinners tremble, saints rejoice before him.

9. If I were hungry would I ask thee food,
When did I thirst or drink thy bullocks blood?
Mine are the tamer beasts and savage breed,
Flocks, herds and fields, and forests where they feed.
All is the Lord's, he rules the wide creation,
Gives sinners vengeance, and the saints salvation.

10. Can I be flatter'd with thy cringing bows,
Thy solemn chat'nings and fantastic vows?
PSALM L

Are my eyes charm’d thy velements to behold,
Glaring in gems, and gay in woven gold?
God is the judge of hearts, no fair disguiser
Can screen the guilty when his vengeance rises.

PAUSE II.

11. Unthinking wretch how could’st thou hope to ple
A God, a spirit, with such toys as these?
While with my grace and statutes on thy tongue,
Thou lovest deceit, and dost thy brother wrong!
Judgment proceeds, hell trembles, heav’n rejoices,
Lift up your heads, ye faints, with cheerful voices.
12. In vain to pious forms thy zeal pretends;
Thieves and adinf’rers are thy chosen friends;
While the sinner sits at my altar waits,
His harder’d soul divine instruction hates.
God is the judge of hearts, no fair disguiser
Can screen the guilty when his vengeance rises.
13. Silent I waited with long suffering love;
But didst thou hope that I would ne’er reprove?
And cherish such an impious thought within,
That the all-holy would indulge thy sin?
See God appears, all nations join to adore him;
Judgment proceeds, and sinners fall before him.
14. Behold my terrors now; my thunder’s roll,
And thy own crimes affright thy guilty soul.
Now like a lion shall my vengeance tear
Thy bleeding heart and no deliv’rer’s near;
Judgment concludes, hell trembles, heav’n rejoices,
Lift up your heads, ye saints, with cheerful voices.

EPITHEMENA.

Sinners, awake before time, ye fools be wise,
Awake before this dreadful morning rise:
Change your vain thoughts, your crooked works amend,
Fly to thy Saviour make the judge your friend.
Then join the saints, wake ev’ry cheerful passion;
When Christ returns he comes for your salvation.

PSALM
FIRST PART. Long Metre.

A Penitent pleading for Pardon.

1. SHew pity, Lord; O Lord forgive,
   Let a repenting rebel live;
   Are not thy mercies large and free,
   May not a sinner trust in thee?

2. My crimes are great but don't surpass,
The pow'r and glory of thy grace:
   Great God! thy nature hath no bound,
   So let thy pard'ning love be found.

3. O wash my soul from ev'ry sin,
   And make my guilty conscience clean;
   Here on my heart the burden lies,
   And past offences pain my eyes.

4. My lips with shame my sins confess,
   Against thy law, against thy grace;
   Lord should thy judgment grow severe,
   I am condemn'd, but thou art clear.

5. Should sudden vengeance seize my breath,
   I must pronounce thee just in death;
   And if my soul were sent to hell,
   Thy righteous law approves it well.

6. Yet have a trembling sinner, Lord,
   Whose hope still hov'ring round thy word,
   Would light on some sweet promise there,
   Some sure support against despair.

PSALM LI. Second Part. Long Metre.

Original and actual sin confessed.

1. LORD, I am vile, conceiv'd in sin;
   And born unholy and unclean;
Sprung from the man whose guilty fall
Corrupts his race and taints us all.

2. Soon as we draw our infant breath,
The seeds of sin grow up for death;
Thy law demands a perfect heart;
But we're'dest in ev'ry part.

3. [Great God, create my heart anew,
And form my spirit pure and true:
O make me wise betimes, to spy
My danger and my remedy.]

4. Behold, I fall before thy face;
My only refuge is thy grace:
No outward forms can make me clean;
The leprosy lies deep within.

5. No bleeding bird, nor bleeding beast,
Nor hyssop-branch, nor sprinkling priest,
Nor running brook, nor flood, nor sea,
Can wash the dismal stain away.

6. Jesus, my God, thy blood alone
Hath pow'r sufficient to atone;
Thy blood can make me white as snow;
No Jewish types could cleanse me so.

7. While guilt disturbs and breaks my peace,
Nor flesh nor soul hath rest or ease;
Lord, let me hear thy pard'ning voice,
And make my broken bones rejoice.

PSALM LI.

The backslider restored; or, Repentance and faith in the blood of Christ.

O Thou that hear'st when sinners cry,
Thou' all my crimes before thee lie,

Behold
Behold them not with angry look,
But blot their mem'ry from thy book.

2. Create my nature pure within,
And form my soul averse to sin;
Let thy good spirit ne'er depart,
Nor hide thy presence from my heart.

3. I cannot live without thy light,
Cast out and banish'd from thy light:
Thine holy joys my God restore;
And guard me that I fall no more.

4. Though I have griev'd thy spirit, Lord,
Thy help and comfort still afford:
And let a wretch come near thy throne,
To plead the merits of thy Son.

5. A broken heart, my God, my King,
Is all the sacrifice I bring;
The God of grace will ne'er despise
A broken heart for sacrifice.

6. My soul lies humbled in the dust,
And owns thy dreadful sentence just;
Look down, O Lord, with pitying eye,
And save the soul condemn'd to die.

7. Then will I teach the world thy ways;
Sinners shall learn thy sovereign grace;
I'll lead them to my Saviour's blood,
And they shall praise a pard'ning God.

8. O may thy love inspire my tongue!
Salvation shall be all my song;
And all my pow'rs shall join to bless
The Lord, my Strength and Righteousness.

PSALM
LORD, I would spread my sore distress
  And guilt before thine eyes;
Against thy laws, against thy grace
  How high my crimes arise!

2. Should’st thou condemn my soul to hell,
   And crush my flesh to dust,
Heav’n would approve thy vengeance well,
   And earth must own it just.

3. I from the flock of Adam came,
   Unholy and unclean;
All my original is shame,
   And all my nature sin.

4. Born in a world of guilt, I drew
   Contagion with my breath,
And as my days advanc’d, I grew
   A juster prey for death.

5. Cleanse me, O Lord, and clear my soul
   With thy forgiving love;
O make my broken spirit whole,
   And bid my pains remove.

6. Let not thy Spirit quite depart,
   Nor drive me from thy face;
Create anew my vicious heart,
   And fill it with thy grace.

7. Then will I make thy mercy known
   Before the sons of men;
Backsliders shall address thy throne,
   And turn to God again.
PSALM LI. 14,—17. Sec. Part. C. N

Repentance and Faith in the Blood of Christ

1. O God of Mercy, hear my call,
   My loads of guilt remove,
Break down the separating wall
   That bars me from thy love.

2. Give me the presence of thy grace,
   Then my rejoicing tongue
Shall speak aloud thy righteousness,
   And make thy praise my song.

3. No blood of goats, nor heifers slain
For sin could e'er atone;
The death of Christ shall still remain
   Sufficient and alone.

4. A soul oppressed with sin's desert
   My God will ne'er despise;
A humble groan, a broken heart,
   Is our best sacrifice.

PSALM LIII. 4—6.

Vigil and Deliverance from Persecution.

Are all the foes of Sion fools,
   Who thus devour her saints?
Do they not know her saviour rules,
   And pities her complaints?

2. They shall be seiz'd with sad surprise;
   For God's revenging arm
Scatters the bones of them that rise
   To do his children harm.

3. In vain the sons of Satan boast
   Of armies in array;
When God has first dispers'd their host,
They fall an easy prey.

4. O for a word from Sion's King
Her captives to restore!
Jacob with all his tribes shall sing,
And Judah weep no more.

O God, my refuge, hear my cries
Behold my flowing tears;
For earth and hell my hurt devise,
And triumph in my fears.

2. Their rage is level'd at my life,
My soul with guilt they load,
And fill my thoughts with inward strife,
To shake my hope in God.

3. With inward pain my heart-stringsound,
I groan with ev'ry breath:
Horror and fear beset me round,
Amongst the shades of death.

4. O were I like a feather'd dove,
And innocence had wings,
I'd fly, and make along remove
From all these restless things.

5. Let me to some wild desert go,
And find a peaceful home;
Where storms of malice never blow,
Temptations never come.

6. Vain hopes, and vain inventions all,
To 'scape the rage of hell!
The mighty God on whom I call can save me here as well.
PSALM LV.

PAUSE.

7. By morning light I'll seek his face,
   At noon repeat my cry;
The night shall hear me ask his grace;
   Nor will he long deny.
8. God shall preserve my soul from fear,
   Or shield me when afraid;
Ten thousand angels must appear,
   If he command their aid.
9. I cast my burdens on the Lord,
   The Lord sustains them all;
My courage rests upon his word,
   That saints shall never fall.
10. My highest hopes shall not be vain;
   My lips shall spread his praise;
While cruel and deceitful men
   Scarce live out half their days.

PSALM LV. 17, 19, 22. Short Metre.

Dangerous Prosperity; or, Daily Devotion encouraged.

1. Let sinners take their course,
   And choose the road to death;
But in the worship of my God
   I'll spend my daily breath.
2. My thoughts address his throne
   When morning brings the light;
I seek his blessing ev'ry noon,
   And pay my vows at night.
3. Thou wilt regard my cries,
   O my eternal God,
While sinners perish in surprise
Beneath thine angry rod.

4. Because they dwell at ease,
And no sad changes feel,
They neither fear nor trust thy name,
Nor learn to do thy will.

5. But I with all my cares
Will lean upon the Lord;
I'll cast my burden on his arm,
And rest upon his word.

6. His arm shall well sustain,
The children of his love;
The ground on which their safety stands
No earthly pow'r can move.

PSALM LVI. Common Metre:

Deliverance from Oppression and Falseness; or,
God's Care of his People, in Answer to Faith and Prayer.

O Thou whose justice reigns on high,
And makes the oppressor cease;
Behold how envious sinners try
To vex and break my peace.

2. The sons of violence and lies
Join to devour me, Lord;
But as my hourly dangers rise,
My refuge is thy word.

3. In God most holy just and true;
I have repos'd my trust;
Nor will I fear what flesh can do,
The offspring of the dust.

4. They
4. They wrest my words to mischief still,
    Charge me with unknown faults;
Mischief doth all their counsels fill,
    And malice all their thoughts,
5. Shall they escape without thy frown?
    Must their devices stand?
O cast the haughty sinner down,
    And let him know thy hand,

   Pause.

6. God counts the sorrows of his saints,
    Their groans affect his ears;
Thou hast a book for my complaints,
    A bottle for my tears.
7. When to thy throne I raise my cry,
    The wicked fear and flee;
So swift is pray'r to reach the sky,
    So near is God to me.
8. In thee, most holy, just and true,
    I have repos'd my trust;
Nor will I fear what man can do,
    The offspring of the dust.
9. Thy solemn vows are on me Lord,
    Thou shalt receive my praise;
I'll sing, "How faithful is thy word!
    "How righteous all thy ways!"
10. Thou hast secur'd my soul from death;
    O set thy pris'ner free:
That heart and hand, and life and breath,
    May be employ'd for thee.
PSALM LVII. Long Metre.

Praise for Protection, Grace and Truth.

My God, in whom are all the springs
Of boundless love, and grace unknown;
Hide me beneath thy spreading wings,
Till the dark cloud is overblown.

1. Up to the heav'ns I send my cry,
The Lord will my desires perform;
He sends his angels from the sky,
And saves me from the threat'ning storm.

2. Be thou exalted, O my God,
Above the heav'ns where angels dwell;
Thy pow'rs on earth be known abroad,
And land to land thy wonders tell.

3. Be thou exalted: my song shall raise
Immortal honors to thy name;
Awake, my tongue, to sound his praise,
My tongue, the glory of my frame.

4. High o'er the earth his mercy reigns,
And reaches to the utmost sky;
His truth to endless years remains,
When lower worlds dissolve and die.

5. Be thou exalted, O my God,
Above the heav'ns where angels dwell;
Thy pow'rs on earth be known abroad,
And land to land thy wonders tell.

PSALM LVIII. As the 113 Psalm.

Warning to Magistrates.

Judges, who rule the world by laws,
Will ye despise the righteous cause,

When
When th' injur'd poor before you stands?
Dare ye condemn the righteous poor,
And let rich sinners 'scape secure,
While gold and greatness bribe your hands?

2. Have ye forgot, or never knew
Tha God will judge the judges too?
High in the heav'ns his justice reigns;
Yet you invade the rights of God,
And send your bold decrees abroad,
To bind the conscience in your chains.

3. A poison'd arrow is your tongue,
The arrow sharp the poison strong,
And death attends where'er it wounds;
You hear no counsels, cries, or tears;
So the deaf adder stops her ears
Against the pow'r of charming sounds.

4. Break out their teeth, eternal God,
Those teeth of lions dy'd in blood;
And crush the serpents in the dust;
As empty chaff, when whirlwinds rise,
Before the sweeping tempest flies,
So let their hopes and names be lost.

5. Th' Almighty thunders from the sky,
Their grandeur melts, their titles die,
As hills of snow dissolve and run;
Or snails that perish in their time,
Or births that come before their time,
Vain births that never see the sun.

6. Thus shall the vengeance of the Lord
Safety and joy to saints afford;
And all that hear shall join and say,
PSALM LX.

Sure there's a God that rules on high,
A God that hears his children cry,
"And will their suff'ring's well repay."

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

On a Day of Humiliation for Disappointments in War.

ORD, hast thou cast the nation off?
Must we forever mourn?
Wilt thou indulge immortal wrath?
Shall mercy ne'er return?
The terror of one frown of thine
Melts all our strength away;
Like men that totter, drunk with wine,
We tremble in dismay.

Great-Britain shakes beneath thyroke,
And dreads thy threatening hand;
Heal the island thou hast broke;
Confirm the wavering land.

Lift up a banner in the field
For those that fear thy name;
Save thy beloved with thy shield;
And put our foes to shame.

Go with our armies to the fight,
Like a confederate God;
Vain confederate pow'rs unite
Against thy lifted rod.

Our troops shall gain a wide renown
By thy assisting hand;
'Tis God that treads the mighty down,
And makes the feeble stand.  PSALM
PSALM LXI.

PSALM LXI. 1.—6. Short Metre

Safety in GOD.

WHEN overwhelmed with grief
My heart within me dies,
Helpless and far from all relief,
To heav’n I lift mine eyes.

2. O lead me to the rock
That’s high above my head;
And make the covert of thy wings
My shelter and my shade.

3. Within thy presence, Lord,
Forever I’ll abide;
Thou art the tow’r of my defence,
The refuge where I hide.

4. Thou givest me the lot
Of those that fear thy name;
If endless life be their reward,
I shall possess the same.

PSALM LXII. 5.—12. Long Metre

No Trust in the Creatures; or, Faith in Divine Grace and Power.

My spirit looks to God alone;
My rock and refuge is his throne;
In all my fears, in all my straits,
My soul on his salvation waits.

2. Trust him, ye saints, in all your ways,
Pour out your hearts before his face:
When helpers fail, and foes invade,
God is our all-sufficient aid.
False are the men of high degree,
He baser sort are vanity;
And in the balance, both appear
Right as a puff of empty air.
Make not increasing gold your trust,
or set your hearts on glitt'ring dust;
Thy will you grasp the fleeting smoke,
And not believe what God has spoke?
Once has his awful voice declar'd,
Once and again my ears have heard,
All pow'r is his eternal due;
He must be fear'd, and trusted too."
For sov'reign pow'r reigns not alone,
Race is a partner of the throne;
By grace and justice, mighty Lord,
Hall well divide our last reward.

PSALM LXIII.
FIRST PART. Common Metre.
The Morning of a Lord's-Day.

EARLY, my God, without delay,
I haste to seek thy face:
By thirsty spirit saints away,
Without thy chearing grace.
So pilgrims on the scorching sand,
Beneath a burning sky,
Long for a cooling stream at hand,
And they must drink or die.
I've seen thy glory and thy pow'r
Thro' all thy temple shine;
By God, repeat that heav'ly hour,
That vision so divine.
4. Not all the blessings of a feast
   Can please my soul so well
   As when thy richer grace I taste.
   And in thy presence dwell.

5. Not life itself, with all her joys,
   Can my best passions move,
   Or raise so high my cheerful voice,
   As thy forgiving love.

6. Thus, 'till my last expiring day,
   I'll bless my God and King;
   Thus will I lift my hands to pray,
   And tune my lips to sing.

PSALM LXIII. 6,—10:

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

Midnight Thoughts recollected.

'TWAS in the watches of the night
   I thought upon thy pow'r,
I kept thy lovely face in sight,
   Amidst the darkest hour.

2. My flesh lay resting on my bed,
   My soul arose on high;
   "My God, my life, my hope, I said,
   Bring thy salvation nigh."

3. My spirit labours up thine hill,
   And climbs the heav'nly road;
   But thy right hand upholds me still,
   While I pursue my God.

4. Thy mercy stretches o'er my head.
   The shadow of thy wings;
   My heart rejoices in thine aid;
   My tongue awakes and sings.

5. Bu
PSALM LXIII.

But the destroyers of my peace
Shall fret, and rage in vain;
The tempter shall forever cease,
And all my sins be slain.
Thy sword shall give my foes to death,
And send them down to dwell
In the dark caverns of the earth,
Or to the deeps of hell.

PSALM LXIII. Long Metre:

Longing after God: or, The Love of God better than Life.

Great God, indulge my humble claim:
Thou art my hope, my joy, my rest;
The glories that compose thy name,
And all engaged to make me blest.

Thou great and good, thou just and wise,
Thou art my Father and my God,
And I am thine by sacred ties,
My son, thy servant bought with blood.

With heart, and eyes, and lifted hands,
Or thee I long, to thee I look,
As travellers in thirsty lands
And for the cooling water-brook.

With early feet I love t' appear
Among thy saints, and seek thy face,
I have I seen thy glory there,
And felt the pow'r of sovereign grace.

Not fruits nor wines that tempt our taste,
or all the joys our senses know,
Could make me so divinely blest,
Raise my cheerful passion so.

6. My
6. My life itself, without thy love
   No taste of pleasure could afford;
   'Twould but a tiresome burden prove,
   If I were banish'd from the Lord.
7. Amidst the wakeful hours of night,
   When busy cares afflict my head,
   One thought of thee gives new delight,
   And adds refreshment to my bed.
8. I'll lift my hands, I'll raise my voice,
   While I have breath to pray or praise;
   This work shall make my heart rejoice,
   And spend the remnant of my days.

PSALM LXIII. Short Metre

Seeking GOD.

MY God, permit my tongue
   This joy, to call thee mine;
And let my early cries prevail
   To taste thy love divine.
2. My thirsty tainting soul
   Thy mercy doth implore;
Not travellers in desart lands
   Can pant for water more.
3. Within thy churches, Lord;
   I long to find a place;
Thy pow'r and glory to behold,
   And feel thy quick'ning grace.
4. For life without thy love
   No relish can afford;
No joy can be compar'd with this,
   To serve and please the Lord.
5. To thee I'll lift my hands,
   And praise thee while I live;
   Not the rich dainties of a feast,
   Such food or pleasure give.

6. In wakeful hours of night
   I call my God to mind;
   I think how wise thy counsels are,
   And all thy dealings kind.

7. Since thou hast been my help,
   To thee my spirit flies,
   And on thy watchful providence
   My cheerful hope relies.

8. The shadow of thy wings
   My soul in safety keeps;
   I follow where my father leads;
   And he supports my steps.

P S A L M L X V. 1—5.
First Part. Long Metre.

Public Prayer and Praise.

The praise of Sion waits for thee,
   My God; and praise becomes thy house:
There shall thy saints thy glory see,
   And there perform thy public vows.

2. O thou, whose mercy bends the skies
   To save when humble sinners pray;
   All lands to thee shall lift their eyes,
   And islands of the northern sea.

3. Against my will my sins prevail,
   But grace shall purge away their stain.
The blood of Christ will never fail,
To wash my garments white again.

4. Best is the man whom thou shalt choose,
And give him kind access to thee;
Give him a place within thy house,
To taste thy love divinely free.

PAUSE.

5. Let Babel fear when Sion prays;
Babel prepare for long distress,
When Sion's God himself arrays
In terror and in righteousness.

6. With dreadful glory God fulfils
What his afflicted saints request;
And with almighty wrath reveals
His love, to give his churches rest.

7. Then shall the flocking nations run
To Sion's hill and own their Lord;
The rising and the setting sun
Shall see the Saviour's name ador'd:

PSALM LXV. 5—13.
SECOND PART. Long Metre.

Divine Providence in Air, Earth and Sea; or,
The God of Nature and Grace.

The God of our salvation hears
The groans of Sion mixed with tears;
Yet when he comes with kind designs,
Thro' all the way his terror shines.

2. On him the race of man depends,
Far as the earth's remotest ends,
Where the creator's name is known
By nature's feeble light alone.
Sailors that travel o'er the flood,
Address their frightened souls to God.
When tempests rage and billows roar,
At dreadful distance from the shore.
He bids the noisy tempests cease;
He calms the raging crowd to peace.
When a tumultuous nation raves,
Vivid as the winds, and loud as waves.
Whole kingdoms shaken by the storm,
He settles in a peaceful form;
Mountains establish'd by his hand,
Stand on their old foundations stand.
Behold his ensigns sweep the sky,
Few comets blaze and lightnings fly;
He heathen lands, with swift surprise,
From the bright horrors turn their eyes.
As his command the morning ray
Niles in the east, and leads the day;
He guides the sun's declining weeks
Over the tops of western hills.
Seasons and times obey his voice;
The ev'ning and the morn rejoice
To see the earth made soft with show'rs,
I'den with fruit and decked in show'rs.
'Tis from his watry stores on high
That gives the thirsty ground supply;
He walks upon the clouds, and thence
With his enriching drops dispense.
20. The desert grows a fruitful field;
Abundant food the valleys yield;
The valleys shout with cheerful voice,
And neighboring hills repeat their joys.

21. The pasture smiles in green array;
There lambs and larger cattle play,
The larger cattle and the lamb
Each in his language speaks thy name.

12. Thy works pronounce thy pow'r divine,
O'er ev'ry field thy glories shine:
Thro' ev'ry month thy gifts appear:
Great God! Thy goodness crowns the year.

Praise waits in Sion, Lord, for thee;
There shall our vows be paid:
Thou hast an ear when sinners pray,
All flesh shall seek thine aid.

2. Lord, our iniquities prevail,
But pard'ning grace is thine:
And thou wilt grant us pow'r and skill
To conquer ev'ry sin.

3. Blest are the men whom thou wilt choose,
To bring them near thy face;
Give them a dwelling in thine house,
To feast upon thy grace.

4. In answering what thy church requests,
Thy truth and terror shine,
And works of dreadful righteousness
Fulfil thy kind design.
5. Thus shall the wonder'ing nations see
   The Lord is good and just;
   And distant islands fly to thee,
   And make thy name their trust.

6. They dread thy glit'ring tokens, Lord,
   When signs in heav'n appear;
   But they shall learn by holy word,
   And love as well as fear.

Psalm LXV

Sec. Part. Com. Met.

The Providence of God in Air, Earth, and Sea;
or, The Blessing of Rain.

'TIS by thy strength the mountains stand,
   God of eternal pow'r!

The sea grows calm at thy command,
   And tempests cease to roar.

2. Thy morning light and evening shade
   Successive comforts bring;
   Thy plenteous fruits make harvest glad,
   Thy flow'rs adorn the spring.

3. Seasons, and times, and moons, and hours,
   Heav'n, earth, and air are thine;
   When clouds distil in fruitful flow'rs,
   The author is divine.

4. Those wand'ring cisterns in the sky,
   Borne by the winds around;
   With watry treasures well supply,
   The furrows of the ground.

5. The thirsty ridges drink their fill,
   And ranks of corn appear,
   Thy ways abound with blessings still,
   Thy goodness crowns the year.
GOOD is the Lord, the heav'nly king,
Who makes the earth his care;
Visits the pastures ev'ry spring,
And bids the grass appear.

The clouds, like rivers rais'd on high,
Pour out at thy command,
Their wa'ry blessings from the sky,
To cheer the thirsty land.

The soften'd ridges of the field
Permit the corn to spring;
The valleys rich provision yield,
And the poor lab'ring sing.

The little hills on ev'ry side
Rejoice at falling showers;
The meadows, drest in all their pride,
Perfume the air with flowers.

The barren clods refresh'd with rain,
Promise a joyful crop,
The parched ground looks green again,
And raise the reaper's hope.

The various months thy goodness crowns;
How beauteous are thy ways!
The bleating flocks spread o'er the downs,
And shepherds shout thy praise.
SING, all ye nations to the Lord,
Sing with a joyful noise;
With melody of sound record
His honors and your joys.
Say to the power that makes the sky,
"How terrible art thou!"
Sinners before thy presence fly,
"Or at thy feet they bow."
[Come see the wonders of our God,
How glorious are his ways!]
In Moses' hand he puts his rod,
And cleaves the frightened seas.
He made the ebbing channel dry,
While Is'rel past the flood;
There did the church begin their joy,
And triumph in their God.
He rules by his restless might;
Will rebel mortals dare
Provoke the eternal to the fight,
And tempt that dreadful war?
O bless our God and never cease;
Ye saints, fulfill his praise:
He keeps our life, maintains our peace,
And guides our doubtful ways.
Lord, thou hast prov'd our suffering souls,
To make our graces shine;
So silver bears the burning coals,
The metal to refine.
8. Thro' war'ry deeps and fiery ways,
We march at thy command,
Led to pass the promis'd place,
By thine unerring hand.

SECOND PART. Common Metre,
Praise to God for bearing Prayer.

1. NOW shall my solemn vows be paid,
   To that almighty pow'r
That heard the long requests I made
   In my distressful hour.
2. My lips and cheerful heart prepare
   To make his mercies known;
Come, ye that fear my God, and hear
   The wonders he has done.
3. When on my head huge torrows fell,
   I fought his heav'ly aid;
He sav'd my sinking soul from hell,
   And death's eternal shade.
4. If sin lay cover'd in my heart,
   While prav'r employ'd my tongue,
The Lord had shewn me no regard,
   Nor I his praises sung.
5. But God (his name be ever blest)
   Has set my spirit free;
Nor turn'd from him my poor request,
   Nor turn'd his heart from me.
PSALM LXVII. Common Metre.
The nation's Prosperity and the Church's Increase.

1. SHINE, mighty God, on Britain shine
   With beams of heav'nly grace;
   Reveal thy pow'r thro' all our coasts,
   And shew thy smiling face.

2. [Amidst our isle exalted high
   Do thou our glory stand,
   And like a wall of guardian fire
   Surround thy fav'rite land.]

3. When shall thy name from shore to shore
   Sound all the earth abroad,
   And distant nations know and love
   Their Saviour and their God?

4. Sing to the Lord, ye distant lands,
   Sing loud with solemn voice;
   While British tongues exalt his praise,
   And British hearts rejoice.

5. He, the great Lord, the sovereign judge,
   That sits enthron'd above,
   Wisely commands the world he made
   In justice and in love.

6. Earth shall obey her maker's will,
   And yield a full increase;
   Our God will crown his cho'en isle
   With fruitfulness and peace.

7. God the Redeemer scatters round
   His choicest favors here,
   While the creation's utmost bound
   Shall see, adore, and fear.

PSALM
Psalm LXVIII.

Psalm LXVIII. 1.—6, 32.—35.

First Part. Long Metre.
The Vengeance and Compassion of God.

Let God arise in all his might,
And put the troops of hell to flight;
As smoke that sought to cloud the skies
Before the rising tempest flies.

2. [He comes array'd in burning flames,
Justice and vengeance are his names;
Behold his fainting foes expire
Like melting wax before the fire.]

He rides and thunders thro' the sky;
His name Jehovah sounds on high:
Sing to his name ye sons of grace;
Ye saints rejoice before his face.

3. The widow and the fatherless
Fly to his aid in sharp distress;
In him the poor and helpless find
A judge that's just, a father kind.

4. He breaks the captive's heavy chain,
And pris'ners see the light again;
But rebels that dispute his will,
Shall dwell in chains and darkness still.

Pause.

6. Kingdoms and thrones to God belong;
Crown him, ye nations, in your song;
His wondrous names and pow'r rehearse;
His honors shall enrich your verse.

7. He
7. He shakes the heavens with loud alarms!
How terrible is God in arms!
In Israel are his mercies known,
Israel is his peculiar throne.

8. Proclaim him king, pronounce him blest
He's your defence, your joy, your rest:
When terrors rise and nations faint,
God is the strength of ev'ry saint.

PSALM LXVIII. 17, 18.

SECOND PART. Long Metre.

Christ's Ascension, and the gift of the Spirit.

Lord, when thou didst ascend on high,
Ten thousand angels fill'd the sky;
Those heav'nly guards around thee wait
Like chariots that attend thy state.

Not Sinah's mountain could appear,
More glorious when the Lord was there;
While he pronounced his dreadful law,
And struck the chosen tribes with awe.

How bright the triumph none can tell,
When the rebellious powers of hell,
That thousand souls had captives made,
Were all in chains like captives led.

Rais'd by his father to the throne,
He sent the promised Spirit down,
With gifts and grace for rebel men,
That God might dwell on earth again.

PSALM
PSALM LXVII.

PSALM LXVIII. 19, 9, 20,—22.

Third Part. Long Metre.

Praise for temporal Blessings; or, Common and special Mercies.

We bless the Lord, the just, the good,
Who fills our hearts with joy and food,
Who pours his blessings from the skies,
And loads our days with rich supplies.

2. He sends the sun his circuit round,
To cheer the fruits, to warm the ground;
He bids the clouds with plenteous rain
Refresh the thirsty earth again.

3. 'Tis to his care we owe our breath,
And all our near escapes from death:
Safety and health to God belong;
He heals the weak, and guards the strong.

4. He makes the faint and sinner prove
The common blessings of his love;
But the wide difference that remains,
Is endless joy, or endless pains.

5. The Lord that bruised the serpent's head,
On all the serpent's seed shall tread;
The stubborn sinner's hope confound,
And smite him with a lasting wound.

6. But his right hand his faints shall raise
From the deep earth and deeper seas;
And bring them to his courts above,
There shall they taste his special love.

PSALM
PSALM LXIX. 1,—14.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

The Sufferings of Christ for our Salvation.

SAVE me, O God, the swelling floods
Break in upon my soul:
I sink; and sorrows o'er my head
Like mighty waters roll.

2. I cry 'till all my voice be gone;
In tears I waste the day;
My God, behold my longing eyes,
And shorten thy delay.

3. They hate my soul without a cause;
And still their number grows
More than the hairs around my head,
And mighty are my foes.

4. 'Twas then I paid that dreadful debt
That men could never pay,
And gave those honors to thy law
Which sinners took away.

5. Thus in the great Messiah's name
The royal prophet mourns;
Thus he awakes our hearts to grief,
And gives us joys by turns.

6. Now shall the saints rejoice and find
Salvation in my name,
For I have borne their heavy load
Of sorrow, pain and shame.

7. Grief like a garment cloath'd me round;
And sackcloth was my dress,
While I procur'd for naked souls
A robe of righteousness.
8. Amongst my brethren and the Jews,
   I like a stranger stood,
   And bore their vile reproach to bring
   The Gentiles near to God.
9. I came in sinful mortals stead
   To do my Father's will;
   Yet when I cleans'd my father's house,
   They scandaliz'd my zeal.
10. My fasting and my holy groans
    Were made the drunkard's song:
    But God from his celestial throne
    Heard my complaining tongue.
11. He sav'd me from the dreadful deep,
    Nor let my soul be drown'd;
    He rais'd and fix'd my sinking feet
    On well establish'd ground.
12. 'Twas in a most accepted hour
    My pray'r arose on high,
    And for my sake my God shall hear
    The dying sinner's cry.

P S A L M  L X I X. 14—26, 29—32

Second Part. Common Metre.
The Passion and Exaltation of Christ.

NOW let our lips with holy fear
   And mournful pleasure sing
The suff'ring's of our great High Priest,
The sorrows of our King.
3. He sinks in floods of deep distress;
   How high the waters rise!
   While to his heav'nly Father's ear
   He sends perpetual cries.
Hear me, O Lord, and save thy Son,
Nor hide thy shining face;
Why should thy fav'rite look like one
Forsaken of thy grace?
With rage they persecute the man
That groans beneath thy wound,
While for a sacrifice I pour
My life upon the ground.
They tread my honor to the dust,
And laugh when I complain;
Their sharp insulting slanders add
Fresh anguish to my pain.
All my reproach is known to thee;
The scandal and the shame;
Reproach has broke my bleeding heart
And lies defile my name.
I look'd for pity, but in vain;
My kindred are my grief;
I ask my friends for comfort round,
But meet with no relief.
With vinegar they mock my thirst;
They give me gall for food;
And sporting with my dying groans,
They triumph in my blood.
Shine into my distressed soul,
Let thy compassion save;
And tho' my flesh sink down to death,
Redeem it from the grave.
I shall arise to praise thy name,
Shall reign in worlds unknown,
And thy salvation, O my God,
Shall seat me on thy throne.
PSALM LXIX. Third Part. Com. Metre.
CHRIST'S Obedience and Death; or, GOD glorified, and Sinners Saved.

FATHER, I sing thy wondrous grace,
I bless my Saviour's name,
He bought salvation for the poor,
And bore the sinner's shame.

2. His deep distress has rais'd us high,
His duty and his zeal
Fulfilled the law which mortals broke,
And finish'd all thy will.

3. His dying groans, his living songs,
Shall better please my God,
Than harp or trumpeter's solemn sound,
Than goats or bullocks blood.

4. This shall his humble followers see,
And set their hearts at rest;
They by his death draw near to thee,
And live forever blest.

5. Let heav'n and all that dwell on high,
To God their voices raise,
While lands and seas affist the sky,
And join to advance thy praise.

6. Zion is thine, most holy God;
Thy Son shall bless her gates;
And glory purchas'd by his blood,
For thy own Is'rél waits.

PSALM LXIX. First Part. Long Metre.
CHRIST'S Passion, and Sinners Salvation.

DEEP in our hearts let us record
The deeper sorrows of our Lord;
Behold the rising billows roll,
To overwhelm his holy soul.

2 In long complaints he spends his breath,
While hosts of hell, and pow'rs of death,
And all the sons of malice join
To execute their cruel design.

3 Yet, gracious God, thy pow'r and love
Has made the curse a blessing prove;
Those dreadful sufferings of thy son
Aton'd for sins which we had done.

4 The pangs of our expiring Lord
The honors of our law restor'd:
His sorrows made thy justice known,
And paid for follies not his own.

5 O for his sake our guilt forgive,
And let the mourning sinner live;
The Lord will hear us in his name,
Nor shall our hope be turn'd to shame:

Second Part. Long Metre.

Christ's Sufferings and Zeal.

'Twas for thy sake, eternal God,
Thy son sustain'd that heavy load:
Of base reproach and sore disgrace,
And shame defil'd his sacred face.

2 The Jews, his brethren and his kin,
Abus'd the man that check'd their sin:
While he fulfil'd thy holy laws,
They hate him but without a cause.

3 "My father's house, said he, was made
A place for worship, not for trade;"
Then scattering all their gold and brass,
He scourg'd the merchants from the place.

4. [Zeal for the temple of his God
Consum'd his life, expos'd his blood:
Reproaches at thy glory thrown
He felt and mourn'd them as his own.]

5. [His friends forsook, his follow'rs fled,
While foes and arms surround his head;
They curse him with a flound'rous tongue,
And the false judge maintains the wrong.]

6. His life they load with hateful lies,
And charge his lips with blasphemies:
They nail him to the shameful tree;
There hung the man that dy'd for me.

7. [Wretches with hearts as hard as stones
Insult his piety and groans;
Gall was the food they gave him there,
And mock'd his thirst with vinegar.]

8. But God beheld and from his throne
Marks out the men that hate his son;
The hand that rais'd him from the dead,
Shall pour due vengeance on their head.

PSALM LXXI. 5.—9.
FIRST PART. Common Metre.
The aged Saint's Reflection and Hope.

MY God my everlasting hope,
I live upon thy truth;
Thine hands have held my childhood up,
And strengthen'd all my youth.

2. My flesh was fashion'd by thy pow'r,
With all these limbs of mine,
And from my mother's painful hour,
I've been entirely thine.

3. Still has my life new wonders seen
Repeated ev'ry year;
Behold my days that yet remain,
I trust them to thy care.

4. Cast me not off when strength declines,
When hoary hairs arise;
And round me let thy glory shine,
When'er thy servant dies.

5. Then in the hist'ry of my age,
When men review my days,
They'll read thy love in ev'ry page;
In ev'ry line thy praise.

PSALM LXXI. 14.—16, 22,—24;
SECOND PART. Common Metre.

CHRIST our strength and righteousness.

1. MY Saviour, my Almighty friend,
When I begin thy praise,
Where will the growing numbers end,
The numbers of thy grace?

2. Thou art my everlasting trust,
Thy goodness I adore!
And since I knew thy graces first,
I speak thy glories more.

3. My feet shall travel all the length
Of the celestial road,
And march with courage in thy strength
To see my father God.

4. When I am fill'd with fore distress
For some surprising sin;
I'll plead thy perfect righteousness,
And mention none but thine.
5. How will my lips rejoice to tell
The vict'ries of my King!
Most from sin and hell,
Shall thy salvation sing.
6. My tongue shall all the day proclaim
My Saviour and my God,
His death has brought my foes to shame,
And drown'd them in his blood.
7. Awake, awake, my tuneful pow'rs;
With this delightful song
I'll entertain the darkest hours,
Nor think the season long.

PSALM LXXI. 17,—21.

THIRD PART. Common Metre.

The aged Christian's Prayer and Song; or,
Old Age, Death, and the Resurrection.

GOD of my childhood and my youth,
The guide of all my days,
I have declar'd thy heav'nly truth,
And told thy wond'rous ways.
2. Wilt thou for sake my hoary hairs,
And leave my fainting heart?
Who shall sustain my sinking years,
If God, my strength, depart?
3. Let me thy pow'rs and truth proclaim
To the surviving age,
And leave a favour of thy name
When I shall quit the stage.

4. The
The land of silence and of death
Attends my next remove;
May these poor remains of breath
Teach the wide world thy love.

Pause.
Thy righteousness is deep and high,
Unsearchable thy deeds;
By glory spreads beyond the sky,
And all my praise exceeds.
Oft have I heard thy threatenings roar,
And oft endur'd the grief;
But when thy hand has prest me sore,
Thy grace was my relief.
By long experience have I known
Thy sovereign pow'r to save;
At thy command I venture down
Securely to the grave.
When I lie bury'd deep in dust,
My flesh shall be thy care;
These with'ring limbs with thee I trust,
To raise them strong and fair.

PSALM LXXII.
First Part. Long Metre.
The Kingdom of Christ.

Great God, whose universal sway
The known and unknown worlds obey,
Now give the kingdom to thy Son,
And exalt his pow'r, exalt his throne.
Thy scepter well becomes his hands,
All heav'n submits to his commands;
His justice shall avenge the poor,
And pride and rage prevail no more.
3. With pow'rt he vindicates the just,
And treads th' oppressor in the dust;
His worship and his fear shall last,
'Till hours, and years, and time be past.
4. As rain on meadows newly mown,
So shall he send his influence down;
His grace on fainting souls distils,
Like heav'nly dew on thirsty hills.
5. The heathen lands that lie beneath
The shades of overspreading death,
Revive at his first dawning light,
And desert blossom at the sight.
6. The saints shall flourish in his days,
Drest in the robes of joy and praise;
Peace like a river from his throne
Shall flow to nations yet unknown.

SECOND PART. Long Metre.

CHRISt's KINGDOM AMONG THE GENTILES.

JESUS shall reign where'er the sun
Does his successive journeys run;
His kingdom stretch from shore to shore,
'Till moons shall wax and wane no more.
2. [Behold the lands with their kings,
And Europe her best tribute brings;
From north to south the princes meet
To pay their homage at his feet.
3. There Persia, glorious to behold;
There India shines in eastern gold;
and barbarous nations at his word
submit, and bow, and own their Lord.]
For him shall endless pray'r be made,
and Princes throng to crown his head;
His name like sweet perfume shall rise
With ev'ry morning sacrifice.
People and realms of ev'ry tongue
Dwell on his love with sweetest song;
And infant voices shall proclaim
Their early blessings on his name.
1. Blessings abound where'er he reigns;
The pris'ner leaps to loose his chains;
The weary find eternal rest,
And all the sons of want are blest.
2. Where he displays his healing pow'r,
Death and the curse are known no more;
In him the tribes of Adam boast
More blessings than their father lost.
3. Let ev'ry creature rise and bring
Peculiar honors to our King;
Angels descend with songs again,
And earth repeat the loud amen.

NOW I'm convinc'd the Lord is kind
To men of heart sincere,
Yet once my foolish thoughts repin'd,
And border'd on despair.

2. I griev'd to see the wicked thrive,
And spoke with angry breath,
"How pleasant and profane they live!
How peaceful is their death.

3. "With
PSALM LXXIII.

3. "With well fed flesh, and haughty eyes
   They lay their fears to sleep;
   Against the heav'n's their fanders rise,
   While saints in silence weep.

4. "In vain I lift my hands to pray,
   And cleanse my heart in vain;
   For I am chasten'd all the day,
   The nights renew my pain."

5. Yet while my tongue indulg'd complaints,
   I felt my heart reprove;
   Sure I shall thus offend thy saints
   And grieve the men I love.

6. But still I found my doubts too hard,
   The conflict too severe,
   Till I retir'd to search thy word,
   And learn thy secrets there.

7. There as in some prophetic glass
   I saw the sinner's feet,
   High mounted on a flipp'ry place,
   Beside a fl'ry pit.

8. I heard the wretch profanely boast,
   'Till at thy frown he fell;
   His honors in a dream were lost,
   And he awakes in hell.

9. Lord what an envious fool I was,
   How like a thoughtless beast!
   Thus to suspect thy promis'd grace,
   And think the wicked blest.

10. Yet I was keeps from soul despair,
    Upheld by pow'r unknown:
    That blessed hand that broke the snare,
    Shall guide me to thy throne.
PSALM LXXIII. 23—28.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

God our Portion, here and hereafter.

God. my supporter and my hope,
My help forever near,
Thine arm of mercy held me up
When sinking in despair.

Thy counsels, Lord, shall guide my feet
Thro' this dark wilderness;
Thine hand conduct me near thy fear,
To dwell before thy face.

Were I in heav'n without my God,
'Twould be no joy to me;
And whilst this earth is my abode,
I long for none but thee.

What if the springs of life were broke,
And flesh and heart should faint,
God is my soul's eternal rock,
The strength of ev'ry faint.

Behold the sinners that remove
Far from thy presence die;
Not all the idol gods they love
Can save them when they cry.

But to draw near to thee, my God,
Shall be my sweet employ;
My tongue shall sound thy works abroad,
And tell the world my joy.

PSALM LXXIII. 22, 3, 6, 17—20.

Long Metre.

The Prosperity of Sinners curs'd.

ORD, what a thoughtless wretch was I,
To mourn, and murmur, and repine,
PSALM LXXIII.

To see the wicked plac'd on high,
In pride and robes of honor shine!

2. But, O their end, their dreadful end!
Thy sanctuary taught me so:
On slip'ry rocks I see them stand,
And fiery billows roll below.

3. Now let them boast how tall they rise,
I'll never envy them again:
There they may stand with haughty eyes,
'Till they plunge deep in endless pain.

4. Their fancy'd joys how fast they fly!
Just like a dream when man awakes;
Their songs of softest harmony
Are but a presage to their plagues.

5. Now I esteem their mirth and wine,
Too dear to purchase with my blood:
Lord, 'tis enough that thou art mine,
My life, my portion and my God.

PSALM LXXIII. Short Metre

The Mystery of Providence unfolded.

1. SURE there's a righteous God,
Nor is religion vain,
Tho' men of vice may boast aloud,
And men of grace complain.

2. I saw the wicked rise,
And felt my heart repine,
While haughty fools with scornful eyes,
In robes of honor shine.

3. Pamper'd with wanton ease,
Their flesh looks full and fair.
Their wealth rolls in like flowing seas,
And grows without their care.

Free from the plagues and pains,
That pious souls endure,
Thro' all their life oppression reigns,
And racks the humble poor.

Their impious tongues blaspheme
The everlasting God;
Their malice blasts the good man's name;
And spreads their lies abroad.

But I with flowing tears
Indulg'd my doubts to rise;
Is there a God that sees or hears
"The things below the skies?"

The tumults of my thought
Held me in hard suspense,
Till to thy house my feet were brought
To learn thy justice thence.

Thy word with light and pow'r
Did my mistakes amend;
I viewed the sinner's life before,
But here I learnt their end.

On what a slip'ry steep
The thoughtless wretches go!
And O that dreadful fiery deep
That waits their fall below!

O, Lord, at thy feet we bow;
My thoughts no more repine:
call my God my portion now,
And all my pow'rs are thine.
Psalm LXXIV. Common Metre

The Church pleading with God under sore Persecution.

1. WILL God forever cast us off,
   His wrath forever smoke
Against the people of his love,
   His little chosen flock?
2. Think of the tribes to dearly bought
   With their redeemer's blood;
Nor let thy Sion be forgot,
   Where once thy glory flood.
3. Lift up thy feet and march in haste,
   Aloud our ruin calls;
See what a wide and fearful waste
   Is made within thy walls.
4. Where once thy churches pray'd and sang
   Thy foes profanely roar;
Over thy gates their ensigns hang,
   Sad tokens of their pow'r.
5. How are the seats of worship broke!
   They tear thy buildings down;
And he that deals the heaviest stroke,
   Procures the chief renown.
6. With flames they threaten to destroy
   Thy children in their nest;
   "Come let us burn at once, they cry,
   "The temple and the priest."
7. And still to heighten our distress,
   Thy presence is withdrawn;
Thy wondrous signs of pow'r and grace,
   Thy pow'r and grace are gone.
8. No prophet speaks to calm our woes,
   But all the seers mourn;
There's not a soul amongst us knows
   The time of thy return.

   Pause.

9. How long eternal God, how long
   Shall men of pride blaspheme?
Shall saints be made their endless song,
   And bear immortal shame?

10. Canst thou forever sit and hear
      Thine holy name profan'd?
And still thy jealousy to bear,
   And still withhold thine hand?

11. What strange deliverance hast thou shown,
      In ages long before!
And now no other God we own,
   No other God adore.

12. Thou didst divide the raging sea
      By thy resistless might,
To make thy tribes a wondrous way,
   And then secure their flight.

13. Is not the world of nature thine,
      The darkness and the day,
Didst not thou bid the morning shine,
   And mark the sun his way?

14. Hath not thy pow'r form'd ev'ry coast,
      And set the earth its bounds,
With summer's heat and winter's frost,
   In their perpetual rounds?

15. And shall the sons of earth and dust
      That sacred pow'r blaspheme?
Will not thy hand that form'd them first,
Avenge thine injur'd name?
16. Think on the cov'nant thou hast made,
And all thy words of love:
Nor let the birds of prey invade
And vex thy mourning dove.
17. Our foes would triumph in our blood,
And make our hope their jest:
Plead thy own cause, almighty God,
And give thy children rest.

Psalm LXXV. Long Metre:

Power and Government from God alone.

Applied to the glorious Revolution by King
William, or the happy Accession of King
George I. to the Throne.

To thee most holy and most high,
To thee we bring our thankful praise.
Thy works declare thy name is nigh,
Thy works of wonder and of grace.

2. Britain was doom'd to be a slave,
Her frame dissolv'd, her fears were great;
When God a new supporter gave,
To bear the pillars of the state.

3. He from thy hand receiv'd his crown,
And swear to rule by wholesome laws;
His foot shall tread th' oppressor down,
His arms defend the righteous cause.

4. Let haughty sinners sink their pride,
Nor lift so high their scornful head;
But lay their foolish thoughts aside,
And own the king that God hath made.
5. Such honors never come by chance,
Nor do the winds promotion blow;
’Tis God the judge doth one advance,
’Tis God that lays another low,
6. No vain pretence to royal birth,
Shall fix a tyrant on the throne;
God, the great sov’reign of the earth,
Will rise and make his justice known.

7. [His hand holds out the dreadful cup
Of vengeance mix’d with various plagues,
To make the wicked drink them up,
Wring out and taste the bitter dregs.

8. Now shall the Lord exalt the just;
And while he tramples on the proud,
And lays their glory in the dust,
My lips shall sing his praise aloud.]

P S A L M LXXVI. Common Metre.
Israel saved, and the Assyrians destroyed; or,
GOD’s Vengeance against his Enemies proceeds from his Church.

1. IN Judah God of old was known;
His name in Israel great;
In Salem stood his holy throne,
And Sion was his seat.

2. Among the praises of his saints,
His dwelling there he chose;
There he receiv’d their just complaints
Against their haughty foes.

3. From Zion went his dreadful word,
And broke the threat’ning spear.
The bow, the arrows, and the sword,
And crush'd th' Assyrian war.

4. What are the earth's wide kingdoms else
But mighty hills of prey?
The hill on which Jehovah dwells
Is glorious more than they.

5. 'Twas Zion's King that stopp'd the breath
Of Captains and their bands:
The men of might slept fast in death,
And never found their hands.

6. At thy rebuke, O Jacob's God,
Both horse and chariot fell:
Who knows the terrors of thy rod?
Thy vengeance who can tell.

7. What pow'r can stand before thy sight,
When once thy wrath appears?
When heav'n shines round with dreadful light
The earth lies still and fears.

8. When God in his own sov'reign ways
Comes down to save th' opprest,
The wrath of man shall work his praise,
And he'll restrain the rest.

9. Vow to the Lord, and tribute bring;
Ye princes fear his frown;
His terror shakes the proudest king,
And cuts an army down.

10. The thunder of his sharp rebuke
Our haughty foes shall feel;
For Jacob's God hath not forsook,
But dwells in Zion still.
PSALM LXXVII.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

_Melancholy assaulting, and Hope prevailing._

TO God I cry'd with mournful voice,
I sought his gracious ear,
In the sad day when troubles rose
And fill'd the night with fear.

1. Sad were my days, and dark my nights,
   My soul refus'd relief;
   I thought on God, the just and wise,
   But tho' its encreas'd my grief.

2. Still I complain'd, and still opprest,
   My heart began to break;
   My God thy wrath forbad my rest,
   And kept my eyes awake.

3. My overwhelming sorrows grew 'Till I could speak no more;
   Then I within myself withdrew,
   And call'd thy judgments o'er.

4. I call'd back years and ancient times When I beheld thy face;
   My spirit search'd for secret crimes That might withhold thy grace.

5. I call'd thy mercies to my mind, Which I enjoy'd before;
   And will the Lord no more be kind, His face appear no more ?

6. Will he forever cast me off, His promise ever fail;
   Has he forgot his tender love ? Shall anger still prevail ?

7. Shall anger still prevail ?
9. I'll think again of all thy ways,
    And talk thy wonders o'er;
Thy wonders of recov'ring grace,
    When flesh could help no more.
10. Grace dwells with justice on the throne;
    And men that love thy word,
Have in thy sanctuary known,
    The counsels of the Lord.

PSALM LXXVII.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

Comfort derived from ancient Providences; or,
Israel delivered from Egypt, and brought to Canaan.

" HOW awfull is thy chastning rod!"
    (May thine own children say)
The great, the wise the dreadful God!
" How holy is his way!"
2. I'll meditate his works of old;
The king that reigns above,
I'll hear his ancient wonders told,
    And learn to trust his love.
3. Long did the house of Joseph lie
    With Egypt's yoke opprest;
Long he delay'd to hear their cry,
    Nor gave his people rest.
4. The sons of good old Jacob seem'd
    Abandon'd to their foes;
But his almighty arm redeem'd
    The nation that he chose.
5. If 'el his people and his sheep,
    Must follow where he calls:
He bids them venture thro' the deep,
And makes the waves their walls.

6. The waters saw thee mighty God!
The waters saw thee come;
Backward they fled, and frightened God,
To make thine armies room.

7. Strange was thy journey thro' the sea;
Thy footsteps, Lord, unknown:
Terrors attend the wondrous way,
That brings thy mercies down.

8. [Thy voice, with terror in the sound,
Thro' clouds and darkness broke,
All heav'n in light'ning shone around,
And earth with thunder shook.

9. Thine arrows thro' the skies were hurl'd;
How glorious is the Lord!
Surprise and trembling seiz'd the world,
And his own saints ador'd.

10. He gave them water from the rock;
And safe by Moses' hand
Thro' a dry desert led his flock,
Home to the promis'd land.]
2. He bids us make his glories known:
   His works of power and grace,
   And we'll convey his wonders down
   Thro' ev'ry rising race.

3. Our lips shall tell them to our sons,
   And they again to their's,
   That generations yet unborn
   May teach them to their heirs.

4. Thus shall they learn in God alone
   Their hope securely stands,
   That they may ne'er forget his works,
   But practice his commands.

P S A L M LXXVIII.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

Israel's Rebellion and Punishment; or, The Sins
   and Commands of God's People.

WHAT a stiff rebellious house
   Was Jacob's ancient race!
   Fail to their own most solemn vows,
   And to their maker's grace.

2. They broke the covenant of his love,
   And did his laws despite.
   Forgot the works he wrought to prove
   His power before their eyes.

3. They saw the plagues on Egypt light,
   From his revenging hand;
   What dreadful tokens of his might
   Spread o'er the stubborn land!

4. They saw him cleave the mighty sea,
   And march'd in safety thro'.
With warry walls to guard their way,
Till they had 'scap'd the fire.
A wondrous pillar mark'd the road,
Compos'd of shade and light;
By day it prov'd a sheltering cloud,
And leading fire by night.

He from the rock their thirst supply'd;
The gushing waters fell,
And ran in rivers by their side,
A constant miracle.

Yet they provok'd the Lord most high,
And dare'd distrust his hand;
Can he with bread our host supply
"Amidst this delat land."

The Lord with indignation heard,
And caus'd his wrath to flame;
His terrors ever stand prepar'd
To vindicate his name.

PSALM LXXVIII:
Third Part. Common Metre.

WHEN his sins the Lord reproves
And fills their hearts with dread;
Yet he forgives the men he loves,
And sends them heavenly bread.
He fed them with a liberal hand,
And made his treasures known;
He gave the midnight clouds command
To pour provision down.
3. The manna like a morning show'r,
    Lay thick around their feet;
The corn of heav'n so light, so pure,
    As tho' 'twere Angels meat.

4. But they in murm'ring language said,
    "Manna is all our feast,
    "We loathe this light this airy bread;
    "We must have flesh to taste."

5. "Ye shall have flesh to please your lust,"
The Lord in wrath reply'd;
And sent them quails, like sand or dust,
    Heap'd up from side to side.

6. He gave them all their own desire;
    And greedy as they fed,
His vengeance burnt with secret fire,
    And imote the rebels dead.

7. When some were slain the rest return'd
    And sought the Lord with tears;
Under the rod they fear'd and mourn'd,
    But soon forgot their fears.

8. Oft he chastis'd, and still forgave
    Till by his gracious hand
The nation he resolv'd to save
    Possess the promis'd land.

PSALM LXXVIII. 32, &c. Long Metre.

Backsliding and Forgiveness; or, Sin punished and Saints saved.

GREAT God, how oft did Is'r el prove
    By turns thine anger and thy love?
There in a glass our hearts may see
How fickle and how false they be.
How soon the faithless Jews forgot
the dreadful wonders God had wrought?

When they provoke him to his face,
or fear his pow'r nor trust his grace.

The Lord consum'd their years in pain,
and made their travels long and vain;

Tedious march thro' unknown ways
fore out their strength, and spent their days.

Oft when they saw their brethren slain,
they mourn'd and sought the Lord again;

Call'd him the rock of their abode,
their high Redeemer, and their God.

Their prayers and vows before him rise,
as flattering words, or solemn lies,

While their rebellious tempers prove false to his covenant and his love.

Yet did his lov'reign grace forgive
the men who not deserve'd to live;

His anger oft away he turn'd,
or else with gentle flame it burn'd.

He saw their flesh was weak and frail,
he saw temptations still prevail;

The God of Abra'am lov'd them still,
and led them to his holy hill.

P S A L M LXXX. Long Metre:

The Church's Prayer under Affliction; or, The Vineyard of God wasted.

GREAT shepherd of thine Israel,
Who dost between the cherubs dwell,
And ledst the tribes thy chosen sheep,

Silh thro' the desert and the deep.
2. Thy church is in the desart now:
Shine from on high, and guide us thro';
Turn us to thee, thy love restore,
We shall be fav'd and sith no more.

3. Great God, whom hean'ly hosts obe;
How long shall we lament and pray,
And wait in vain thy kind return?
How long shall thy fierce anger burn?

4. Instead of wine and cheerful bread,
Thy saints with their own tears are fed;
Turn us to thee thy love restore,
We shall be fav'd; and sith no more.

PAUSE I.

5. Hast thou not planted with thy hand,
A lovely vine in heathen lands?
Did not thy pow'r defend it round,
And hean'ly dews enrich the ground?

6. How did the spreading branches shoo
And bless the nations with the fruit!
But now, dear Lord, look down and see
Thy mourning vine that lovely tree.

7. Why is its beauty thus defac'd?
Why hast thou laid her fences waste?
Strangers and foes against her join,
And ev'ry beast devours thy vine.

8. Return, almighty God, return,
Nor let thy bleeding vineyard mourn:
Turn us to thee, thy love restore:
We shall be fav'd, and sith no more.

PAUSE II.

9. Lord when this vine in Canaan grew,
Thou wert its strength and glory too!
PSALM LXXX.

attack'd in vain by all its foes,
'till the fair branch of promise rose.

7. Fair branch ordain'd of old to shoot from David's stock, from Jacob's root;
imself a noble vine, and we,
he lesser branches of the tree,

8. 'Tis thy own son, and he shall stand
first with thy strength at thy right hand;
ye first-born son, adorn'd and blest
with pow'r and grace above the rest.

9. O! for his sake attend our cry,
tune on thy churches least they die;
earn us to thee, thy love restore:
we shall be sav'd, and sigh no more.

PSALM LXXXI. 1, 8—16. Short Metre.

be Warnings of God to his People; or, Spiritual Blessings and Punishments.

SING to the Lord aloud,
And make a joyful noise;
God is our strength, our Saviour God;
Let Israel hear his voice.

"From vile idolatry.
"Preserve my worship clean;
I am the Lord who set thee free
From slavery and sin.

"Stretch thy desires abroad,
"And I'll supply them well;
But if you will refuse your God,
"If Israel will rebel;
"I'll leave them faith the Lord;
"To their own lusts a prey,
And let them run the dangerous road,
'Tis their own chosen way.

Yet, O! that all my saints,
Would hearken to my voice!
Soon I would ease their sore complaints,
And bid their hearts rejoice.

While I destroy their foes,
I'd richly feed my flock,
And they should taste the stream that flow
From their eternal rock.'

PSALM LXXXII.

AMONG the assemblies of the great,
A greater ruler takes his seat;
The God of heav'n as judge, surveys
Those Gods on earth, and all their ways.

Why will ye then frame wicked laws?
Or why support th' unrighteous cause?
When will ye once defend the poor,
That sinners vex the faint no more?

They know not, Lord, nor will they know
Dark are the ways in which they go;
Their name of earthly Gods is vain,
For they shall fall and die like men.

Arise, O Lord, and let thy son
Possess his universal throne,
And rule the nations with his rod;
He is our judge and he our God.
AND will the God of grace
Perpetual silence keep?
He God of justice hold his peace;
And let his vengeance sleep.
Behold what cursed snares,
The men of mischief spread;
The men that hate thy saints and thee,
Lift up their threat'ning head.
Against thy hidden ones
Their counsels they employ,
And malice, with a watchful eye,
Persues them to destroy.
The noble and the base,
Into thy pastures leap;
The lion and the stupid ass,
Conspire to vex thy sheep.
"Come let us join they cry,
"To root them from the ground,
Till not the name of saints remain,
"Nor mem'ry to be found."
Awake, almighty God,
And call thy wrath to mind;
Ve them like forests to the fire,
Or stubble to the wind.
Convince their madness, Lord;
And make them seek thy name;
Else their stubborn rage confound,
That they may die in shame.
8. Then shall the nations know
That glorious dreadful word,
Jehovah is thy name alone,
And thou the sovereign Lord.

PSALM LXXXIV.

FIRST PART. Long Metre.
The Pleasure of public Worship.

HOW pleasant, how divinely fair,
O Lord of hosts, thy dwellings are!
With long desire my spirit saints,
To meet the assemblies of thy saints.

2. My flesh would rest in thine abode,
My panting heart cries out for God;
My God! my King! why should I be
So far from all my joys and thee?

3. The sparrow chuses where to rest,
And for her young provides her nest;
But will my God to sparrows grant
That pleasure which his children want?

4. Blest are the saints who sit on high,
Around thy throne of majesty;
Thy brightest glories shine above,
And all their work is praise and love.

5. Blest are the souls that find a place
Within the temple of thy grace;
There they behold thy gentler rays,
And seek thy face, and learn thy praise.

6. Blest are the men whose hearts are set
To find the way to Zion's gate.
God is their strength, and, thro' the road,
They lean upon their helper, God.

7. Cheerful they walk with growing strength,
'Till all shall meet in heav'n at length:
'Till all before thy face appear,
And join in noble worship there.

PSALM LXXXIV.
SECOND PART. Long Metre.

GREAT God attend, while Zion sings
The joy that from thy presence springs;
To spend one day with thee on earth,
Exceeds a thousand days of mirth.

2. Might I enjoy the meanest place
Within thine house, O God of grace;
Not tents of ease, nor thrones of pow'r,
Should tempt my feet to leave thy door.

3. God is our sun, he makes our day;
God is our shield, he guards our way,
From all th' assaults of hell and sin,
From foes without and foes within.

4. All needful grace will God bestow,
And crown that grace with glory too;
He gives us all things, and withholds
No real good from upright souls.

5. O God, our King, whose sov'reign sway,
The glorious hosts of heav'n obey,
And devils at thy presence flee;
Blest is the man that trusts in thee.
PSALM LXXXIV.

1.-4, 10.

Delight in Ordinances of Worship; or, GOD present in his Churches.

My soul, how lovely is the place
To which thy God resorts!
Tis heav’n to see his smiling face,
Tho’ in his earthly courts.

2. There the great Monarch of the skies
His saving pow’r displays,
And light breaks in upon our eyes
With kind and quick’ning rays.

3. With his rich gifts the heav’nly dove
Descends and fills the place,
While Christ reveals his wond’rous love,
And sheds abroad his grace.

4. Thee, mighty God, thy words declare
The secrets of thy will;
And still we seek thy mercy there
And sing thy praises still.

PAUSE.

5. My heart and flesh cry out for thee,
While far from thine abode;
When shall I tread thy courts, and see
My Saviour and my God?

6. The sparrow builds herself a nest,
And suffers no remove;
O make me like the sparrows, blest,
To dwell but where I love.

7. To sit one day beneath thine eye,
And hear thy gracious voice,
Exceeds a whole eternity
  Employ'd in carnal joys.

8. LORD, at thy threshold I would wait,
  While Jesus is within,
Rather than fill a throne of state,
  Or live in tents of sin.

9. Could I command the spacious land,
  And the more boundless sea,
For one blest hour at thy right hand,
  I'd give them both away.

PSALM LXXXIV. As the 148th Psalm.

Longing for the House of GOD.

LORD of the worlds above,
  How pleasant and how fair
The dwellings of thy love,
  Thy earthly temples are!
To thine abode
  My heart aspires,
With warm desires
  To see my God.

2. The sparrow for her young
With pleasure seeks her nest;
  And wand'ring swallows long
To find their wonted rest:
  My spirit faints
With equal zeal
  To rise and dwell
Among thy saints.

3. O happy souls that pray
Where God appoints to hear
  O happy men that pay
Their constant service there!
They praise thee still;
And happy they
That love the way
To Zion's hill.

4. They go from strength to strength
Thro' this dark vale of tears,
'Till each arrives at length,
'Till each in heav'n appears:
O glorious seat,
When God our King
Shall thither bring
Our willing feet!

5. To spend one sacred day
Where God and saints abide,
Affords diviner joy
Than thousand days beside:
Where God resorts,
I love it more
To keep the door,
Than shine in courts.

6. God is our sun and shield,
Our light and our defence;
With gifts his hands are fill'd;
We draw our blessings thence:
He shall bestow
On Jacob's race
Peculiar grace
And glory too.

7. The Lord his people loves;
His hand no good withholds.
PSALM LXXXV.

From those his heart approves,
From pure and pious souls.
Thrice happy he,
O God of hosts,
Whose spirit trusts
Alone in thee.

PSALM LXXXV. First Part. Long Metre.
Waiting for an Answer to Prayer; or, Deliverance begun and completed.

LORD thou hast call'd thy grace to mind,
Thou hast revealed our heavy doom;
So God forgave when Is'iel sinn'd,
And brought his wand'ring captives home.

2. Thou hast begun to set us free,
And made thy fiercest wrath abate;
Now let our hearts be turn'd to thee,
And thy salvation be compleat.

3. Revive our dying graces, Lord,
And let thy saints in thee rejoice;
Make known thy truth, fulfil thy word;
We wait for praise to tune our voice.

4. We wait to hear what God will say;
He'll speak, and give his people peace;
But let them run no more amiss,
Left his returning wrath increas'd.

PSALM LXXXV. 9, 8c.

Second Part. Long Metre.

Salvation by CHRIST.

SALVATION is forever nigh
The souls that fear and trust the Lord:
And grace, descending from on high,
FRESH hopes of glory shall afford.

2. Mercy and truth on earth are met,
Since Christ the Lord came down from heav'n
By his obedience so compleat,
Justice is pleas'd, and peace is giv'n.

3. Now truth and honor shall abound,
Religion dwell on earth again,
And heav'nly influence bless the ground,
In our Redeemer's gentle reign.

4. His righteousness is gone before,
To give us free access to God;
Our wan'dring feet shall stray no more,
But mark his steps, and keep the road.

PSALM LXXXVI 8—13. Common Metre:

A general Song of Praise to GOD.

AMONG the princes, earthy Gods,
There's none hath pow'r divine;
Nor is their nature, mighty Lord,
Nor all their works like thine.

2. The nations thou hast made, shall bring
Their off'ring round thy throne;
For thou alone dost wondrous things,
For thou art God alone.

3. Lord, I would walk with holy feet;
Teach me thine heav'nly ways;
And my poor scatter'd thoughts unite
In God my Father's praise.

4. Great is thy mercy, and my tongue
Shall those sweet wonders tell,
How by thy grace my sinking soul
Rose from the deeps of hell.

PSALM
PSALM LXXXVII. Long Metre.

The Church the Birth-Place of the Saints; or, Jews and Gentiles united in the Christian Church.

GOD in his earthly temple lays
Foundations for his heav'ly praise;
He likes the tents of Jacob well,
But still in Zion loves to dwell.

2. His mercy visits ev'ry house
That pays their night and morning vows;
But makes a more delightful stay
Where churches meet to praise and pray.

3. What glories were describ'd of old?
What wonders are of Zion told?
Thou city of our God below,
Thy fame shall Tyre and Egypt know.

4. Egypt and Tyre, and Greek and Jew,
Shall there begin their lives anew;
Angels and men shall join to sing
The hill where living waters spring.

5. When God makes up his last account
Of natives in his holy mount,
'Twill be an honor to appear
As one new-born, or nourish'd there!

PSALM LXXXIX. Long Metre.

The Covenant made with Christ; or, The true David.

FOREVER shall my song record
The truth and mercy of the Lord;
Mercy and truth forever stand,
Like heav'n establish'd by his hand.
2. "Thus to his Son he swor, and said,
   "With thee my cov'nant first is made;
   "In thee shall dying sinners live,
   "Glory and grace are thine to give.
3. "Be thou my prophet, thou my priest;
   "Thy children shall be ever blest;
   "Thou art my chosen king: Thy throne
   "Shall stand eternal like my own,
4. "There's none of all my sons above
   "So much my image or my love;
   "Celestial powers thy subjects are;
   "Then what can earth to thee compare?
5. "David, my servant, whom I chose
   "To guard my flock, to crush my foes,
   "And rais'd him to the Jewish throne,
   "Was but a shadow of my Son."
6. Now let the church rejoice and sing
   Jesus her Saviour and her King:
   Angels his heav'nly wonders show,
   And saints declare his works below.

P S A L M LXXXIX.
Second Part. Long Metre.
Mortality and Hope.
A Funeral Psalm.

REMEMBER, Lord, our mortal state,
How frail our life, How short the date?
Where is the man that draws his breath
Safe from decease, secure from death.
2. Lord, while we see whole nations die,
   Our flesh and sense repine and cry, "Must
Psalm LXXXIX.

First Part. Common Metre.

The faithfulness of God.

MY never-ceasing songs shall show
The mercies of the Lord,
And make succeeding ages know
How faithful is his word.
1. The sacred truths his lips pronounce
Shall firm as heav'n endure:
And if he speak a promise once,
Th' eternal grace is sure.
2. How long the race of David held
The promised Jewish throne!
But there's a nobler cov'nant seal'd
To David's greater Son.
3. His seed forever shall possess
A throne above the skies:
The meanest subject of his grace
Shall to that glory rise.
4. Lord God of hosts thy wondrous ways
Are sung by saints above;
And
And saints on earth their honors raise
To thy unchanging love.

PSALM LXXXIX 7, &c.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

The Power and Majesty of GOD; or, Reverential Worship.

WITH rev'rence let the saints appear
And bow before the Lord;
His high commands with rev'rence hear,
And tremble at his word.

2. How terrible thy glories be!
How bright thine armies shine!
Where is the pow'r that vies with thee?
Or truth compar'd with thine?

3. The northern pole and southern rest
On thy supporting hand;
 Darkness and day from east to west
Move round at thy command.

4. Thy words the raging wind control,
And rule the boist'rous deep;
 Thou mak'ld the sleeping billows roll,
The rolling billows sleep.

5. Heav'n, earth, and air, and sea are thine,
And the dark world of hell;
How did thine arm in vengeance shine,
When Egypt durst rebel!

6. Justice and judgment are thy throne,
Yet wond'rous is thy grace;
While truth and mercy join'd in one
Invite us near thy face.

PSALM
BLEST are the souls that hear and know
The gospel's joyful sound;
Peace shall attend the path they go,
And light their steps surround.

2. Their joy shall bear their spirits up,
Thro' their Redeemer's name;
His righteousness exalts their hope,
Nor Satan dares condemn.

3. The Lord our glory and defence,
Strength and salvation gives:
Israel thy King forever reigns,
Thy God forever lives.

Hear what the Lord in vision said,
And made his mercy known:
"Sinners, behold, your help is laid
"On my almighty Son."

2. Behold the man my wisdom chose
Among your mortal race;
His head my holy oil o'erflows,
The spirit of my grace.

3. High shall he reign on David's throne,
My people's better king;
Psalm LXXXIX.

My arm shall beat his rivals down,
   And still new subjects bring.
4. My truth shall guard him in his way,
   With mercy by his side,
While in my name thro' earth and sea
He shall in triumph ride.
5. Me for his father and his God
He shall forever own,
Call me his rock, his high abode;
   And I'll support my son
6. My first born son array'd in grace,
   At my right hand shall sit;
Beneath him angels know their place,
   And monarchs at his feet,
7. My covenant stands forever fast;
   My promises are strong;
Firm as the heav'n's his throne shall last,
   His seed endure as long.

Psalm LXXXIX. 30, &c.

FIFTH PART. Common Metre.

The Covenant of Grace unchangeable; or, Afflictions without Rejection.

Yet, faith the Lord, if David's race,
The children of my son,
Should break my laws, abuse my grace,
   And tempt mine anger down;
2. Their sins I'll visit with the rod,
   And make their folly smart;
But I'll not cease to be their God,
   Nor from my truth depart.
My cov'nant I will ne'er revoke,
But keep my grace in mind;
And what eternal love hath spoke,
Eternal truth shall bind.

Once have I sworn (I need no more)
And pledg'd my holiness,
To seal the sacred promise safe
To David and his race.

The sun shall see his offspring rise,
And spread from sea to sea,
Long as he travels round the skies,
To give the nations day.

Sure as the moon that rules the night,
His kingdom shall endure,
Till the fix'd laws of shade and light
Shall be observ'd no more.

THINK, mighty God, on feeble man;
How few his hours! how short his span!
Short from the cradle to the grave:
Who can secure his vital breath
Against the bold demands of death,
With skill to fly or pow'r to save?
Lord shall it be forever said,
The race of man was only made
"For sickness, sorrow, and the dust?"
3. Haft thou not promis'd to thy son,
And all his seed a heav'nly crown?
But flesh and sense indulge despair;
For ever blessed be the Lord,
That faith can read his holy word,
And find a resurrection there.

4. Forever blessed be the Lord,
Who gives his saints a long reward
For all their toil, reproach and pain;
Let all below and all above,
Join to proclaim thy wond'rous love,
And each repeat a loud amen.

PSALM XC. Long Metre.

Man mortal and God eternal.

A mournful Song at a Funeral.

THRO' ev'ry age eternal God,
Thou art our rest, our safe abode;
High was thy throne e'er heav'n was made,
Or earth thy humble footstool laid.

2. Long hadst thou reign'd e'er time began,
Or dust was fashion'd into man;
And long thy kingdom shall endure,
When earth and time shall be no more.

3. But man, weak man, is born to die,
Made up of guilt and vanity:
Thy dreadful sentence, Lord was just,
"Return ye sinners to your dust."

4. [A thousand of our years amount,
Scarce to a day in thine account;
Like yesterdays departed light,
Or the last watch of ending night.
5. Death like an overflowing stream
Sweeps us away; our life's a dream;
An empty tale; a morning flow'r,
Cut down and wither'd in an hour.

6. (Our age to seventy years is set;
How short the term! how frail the state!
And if to eighty we arrive,
We rather sigh and groan than live.

7. But O how oft thy wrath appears,
And cuts off our expected years!
Thy wrath awakes our humble dread;
We fear the pow'r that strikes us dead.

8. Teach us, O Lord, how frail is man;
And kindly lengthen out our span,
Till a wise care of piety
Fit us to die and dwell with thee.

PSALM XC. 1—5.
FIRST PART. Common Metre.

Man frail, and God eternal.

Our God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home.

Under the shadow of thy throne
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth receiv'd her frame,
From everlasting thou art God,
To endless years the same.

4. Thy word commands our flesh to dust,
   "Return, ye sons of men:"
All nations rose from earth at first,
And turn to earth again.

5. A thousand ages in thy sight
   Are like an evening gone;
Short as the watch that ends the night,
Before the rising sun.

6. [The busy tribes of flesh and blood,
   With all their lives and cares,
Area carried downwards by the flood,
And lost in following years.

7. Time like an ever rolling stream,
   Bears all its sons away;
They fly forgotten, as a dream
Dies at the op'ning day.

8. Like flow'ry fields the nations stand,
   Pleased with the morning light;
The flow'rs beneath the mower's hand
Lie with'ring ere 'tis night.]

9. Our God our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home.

PSALM XC. 8, 11, 9, 10, 12.
SECOND PART. Common Mere.
Infirmitics and Mortality the Effect of Sin;
Life old age, and Preparation for Death.

ORD, if thine eyes survey our faults,
   And justice grows severe,
From everlasting thou art God,
To endless years the same.

4. Thy word commands our flesh to dust,
   "Return, ye sons of men:"
All nations rose from earth at first,
   And turn to earth again.

5. A thousand ages in thy sight
   Are like an ev'ning gone;
Short as the watch that ends the night,
   Before the rising sun.

6. [The busy tribes of flesh and blood,
   With all their lives and cares,
Are carry'd downwards by the flood,
   And lost in following years.

7. Time like an ever-rolling stream,
   Bears all its sons away;
They fly forgotten as a dream
   Dies at the op'ning day.

8. Like flow'ry fields the nations stand,
   Pleas'd with the morning-light;
The flow'rs beneath the mower's hand
   Lie with'ring e'er 'tis night.]

9. Our God, our help in ages past,
   Our hope for years to come,
Be thou our guard while troubles last,
   And our eternal home.

P S A L M X C. 11, 9, 10, 12.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

Infirmities and Mortality the Effect of Sin; or,
Life, Old Age, and preparation for Death.

ORD, if thine eyes survey our faults,
   And justice grows severe,

Thy
Thy dreadful wrath exceeds our thoughts,
   And burns beyond our fear.
2. Thine anger turns our frame to dust;
   By one offence to thee,
Adam, with all his sons, have lost
   Their immortality.
3. Life, like a vain amusement flies,
   A fable or a song:
By swift degrees our nature dies,
   Nor can our joys be long.
4. 'Tis but a few whose days amount
   To threescore years and ten;
And all beyond that short account
   Is sorrow, toil and pain.
5. [Our vitals with laborious strife
   Bear up the crazy load,
And drag those poor remains of life
   Along the tiresome road.]
6. Almighty God, reveal thy love,
   And not thy wrath alone;
O let our sweet experience prove
   The mercies of thy throne.
7. Our souls would learn the heav'nly art
   T' improve the hours we have,
That we may act the wiser part,
   And live beyond the grave.

Psalm XC. 13, &c.

Third Part. Common Metre.

Breathing after Heaven.

Return, O God of love return;
   Earth is a tiresome place:
   How
How long shall we thy children mourn
Our absence from thy face;
2. Let heav'n succeed our painful years;
Let sin and sorrow cease;
And in proportion to our tears,
So make our joys increase.
3. Thy wonders to thy servants show;
Make thy own work complete;
Then shall our souls thy glory know,
And own thy love is great.
4. Then shall we shine before thy throne
In all thy beauty, Lord;
And the poor service we have done
Meet a divine reward.

P S A L M XC. 5, 10, 12

Short Metre.

The frailty, and shortness of Life.

L ORD, what a feeble piece
Is this our mortal frame?
Our life, how poor a trifle 'tis,
That scarce deserves the name!
2. Alas the brittle clay
That built our body first!
And ev'ry month, and ev'ry day,
'Tis mould'ring back to dust.
3. Our moments fly apace,
Nor will our minutes stay:
Just like a flood our hasty days
Are sweeping us away.

Q.2

W ell,
4. Well, if our days must fly,
   We'll keep their end in sight,
   We'll spend them all in wisdom's way,
   And let them speed their flight.

5. They'll wait us sooner o'er
   This life's tempestuous sea:
   Soon we shall reach the peaceful shore
   Of blest eternity.

PSALM XCI.

1-7. Long Metre.

Safety in public Diseases and Dangers.

He that hath made his refuge God,
   Shall find a most secure abode;
   Shall walk all day beneath his shade,
   And there at night shall rest his head.

2. Then will I say, "my God, thy pow'r
   Shall be my fortress and my tow'r:
   "I, that am form'd of feeble dust,
   "Make thine almighty arm my trust."

3. Thrice happy man! thy maker's care
   Shall keep thee from the fowler's snare;
   Satan the fowler, who betrays
   Unguarded souls a thousand ways.

4. Just as a hen protects her brood
   From birds of prey that seek their blood,
   Under her feathers; so the Lord
   Makes his own arm his people's guard.

5. If burning beams of noon conspire
   To dart a pestilential fire,
   God is their life, his wings are spread,
   To shield them with a healthful shade.
6. If vapours with malignant breath
Rise thick, and scatter midnight death,
Ifrael is safe: the poison'd air
Grows pure, if Ifrael's God be there.

7. What tho' a thousand at thy side,
At thy right hand ten thousand dy'd,
Thy God his chosen people saves
Amongst the dead, amidst the graves.

8. So when he sent his angel down
To make his wrath in Egypt known,
And slew their sons, his careful eye
Past all the doors of Jacob by.

9. But if the fire, or plague, or sword,
Receive commission from the Lord
To strike his faints among the rest,
Their very pains and deaths are blest.

10. The sword, the pestilence or fire,
Shall but fulfill their best desire;
From sins and sorrows set them free;
And bring thy children, Lord, to thee;

PSALM XCLI. 9—16. Common Metre
Protection from Death, Guard of Angels, Victory and Deliverance.

Ye sons of men, a feeble race,
Exposed to ev'ry snare,
Come, make the Lord your dwelling-place,
And try and trust his care.

2. No ill shall enter where you dwell;
Or if the plague come nigh,
And sweep the wicked down to hell,
'Twill raise his saints on high.
3. He'll give his angels charge to keep
Your feet in all your ways;
To watch your pillow while you sleep,
And guard your happy days.
4. Their hands shall bear you left you fall,
And dash against the stones:
Are they not servants at his call,
And sent to attend his sons?
5. Adders and lions ye shall tread:
The tempter's wiles defeat;
He that hath broke the serpent's head,
Puts him beneath your feet.
6. "Because on me they set their love,
"I'll save them, saith the Lord;
"I'll bear their joyful souls above
"Destruction and the sword.
7. "My grace shall answer when they call;
"In trouble I'll be nigh:
"My pow'r shall help them when they fall,
"And raise them when they die.
8. "Those that on earth my name have known
"I'll honor them in heav'n;
"There my salvation shall be shown,
"And endless life be giv'n."

PSALM XCII.

FIRST PART. Long Metre.

A Psalm for the LORD's Day.

SWEET is the work, my God, my king,
To praise thy name, give thanks and sing,
To shew thy love by morning-light,
And talk of all thy truth at night.

2. Sweet is the day of sacred rest,
No mortal cares shall seize my breast:
O may my heart in tune be found,
Like Davids harp of solemn found!

3. My heart shall triumph in my Lord,
And bless his works, and bless his word;
Thy works of grace how bright they shine!
How deep thy counsels! how divine!

4. Fools never raise their thoughts so high;
Like brutes they live, like brutes they die;
Like grass they flourish, till thy breath
Blows them in everlasting death.

5. But I shall share a glorious part,
When grace hath well refined my heart;
And fresh supplies of joy are shed,
Like holy oil, to cheer my head.

6. Sin (my worst enemy before)
Shall vex my eyes and ears no more:
My inward foes shall all be slain,
Nor Satan break my peace again.

7. Then shall I see, and hear, and know,
All I desir'd or wish'd below:
And ev'ry pow'r find sweet employ
In that eternal world of joy.

PSALM XCII. 12, &c.

SECOND PART. Long Metre.

The Church is the Garden of GOD.

LORD, 'tis a pleasant thing to stand

In gardens planted by thine hand.
Let me within thy courts be seen,
Like a young cedar fresh and green.

2. There grow thy saints in faith and love;
Blest with thine influence from above;
Not Lebanon with all it's trees
Yields such a comely sight as these.

3. The plants of grace shall ever live;
(Nature decays, but grace must thrive)
Time, that doth all things else impair,
Still makes them flourish strong and fair.

4. Laden with fruits of age, they shew
The Lord is holy, just and true;
None that attend his gates shall find
A God unfaithful or unkind.

PSALM XCIII. Long Metre:

The Eternal and Sovereign GOD.

JEHOVAH reigns: He dwells in light;
Girded with majesty and might:
The world created by his hands,
Still on its firm foundation stands.

2. But e'er this spacious world was made;
Or had its first foundation laid,
Thy throne eternal ages stood,
Thyself the ever-living God.

3. Like floods the angry nations rise,
And aim their rage against the skies;
Vain floods that aim their rage so high!
At thy rebuke the billows die.

4. Forever shall thy throne endure;
Thy promise stands forever sure;

And
And everlasting holiness becomes the dwellings of thy grace.

PSALM XCIII. As the old 50th Psalm,

THE Lord of glory reigns, he reigns on high:
His robes of state are strength and majesty:
His wide creation rose at his command,
Built by his word, and established by his hand:
Long stood his throne, ere he began creation,
And his own Godhead is the firm foundation.

1. God is thy eternal king. Thy foes in vain
Raise their rebellions to confound thy reign:
In vain the storms, in vain the floods arise,
And roar, and toss their waves against the skies;
Foaming at heav'n they rage with wild commotion,
But heav'n's high arches scorn the swelling ocean.

2. Ye tempests, rage no more; ye floods, be still;
And the mad world submissive to his will:
Built on his truth, his church must ever stand;
Firm are his promises, and strong his hand:
See his own sons, when they appear before him,
Bow at his footstool, and with fear adore him.

PSALM XCIII. As the old 122d Psalm,

THE Lord Jehovah reigns,
And royal state maintains,
His head with awful glories crown'd;
Array'd in robes of light,
Begirt with sovereign might,
And rays of majesty around.

2. Upheld by thy commands
The world securely stands;
And skies and stars obey thy word:
Thy throne was fix'd on high,
Before the starry sky;
Eternal is thy kingdom, Lord.
3. In vain the noisy crowd,
Like billows fierce and loud,
Against thine empire rage and roar:
In vain with angry spite,
The surly nations fight,
And dash like waves against the shore.

4. Let floods and nations rage,
And all their pow'rs engage:
Let swelling tides assault the sky,
The terrors of thy frown
Shall beat their madness down;
Thy throne forever stands on high.

5. Thy promises are true,
Thy grace is ever new:
There fix'd, thy church shall never remove;
Thy saints with holy fear,
Shall in thy courts appear,
And sing thine everlasting love.

Repeat the fourth Stanza to compleat the Tune.

PSALM XCIV. 1, 2, 7,—14.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

Saints chastised and Sinners destroyed; or, Instrutive Afflictions.

O GOD to whom revenge belongs,
Proclaim thy wrath aloud;
Let sovereign pow'r redress our wrongs,
Let justice smite the proud.

2. They say, "The Lord nor sees nor hears;"
When will the fools be wise!
Can he be deaf, who form'd their ears?
Or blind, who made their eyes?
He knows their impious tho’ts are vain;
And they shall feel his pow’r;
His wrath shall pierce their souls with pain;
In some surprising hour.
But if thy saints deserve rebuke,
Thou hast a gentler rod;
Thy providences and thy book,
Shall make them know their God.

Blest is the man thy hands chastise;
And to his duty draw;
Thy scourges make thy children wise
When they forget thy law.

But God will ne’er cast off his saints;
Nor his own promise break;
He pardons his inheritance
For their Redeemer’s sake.

PSALM XCIV. 16—23.
SECOND PART. Common Metre.

GOD our Support and Comfort; or, Deliverance from Temptation and Persecution.

WHO will arise and plead my right
Against my num’rous foes,
While earth and hell their force unite,
And all my hopes oppose;

2. Had not the Lord, my rock, my help
Sustain’d my fainting head,
My life had now in silence dwelt,
My soul amongst the dead.

3. Alas! my trembling feet! I cry’d;
Thy promise was my prop;
PSALM XCV.

Thy grace stood constant by my side;
Thy spirit bore me up.

4. While multitudes of mournful thoughts
Within my bosom roll;
Thy boundless love forgives my faults,
Thy comforts cheer my soul.

5. Pow'rs of iniquity may rise,
And frame pernicious laws;
But God my refuge rules the skies,
He will defend my cause.

6. Let malice vent her rage aloud,
Let bold blasphemers scoff;
The Lord our God shall judge the proud,
And cut the sinners off.

PSALM XCV. Common Metre.

_A Psalm before Prayer._

SING to the Lord Jehovah's name,
And in his strength rejoice;
When his salvation is our theme,
Exalted be our voice,

2. With thanks approach his awful sight;
And psalms of honor sing;
The Lord's a God of boundless might,
The whole creation's king.

3. Let princes hear, let angels know
How mean their nature's seem;
Those gods on high, and gods below,
When once compar'd with him.

4. Earth with its caverns dark and deep,
Lies in his spacious hand;
Psalm XCV.

He fix'd the seas what bounds to keep,
And where the hills must stand.
Come, and with humble souls adore;
Come, kneel before his face;
And may the creatures of his pow'r
Be children of his grace!

Now is the time he bends his ear,
And waits for your request;
Come, lest he rouse his wrath, and swear,
"Ye shall not see my rest."

Psalm XCV. Short Metre.

Come found his praise abroad,
And hymns of glory sing:

He is the sovereign God,
The universal king.

He form'd the deeps unknown;
He gave the sea, their bound;
The wat'ry worlds are all his own,
And all the solid ground.

Come, worship at his throne;
Come, bow before the Lord;
We are his works, and not our own;
He form'd us by his word.

To-day attend his voice,
Nor dare provoke his rod;
Come, like the people of his choice,
And own your gracious God.

But if your ears refuse
The language of his grace,
And
And hearts grow hard like stubborn Jews,
That unbelieving race;

6. The Lord in vengeance drest
Will lift his hand, and swear,
"You that despise my promis'd rest,
"Shall have no portion there."

PSALM XCV. 1—3, 6—11. Long Metre.

Canaan lost through Unbelief, or, a Warning to delaying Sinners.

COME, let our voices join to raise
A sacred song of solemn praise:
God is a sov'reign king; rehearse
His honor in exalted verse.

2. Come, let our souls address the Lord,
Who fram'd our nature's with his word;
He is our shepard we the sheep
His mercy chose, his pastures keep.

3. Come let us hear his voice to-day,
The counsels of his love obey;
Nor let our hardned hearts renew
The sins and plagues that Isr'el knew.

4. Isr'el that saw his works of grace,
Tempted their maker to his face;
A faithless, unbelieving brood,
That tir'd the patience of their God.

5. Thus faith the Lord, "How false they prove!
"Forget my pow'r abuse my love;
"Since they delpise my rest, I swear,
"Their feet shall never enter there."

6. [Look back, my soul, with holy dread;
And view those ancient rebels dead; Attent
Attend the offer'd grace to-day,
For lose the blessing by delay.
Seize the kind promise while it waits,
And march to Zion's heav'nly gates;
Believe, and take the promises'd rest,
Obey, and be forever blest.

PSALM XCVI. 1, 10, &c. Com. Metre.

CHRIST's first and second coming.

Sing to the Lord, ye distant lands,
Ye tribes of every tongue;
His new discover'd grace demands
A new and nobler song.

1. Say to the nations, Jesus reigns,
   God's own almighty Son;
   His pow'r the sinking world sustains,
   And grace surrounds his throne.

2. Let heav'n proclaim the joyful day;
   Joy thro' the earth be seen;
   Let cities shine in bright array,
   And fields in cheerful green.

3. Let an unusual joy surprise
   The lands of the sea:
   Ye mountains sink, ye valleys rise,
   Prepare the Lord his way.

4. Behold, he comes, he comes to bless
   The nations as their God;
   To she the world his righteousness,
   And send his truth abroad.

5. But when his voice shall raise the dead,
   And bid the world draw near,
   How will the guilty nations dread,
   To see their judge appear!
PSALM XCVI. As the 113th Psalm.

The GOD of the Gentiles.

Let all the earth their voices raise,
To sing the choicest psalms of praise,
To sing and bless Jehovah's name:
His glory let the heathens know,
His wonders to the nations show,
And all his saving works proclaim:

2. The heathens know thy glory, Lord:
The wond'ring nations read thy word;
In Britain is Jehovah known:
Our worship shall no more be paid
To gods which mortal hands have made:
Our maker is our God alone.

3. He fram'd the globe, he built the sky,
He made the shining worlds on high,
And reigns compleat in glory there;
His beams are majesty and light;
His beauties how divinely bright!
His temple how divinely fair!

4. Come the great day, the glorious hour,
When earth shall feel his saving pow'r,
And barbarous nations fear his name:
Then shall the race of man confess
The beauty of his holiness,
And in his courts his grace proclaim.

PSALM XCVII. First Part. Long Metre.

CHRIST reigning in Heaven, and coming in judgment.

He reigns; the Lord, the Saviour reigns
Praise him in evangelic strains:
Let the whole earth in songs rejoice,
And distant islands join their voice.
2. Deep are his counsels and unknown;
But grace and truth support his throne;
Tho' gloomy clouds his way surround,
Justice is their eternal ground.
3. In robes of judgement, lo, he comes!
Shakes the wide earth, and cleaves the tombs;
Before him burns devouring fire,
The mountains melt, the seas retire.
4. His enemies, with fore dismay,
Fly from the sight, and shun the day:
Then lift your heads, ye faint's, on high,
And sing, for your redemption's nigh.

PSALM XCVII. 6—9
SECOND PART. Long Metre.

CHRIST's Incarnation.

The Lord is come; the heav'ns proclaim
His birth; the nations learn his name;
An unknown star directs the road
Of eastern sages to their God.
2. All ye bright armies of the skies,
Go worship where the saviour lies:
Angels and kings before him bow,
Those gods on high, and gods below.
3. Let idols totter to the ground,
And their own worshippers confound;
But Judah shout, but Zion sing,
And earth confess her sov'reign King.
PSALM XCVII.

TH' Almighty reigns exalted high
O'er all the earth, o'er all the sky;
Tho' clouds and darkness veil his feet,
His dwelling is the mercy-seat.

2. O ye that love his holy name,
Hate ev'ry work of sin and shame:
He guards the souls of all his friends,
And from the snares of hell defends.

3. Immortal light, and joys unknown,
Are for the saints in darkness sown;
Those glorious seeds shall spring and rise,
And the bright harvest bless our eyes.

4. Rejoice, ye righteous, and record
The sacred honors of the Lord;
None but the soul that feels his grace,
Can triumph in his holiness.

PSALM XCVII. 1, 3, 5—7, 12. Com. Metre.

CHRIST'S INCARNATION, AND THE LAST JUDGMENT.

Ye islands of the northern sea,
Rejoice, the Saviour reigns:
His word, like fire, prepares his way,
And mountains melt to plains.

2. His presence sinks the proudest hills,
And makes the vallies rise:
The humble soul enjoys his smiles,
The haughty sinner dies.

3. The heav'n's his rightful pow'r proclaim:
The idol-gods around
Fill their own worshippers with shame,
And totter to the ground.

4. Adoring angels at his birth
Make the Redeemer known;
Thus shall he come to judge the earth;
And angels guard his throne.

5. His foes shall tremble at his sight,
And hills and seas retire;
His children take their unknown flight,
And leave the world on fire.

6. The seeds of joy and glory sown
For saints in darkness here,
Shall rise and spring in worlds unknown;
And a rich harvest bear.

PSALM XCVIII.

FIRST PART.  Common Metre.

Praise for the Gospel.

To our almighty maker, God,
New honors be addrest;
His great salvation shines abroad,
And makes the nations blest.

2. He spake the word to Abra'm first;
His truth fulfils the grace;
The Gentiles make his name their trust,
And learn his righteousness.

3. Let the whole earth his love proclaim
With all her diff'rent tongues;
And spread the honors of his name
In melody and songs.

R. 2
PSALM XCVIII.

Second Part. Common Metre.

The Messiah's coming and Kingdom.

Joy to the world, the Lord is come,
Let earth receive her king:
Let ev'ry heart prepare him room,
And heav'n and nature sing.

2. Joy to the earth, the Saviour reigns!
Let men their songs employ;
While fields and floods, rocks, hills, and plains
Repeat the founding joy.

3. No more let sins and sorrows grow,
Nor thorns infest the ground;
He comes to make his blessings flow
Far as the curse is found.

4. He rules the world with truth and grace;
And makes the nations prove
The glories of his righteousness,
And wonders of his love.

PSALM XCIX.

First Part. Short Metre.

CHRIST's Kingdom and Majesty.

The God Jehovah reigns,
Let all the nations fear;
Let sinne's tremble at his throne,
And saints be humble there.

2. Jesus the Saviour reigns;
Let earth adore its Lord;
Bright Cherubs his attendants stand,
Swift to fulfil his word.

3. In
3. In Zion is his throne,
   His honors are divine;
His church shall make his wonders known,
   For there his glories shine.
4. How holy is his name!
   How terrible his praise!
Justice and truth and judgement join
   In all his works of grace.

PSALM XCIX.

SECOND PART. Short Metre.

A holy GOD worshipped with Reverence.

EXALT the Lord our God,
   And worship at his feet;
His nature is all holiness,
   And mercy is his seat.
2. When Isr’el was his church,
   When Aaron was his priest,
When Moses cry’d, when Samuel pray’d,
   He gave his people rest.
3. Oft he forgave their sins,
   Nor would destroy their race;
And oft he made his vengeance known,
   When they abus’d his grace.
4. Exalt the Lord our God,
   Whose grace is still the same;
Still he’s a God, of holiness,
   And jealous for his name.

PSALM C. FIRST PART. Long Metre.

A plain Translation.

Praise to our Creator.

YE nations round the earth, rejoice
   Before the Lord, your sov’reign king.
Serve him with cheerful heart and voice,
With all your tongues his glory sing.

2. The Lord is God; 'tis he alone
Doth life, and breath, and being give;
We are his work, and not our own;
The sheep that on his pastures live.

3. Enter his gates with songs of joy,
With praises to his courts repair;
And make it your divine employ
To pay your thanks and honors there.

4. The Lord is good, the Lord is kind;
Great is his grace, his mercy sure:
And the whole race of man shall find
His truth from age to age endure.

PSALM C. SECOND PART. Long Metre.

A Paraphrase.

Sing to the Lord with joyful voice;
Let ev'ry land his name adore;
The British isles shall send the noise
Across the ocean to the shore.

2. Nations, attend before his throne
With solemn fear, with sacred joy:
Know that the Lord is God alone;
He can create, and he destroy.

3. His sovereign pow'r, without our aid,
Made us of clay, and form'd us men:
And when, like wand'ring sheep, we stray'd,
He brought us to his fold again.

4. We are his people, we his care,
Our souls, and all our mortal frame:
What
What lasting honors shall we fear,
Almighty maker, to thy name.
5. We'll crowd thy gates with thankful songs,
High as the heav'ns our voices raise;
And earth with her ten thousand tongues,
Shall fill thy courts with sounding praise.
6. Wide as the world is thy command!
Vast as eternity thy love!
Firm as a rock thy truth must stand,
When rolling years shall cease to move.

PSALM CII. Long Metre.

The Magistrates Psalm.

MERCY and judgement are my songs,
And since they both to thee belong,
My gracious God, my righteous king,
To thee my songs and vows I bring.
2. If I am rais'd to bear the sword,
I'll take my counsels from thy word;
Thy justice and thy heav'nly grace,
Shall be the pattern of my ways.
3. Let wisdom all my actions guide,
And let my God with me reside;
No wicked thing shall dwell with me,
Which may provoke thy jealousy.
4. No sons of slander, rage and strife,
Shall be companions of my life;
The haughty look, the heart of pride,
Within my doors shall ne'er abide.
5. I'll search the land and raise the just
To polls of honor, wealth and trust.

The
The men that work thy holy will,
Shall be my friends and fav'rites still.

6. In vain shall sinners hope to rise
By flattery or malicious lies:
And while the innocent I guard,
The bold offender shan't be spar'd.

7. The impious crew (that factious band)
Shall hide their heads, or quit the land:
And all that break the public rest,
Where I have pow'r, shall be suppress'd.

PSALM CII. Common Metre.

A Psalm for a Master of a Family.

Of justice and of grace I sing,
And pay my God my vows;
Thy grace and justice, heav'nly king,
Teach me to rule my house.

2. Now to my tent, O God, repair,
And make thy servant wise;
I'll suffer nothing near me there
That shall offend thine eyes.

3. The man that doth his neighbour wrong
By falsehood or by force,
The scornful eye, the sland'rous tongue,
I'll thrust them from my doors.

4. I'll seek the faithful and the just,
And will their help enjoy;
These are the friends that I shall trust,
The servants I'll employ.

5. The wretch that deals in fly deceit
I'll not endure a night!
The liar's tongue I'll ever hate,
And banish from my sight.
I'll purge my family around,
And make the wicked flee;
So shall my house be ever found
A dwelling fit for thee.

PSALM CLI. 1—13, 20, 21.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

A Prayer of the afflicted.

HEAR me, O God, nor hide thy face,
But answer lest I die:
Haft thou not built a throne of grace,
To hear when sinners cry.

1. My days are wasted like the smoke,
Dissohving in the air:
My strength is dry'd, my heart is broke,
And sinking in despair.

2. My spirits flag, like withering grass
Burnt with excessive heat:
In secret groans my minutes pass,
And I forget to eat.

3. As on some lonely building's top
The sparrow tells her woe,
Far from the tents of joy and hope,
I sit and grieve alone.

4. My soul is like a wilderness
Where beasts of midnight howl;
There the sad raven finds her place,
And there the screaming owl.

5. Dark dismal thoughts and boding fears
Dwell in my troubled breast;
While
While sharp reproaches wound my ears,
    Nor give my spirit rest.
7. My cup is mingled with my woes,
    And tears are my repast;
8. Sense can afford no real joy
    To souls that feel thy frown;
    Lord, 'twas thy hand advance'd me high,
    Thy hand hath cast me down.
9. My looks like wither'd leaves appear;
    And life's declining light
    Grows faint, as ev'n'ning shadows are,
    That vanish into night.
10. But thou forever art the same,
    O my eternal God;
    Ages to come shall know thy name,
    And spread thy works abroad.
11. Thou wilt arise, and shew thy face,
    Nor will my Lord delay
    Beyond th' appointed hour of grace,
    That long expected day.
12. He hears his saints, he knows their cry,
    And by mysterious ways
    Redeems the pris'ners doom'd to die,
    And fills their tongues with praise.

PSALM CII. 13—21.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

Prayer heard, and Zion restored.

*LET Zion and her sons rejoice;
Behold the promis'd hour;*
Psalm CII.

Her God hath heard her mourning voice,
And comes t' exalt his pow'r.
Her dust and ruins that remain
Are precious in our eyes;
Hope ruins shall be built again,
And all that dust shall rise.
The Lord will raise Jerusalem,
And stand in glory there;
Nations shall bow before his name,
And kings attend with fear.
He sits a loy'reign on his throne,
With pity in his eyes:
He hears the dying prisoners groan,
And sees their sighs arise.
He frees the souls condemn'd to death;
And when his saints complain,
Shan't be laid that praying breath
Was ever spent in vain.
This shall be known when we are dead,
And left on long record,
That ages yet unborn may read,
And trust and praise the Lord.

Ian's Mortality, and Christ's Eternity; or,
Saints die, but Christ and the Church live.
'Tis the Lord our Saviour's hand
Weakens our strength amidst the race;
Release and death at his command
Rest us, and cut short our days.
Spare us, O Lord, aloud we pray;
or let our sun go down at noon;
Thy
Thy years are one eternal day;
And must thy children die so soon!
3. Yet in the midst of death and grief,
This thought our sorrow should assuage;
"Our Father and our Saviour live;
"Christ is the same thro' ev'ry age."
4. 'Twas he this earth's foundation laid;
Heav'n is the building of his hand:
This earth grows old, these heav'n's shall fade,
And all be chang'd at his command.
5. The starry curtains of the sky,
Like garments shall be laid aside;
But still thy throne stands firm on high;
Thy church forever must abide.
6. Before thy face thy church shall live;
And on thy throne thy children reign;
This dying world shall they survive,
And the dead saints be rais'd again.

PSALM CIII. 1,—7.
FIRST PART. Long Metre.
Blessing God for his goodness to Soul and Body.

BLESS, O my soul, the living God,
Call home thy thoughts that rove abroad;
Let all the powers within me join
In work and worship so divine.
2. Bless, O my soul, the God of grace;
His favors claim thy highest praise:
Why should the wonders he hath wrought
Be lost in silence and forgot?
3. 'Tis he, my soul, that sent his Son
To die for crimes which thou hast done;
He owns the ransom, and forgives
The hourly follies of our lives.
4. The vices of the mind he heals,
And cures the pains that nature feels;
Redeems the soul from hell and saves
Our wasting life from threat'ning graves.
5. Our youth decay'd, his pow'r repairs;
His mercy crowns our growing years;
He satisfies our mouth with good,
And fills our hopes with heav'nly food.
5. He sees th' oppressor and th' oppress,
And often gives the sufferers rest;
But will his justice more display
In the last great rewarding day.
7. [His pow'r he shew'd by Moses' hands,
And gave to Isr'el his commands;
But sent his truth and mercy down
To all the nations by his Son.
8. Let the whole earth his pow'r confess;
Let the whole earth adore his grace;
The Gentile with the Jew shall join
In work and worship divine.]

P S A L M CIII. 8—18.
SECOND PART. Long Metre.
God's gentle Coabflement; or, His tender Mercy to his People.

THE Lord, how wond'rous are his ways!
How firm his truth! how large his grace!
He takes his mercy for his throne,
And thence he makes his glories known.
1. Not half so high his pow'r hath spread
The starry heav'ns above our head,
As his rich love exceeds our praise;
Exceeds the highest hopes we raise.
3. Not half so far hath nature plac'd
The rising morning from the west,
As his forgiving grace removes
The daily guilt of those he loves.
4. How lowly doth his wrath arise!
On swifter wings salvation flies:
And if he lets his anger burn,
How soon his frowns to pity turn!
5. Amidst his wrath compassion shines;
His strokes are lighter than our sins;
And while his rod corrects his saints,
His ear indulges their complaints.
6. So fathers their young sons chastise,
With gentle hands and melting eyes;
The children weep beneath the smart,
And move the pity of their heart.

Pause.

7. The mighty God, the wise and just,
Knows that our frame is feeble dust;
And will no heavy loads impose
Beyond the strength that he bestows.
8. He knows how soon our nature dies,
Blasted by ev'ry wind that flies;
Like grass we spring, and die as soon,
Or morning flow'rs that fade at noon.
9. But his eternal love is sure
To all the saints, and shall endure;
From age to age his truth shall reign,
Nor children's children hope in vain.
P S A L M CIII. 7, &c.

FIRST PART. Short Metre.

Praise for spiritual and temporal Mercies.

O Bless the Lord, my soul!
Let all within me join,
And aid my tongue to bless his name,
Whose favors are divine.

1. O bless the Lord, my soul,
Nor let his mercies lie
Forgotten in unthankfulness,
And without praises die.

’Tis he forgives thy sins,
’Tis he relieves thy pain,
’Tis he that heals thy sicknesse,
And makes thee young again.

He crowns thy life with love,
When ransom’d from the grave;
He that redeem’d my soul from hell,
Hath sov’reign pow’r to save.

He fills the poor with good;
He gives the suff’rers rest;
The Lord hath judgments for the proud,
And justice for th’ opprest.

His wond’rous works and ways
He made by Moses known;
But sent the world his truth and grace
By his beloved Son.

SALM CIII. 8, 18. Second Part. Short Met.

Bounding Compassion of GOD; or, Mercy in the midst of Judgement.

My soul repeat his praise
Whose mercies are so great:

PSALM CIII. 223
Whose anger is so slow to rise,
So ready to abate.

2. God will not always chide;
And when his strokes are felt,
His strokes are fewer than our crimes,
And lighter than our guilt.

3. High as the heav'n's are rais'd
Above the ground we tread,
So far the riches of his grace
Our highest thoughts exceed.

4. His pow'r subdues our sins,
And his forgiving love,
Far as the east is from the west,
Doth all our guilt remove.

5. The pity of the Lord,
To those that fear his name,
Is such as tender parents feel;
He knows our feeble frame.

6. He knows we are but dust,
Scatter'd with ev'ry breath;
His anger, like a rising wind,
Can send us swift to death.

7. Our days are as the grass,
Or like the morning flow'r;
If one sharp blast sweep o'er the field,
It withers in an hour.

8. But thy compassions, Lord,
To endless years endure;
And children's children ever find
Thy words of promise sure.
PSALM CIII. 19.-22.
THIRD PART. Short Metre.

GOD's universal dominion; or, Angels praise the LORD

1. THE Lord, the sov'reign king,
   Hath fix'd his throne on high;
   O'er all the heav'nly world he rules,
   And all beneath the sky.

2. Ye angels great in might,
   And swift to do his will,
   Bless ye the Lord whose voice ye hear,
   Whose pleasure ye fulfill.

3. Let the bright hosts who wait
   The orders of their king,
   And guard his churches when they pray,
   Join in the praise they sing.

4. While all his wond'rous works
   Thro' his vast kingdom shew
   Their maker's glory, thou, my soul,
   Shalt sing his graces too.

PSALM CIV.
The Glory of GOD in Creation and Providence.

1. MY soul, thy great creator praise;
   When cloath'd in his celestial rays
   He in full majesty appears,
   And like a robe his glory wears.

Note, This psalm may be sung to the tune of the old 112th psalm, by adding these two lines to every stanza, viz.

Great is the Lord; what tongue can frame
An equal honor to his name?
Otherwise it must be sung as the 10th.

2. The heav'ns are for his curtains spread;
The unfathom'd deep he makes his bed;
Clouds are his chariot when he flies
On winged storms across the skies.

3. Angels whom his own breath inspires,
His ministers are flaming fires;
And swift as thought their armies move,
To bear his vengeance or his love.

4. The world's foundations by his hand
Are pois'd, and shall forever stand;
He binds the ocean in his chain,
Left it should drown the earth again.

5. When earth was cover'd with the flood,
Which high above the mountains stood,
He thunder'd and the ocean fled,
Confir'd to its appointed bed.

6. The swelling billows know their bound,
And in their channels walk their round;
Yet thence convey'd by secret veins,
They spring on hills and drench the plains.

7. He bids the chrysal fountains flow,
And cheer the valleys as they go;
Tame heifers there their thirst allay,
And for the stream wild asses Bray.

8. From pleasant trees that shade the brink
The lark and linnet light and drink;
Their fongs the lark and linnet raise,
And chide our silence in his praise.

9. God from his cloudy cisterns pours
On the parch'd earth enriching bow'rs;
The grove, the garden, and the field,
A thousand joyful blessings yield.
10. He makes the grassy food arise,
And gives the cattle large supplies;
With herbs for man of various pow'r,
To nourish nature, or to cure.
11. What noble fruit the vines produce,
The olive yields a shining juice;
Our hearts are cheer'd with generous wine,
With inward joy our faces shine.
12. O bless his name, ye Britons, fed
With nature's chief supporter bread;
While bread your vital strength imparts,
Serve him with vigor in your hearts.

PAUSE II.

13. Behold the stately cedar flanks
Rais'd in the forest by his hands;
Birds to the boughs for shelter fly,
And build their nests secure on high.
14. To craggy hills ascends the goat;
And at the airy mountain's foot
The feeble creatures make their cell:
He gives them wisdom where to dwell.
15. He sets the sun his circling race,
Appoints the moon to change her face;
And when thick darkness veils the day,
Calls out wild beasts to hunt their prey.
16. Fierce lions lead their young abroad,
And roaring ask their meet from God;
But when the morning beams arise,
The savage beast to covert flies.
17. Then man to daily labour goes;
The night was made for his repose:
Sleep is thy gift, that sweet relief
From tiresome toil and wasting grief.
18. How strange thy works, how great thy skill!
And ev'ry land thy riches fill;
Thy wisdom round the world we see,
This spacious earth is full of thee.
19. Nor less thy glories in the deep,
Where fish in millions swim and creep
With wond'rous motions, swift or slow,
Still wandering in the paths below.
20. There ships divide their watry way,
And flocks of scaly monsters play;
There dwells the huge leviathan,
And foams and sports in spite of man.

PAUSE III.

21. Vast are thy works almighty Lord!
All nature rests upon thy word,
And the whole race of creatures stand,
Waiting their portion from thy hand.
22. While each receives his different food,
Their cheerful looks pronounce it good;
Eagles and bears, and whales and worms,
Rejoice and praise in different forms.
23. But when thy face is hid, they mourn,
And dying, to their dust return;
Both man and beast their souls resign;
Life, breath and spirit, all are thine.
24. Yet thou canst breathe on dust again,
And fill the world with beasts and men;
A word of thy creating breath
Repairs the wastes of time and death.
25. His works the wonders of his might,
Are honor'd with his own delight;
How awful are his glorious ways!
The Lord is dreadful in his praise.
26. The earth stands trembling at thy stroke;
And at thy touch the mountains smoke;
Yet humble souls may see thy face,
And tell their wants to sov'reign grace.
27. In the my hopes and wishes meet,
And make my meditations sweet;
Thy praises shall my breath employ,
Till it expire in endless joy.
28. While haughty sinners die accurs'd,
Their glory bury'd with their dust,
I to my God, my heav'nly king,
Immortal hallelujahs sing.

God's Conduct of Israel, and Plagues of Egypt.

Give thanks to God, invoke his name,
And tell the world his grace;
Sound thro' the earth his deeds of fame,
That all may seek his face.

2. His cov'nant which he kept in mind
For num'rous ages past,
To num'rous ages yet behind
In equal force shall last.

3. He tware to Abr'am and his seed,
And made the blessing sure;
Gentiles the ancient promise read,
And find his truth endure.

4. "Thy seed shall make all nations blest,
(Said the almighty voice)
"And Canaan's land shall be their rest,
"The type of heav'nly joys."

5. "How large the grant! how rich the grace!
To give them Canaan's land,
When they were strangers in the place,
A little feeble band!

6. Like pilgrims thro' the countries round
Securely they remov'd;
And haughty kings that on them frown'd,
Severely he reprov'd.

7. "Touch mine anointed, and my arm
Shall soon revenge the wrong;
"The man that does my prophets harm,
"Shall know their God is strong."

8. Then let the world forbear it's rage,
Nor put the church in fear:
Israel must live thro' ev'ry age,
And be the Almighty's care.

Pause I.

9. When Pharaoh dair'd to vex the saints,
And thus provok'd their God,
Moses was sent at their complaints,
Arm'd with his dreadful rod.

10. He call'd for darknels, darkness came
Like an o'erwhelming flood;
He turn'd each lake and ev'ry stream
To lakes and streams of blood.
11. He gave the sign, and noisome flies
   Thro' the whole country spread;
And frogs in croaking armies rise
   About the monarch's bed.
12. Thro' fields and towns, and palaces,
   The tenfold vengeance flew;
Locusts in swarms devour'd their trees,
   And hail their cattlelew.
13. Then by an angel's midnight stroke,
   The flow'r of Egypt dy'd;
The strength of ev'ry house was broke,
   Their glory and their pride.
14. Now let the world forbear it's rage
   Nor put the church in fear;
Isr'el must live thro' ev'ry age,
   And be th' Almighty's care.

P A U S E. II.

15. Thus were the tribes from bondage brought
   And left the hated ground;
Each some Egyptian spoils had got,
   And not one feeble bound.
16. The Lord himself chose out their way,
   And mark'd their journeys right;
Gave them a leading cloud by day,
   A fiery guide by night.
17. They thirst; and waters from the rock
   In rich abundance flow,
And following still the course they took,
   Ran all the desert through.
18. O wond'rous stream! O blessed type
   Of ever flowing grace!
So Christ our rock maintains our life
Thro' all this wilderness.

19. Thus guarded by th' almighty hand,
The chosen tribes poss'd
Canaan the rich, the promis'd land,
And their enjoy'd their rest.

20. "Thus let the world forbear its rage,
"The church renounce her fear;
"Israel must live thro' ev'ry age,
"And be th' Almighty's care."

PSALM CVI. 1—5.

Long Metre.

Praise to God; or, Communion with Saints.

To God the great, the ever blest,
Let songs of honor be address'd;
His mercy firm for ever stands;
Give him the thanks his love demands.

2. Who knows the wonders of thy ways?
Who shall fulfil thy boundless praise?
Blest are the souls that fear the still,
And pay their duty to thy will.

3. Remember what thy mercy did
For Jacob's race, thy chosen seed;
And with the same salvation blest
The meanest suppliant of thy grace.

4. O may I see thy tribes rejoice,
And aid their triumphs with my voice!
This is my glory, Lord, to be
Join'd to thy saints, and near to thee.

PSALM
PSALM CVI. 7, 8, 12—14. &c.

Short Metre.

Israel punished and pardoned; or, God's unchangeable love.

1. GOD of eternal love,
   How fickle are our ways!
   And yet how oft did Israel prove
   Thy constancy of grace!

2. They saw thy wonders wrought,
   And then thy praise they sung;
   But soon thy works of pow'r forgot,
   And murmured with their tongue.

3. Now they believe his word,
   While rocks with rivers flow;
   Now with their lusts provoke their Lord,
   And he reduc'd them low.

4. Yet when they mourn'd their faults,
   He harken'd to their groans;
   Brought his own covenant to his thoughts,
   And cal'd them still his sons.

5. Their names were in his book,
   He fav'd them from their foes;
   Oft he chastis'd, but ne'er forsook
   The people that he chose.

6. Let Israel bless the Lord:
   Who lov'd their ancient race:
   And christians join the solemn word
   Amen to all the praise.

PSALM
PSALM CVII. First Part. Long Metre.

Israel led to Canaan, and christians to heaven.

1. Give thanks to God; he reigns above: His kind are his thoughts, his name is love;
His mercy ages past have known,
And ages long to come shall own.
2. Let the redeemed of the Lord
The wonders of his grace record;
Israel, the nation whom he chose,
And rescu’d from their mighty foes.
3. [When God’s almighty arm had broke
Their fetters and th’ Egyptian Yoke,
They trac’d the desert, wand’ring round
A wild and solitary ground!]
4. There they could find no leading round
Nor City for a fix’d abode;
Nor food, nor fountain to assuage
Their burning thirst, or hunger’s rage.
5. In their distress to God they cry’d;
God was their favour and their guide;
He led their march far wand’ring round;
’Twas the right path to Canaan’s ground.
6. Thus when our first relief we gain
From sin’s old yoke, and satan’s chain,
We have this desert world to pass,
And dang’rous and a tiresome place.
7. He feeds and clothes us all the way,
He guides our footsteps lest we stray,
He guards us with a powerful hand,
And brings us to the heav’nly land.
3. O let the saints with joy record
   The truth and goodness of the Lord!
How great his works! how kind his ways!
Let ev'ry tongue pronounce his praise.

Correction for sin, and release by prayer.

1. From age to age exalt his name,
   God and his grace are still the same;
He fills the hungry soul with food,
   And feeds the poor with ev'ry good.
2. But if their hearts rebel, and rise
   Against the God that rules the skies;
If they reject his heavenly word,
   And slight the counsels of the Lord,
3. He'll bring their spirits to the ground,
   And no deliverer shall be found;
Laden with grief they waste their breath,
   In darkness, and the shades of death.
4. Then to the Lord they raise their cries;
   He makes the dawning light arise,
And scatters all that dismal shade
   That hung so heavy round their head.
5. He cuts the bars of brass in two,
   And lets the smiling pris'ners thro';
Takes off the load of guilt and grief,
   And gives the lab'ring soul relief.
6. O may the sons of men record
   The wondrous goodness of the Lord!
How great his works! how kind his ways!
Let ev'ry tongue pronounce his praise.

PSALM
1. VAIN man, on foolish pleasures bent,
   Prepares for his own punishment;
   What pains, what loathsome maladies
   From luxury and lust arise!

2. The drunkard feels his vitals waste,
   Yet drowns his health to please his taste,
   Till all his active pow’rs are lost,
   And fainting life draws near the dust.

3. The glutton groans, and lothes to eat;
   His soul abhors delicious meat;
   Nature with heavy loads opprest,
   Would yield to death to be releas’d.

4. Then how the frightened sinners fly
   To God for help with earnest cry!
   He hears their groans, prolongs their breath,
   And saves them from approaching death.

5. No med’cine could effect the cure
   So quick, so easy or so sure:
   The deadly sentence God repeals,
   He sends his lov’reign word, and heals.

6. O may the sons of men record
   The wondrous goodness of the Lord!
   And let their thankful off’rings prove
   How they adore their maker’s love.

Deliverance from Storms and Shipwreck; or
The Seaman’s Song.
Would you behold the works of God,
His wonders in the world abroad,
Go with the mariners, and trace
The unknown regions of the seas.

2. They leave their native shores behind,
And seize the favour of the wind;
Till God command, and tempests rise,
That heave the ocean to the skies.

3. Now to the heav'ns they mount amain,
Now sink to dreadful deeps again;
What strange affrights young sailors feel,
And like a stagging drunkard reel!

4. When land is far, and death is nigh,
Lost to all hope, to God they cry:
His mercy hears their loud address,
And sends salvation in distress.

5. He bids the winds their wrath assuage;
The furious waves forget their rage;
'Tis calm: and sailors smite to see
The heaven where they wish'd to be.

6. O may the sons of men record
The wondrous goodness of the Lord!
Let them their private off'ring bring,
And in the church his glory sing.

Psalm CVII. Common Metre.

The Mariners Psalm

1. Thy works of glory, mighty Lord,
Thy wonders in the deeps,
The sons of courage shall record,
Who trade in floating ships.

2. At thy command the winds arise,
   And swell the tow'ring waves;
The men astonished mount the skies,
   And sink in gaping graves.

3. [Again they climb the wat'ry hills,
   And plunge in deeps again;
Each like a tottering drunkard reels,
   And finds his courage vain.

4. Frighted to hear the tempests roar,
   They pant with fluttering breath;
And hopeless of the distant shore,
   Expect immediate death.]

5. Then to the Lord they raise their cries,
   He hears their loud request,
And orders silence thro' the skies,
   And lays the floods to rest.

6. Sailors rejoice to lose their fears,
   And see the storm allay'd:
Now to their eyes the port appears:
   There let there vows be paid.

7. 'Tis God that brings them safe to land;
   Let stupid mortals know,
That waves are under his command,
   And all the winds that blow.

8. O that the sons of men would praise
   The goodness of the Lord!
And those who see thy wondrous ways,
   Thy wondrous love record.
When God, provok'd with daring crimes
Scourages the madness of the times,
He turns their fields to barren land,
And dries the rivers from the land.

1. His word can raise the springs again,
And make the wither'd mountains green,
Send show'ry blessings from the skies,
And harvests in the desert rise.

2. [Where nothing dwelt but beasts of prey,
Or men as fierce and wild as they;
He bids th' opprest and poor repair,
And build them towns and cities there.

3. They sow the fields, and trees they plant,
Whose yearly fruits supply their want:
Their race grows up from fruitful flocks,
Their wealth increases with their flocks.

4. Thus they are blest; but if they sin,
He lets the heathen nations in,
A savage crew invades their lands,
Their princes die by barb'rous hands.

5. Their captive sons, expos'd to scorn,
Vander unpity'd and forlorn;
'He country lies unfenced, until'd,
And desolation spreads the field.

Yet if the humble nation mourns,
Gain his dreadful hand he turns;

Again
Again he makes their cities thrive,
And bids the dying churches live.

8. The righteous, with a joyful sense,
Admire the works of providence;
And tongues of atheists shall no more
Blaspheme the God that saints adore.

9. How few with pious care record
These wondrous dealings of the Lord?
But wise observers still shall find
The Lord is holy, just and kind.

PSALM CIX. Ver. 1—5. 31. Com. Metres.

Love to Enemies from the Example of Christ.

1. GOD of my mercy and my praise,
   Thy glory is my song;
Tho' sinners speak against thy grace
   With a blaspheming tongue.

2. When in the form of mortal man
   Thy son on earth was found,
With cruel flanders, false and vain,
   They compass'd him around.

3. Their mis'ries his compassion move,
   Their peace he still pursu'd;
They render hatred for his love,
   And evil for his good.

4. Their malice rag'd without a cause,
   Yet with his dying breath
He pray'd for murderers on his cross,
   And blest his foes in death.

5. Lord, shall thy bright example shine
   In vain before my eyes?
Give me a soul akin to thine,
To love mine enemies.

The Lord shall on my side engage,
And in my favour's name
shall defeat their pride and rage,
Who flander and condemn.

PSALM CXI. SECOND PART. COM. METRE.

The Perfections of God.

Great is the Lord; his works of might
Demand our noblest songs:
Let his assembled saints unite
Their harmony of tongues.

2. Great is the mercy of the Lord,
He gives his children food;
And ever mindful of his word,
He makes his promise good.

3. His son, the great redeemer came,
To seal his cov'nant sure;
Holy and rev'rend is his name,
His ways are just and pure.

4. They that would grow divinely wise,
   Must with his fear begin;
Our fairest proof of knowledge lies
   In hating ev'ry sin.

PSALM CXII. As the 113th Psalm:

The Blessings of the liberal man.

1. THAT man is blest who stands in awe
   Of God, and loves his sacred law:
   His seed on earth shall be renown'd;
   His house the seat of wealth shall be,
   An inexhausted treasury,
   And with successive honours crown'd.

2. His lib'ral favours he extends,
   To some he gives, to others lends;
   A gen'rous pity fills his mind:
   Yet what his charity impairs,
   He saves by prudence in affairs,
   And thus he's just to all mankind.

3. His hands, while they his alms bestow'd,
   His glory's future harvest sow'd:
   The sweet remembrance of the just,
   Like a green root, revives and bears
   A train of blessings for his heirs,
   When dying nature sleeps in dust.

4. Beset with threat'ning dangers round,
   Unmov'd shall he maintain his ground;
   His conscience holds his courage up:
   The soul that's fill'd with virtue's light,
   Shines
Shines brightest in affection's night,
And sees in darkness beams of hope.

5. [Ill tidings never can surprise
His heart, that fix'd on God relies,
Tho' waves and tempests roar around:
Safe on the rock he sits and sees
The shipwreck of his enemies,
And all their hope and glory drown'd.

6. The wicked shall his triumph see,
And gnash their teeth in agony,
To find their expectations crost:
They and their envy, pride and spite,
Sink down to everlasting night,
And all their names in darkness lost.]

PSALM CXII. Long Metre.

The Blessings of the Pious and Charitable.

THrice happy man who fears the Lord,

To works of mercy still inclin'd:

Or gives them, not to be repaid.

P S A L M C X I I. Common Metre.

Liberality rewarded.

1. HAPPY is he that fears the Lord,
   And follows his commands,
Who lends the poor without reward,
   Or gives with lib'ral hands.

2. As pity dwells within his breast
   To all the sons of need;
So God shall answer his request
   With blessings on his seed.

3. No evil tidings shall surprise
   His well-establisht mind;
His soul to God his refuge flies;
   And leaves his fears behind.

4. In times of general distress
   Some beams of light shall shine;
To shew the world his righteousness;
   And give him peace divine.

5. His works of piety and love
   Remain before the Lord;
Honour on earth, and joys above,
   Shall be his sure reward.
Psalm CXIII. Proper Tune.

The Majesty and Condescension of God.

1. Ye that delight to serve the Lord,
The honours of his name record,
His sacred name for ever blest:
Where'er the circling sun displays
His rising beams or setting rays,
Let lands and seas his pow'r confess;
2. Nor time, nor nature's narrow rounds,
Can give his vast dominion bounds;
The heav'n are far below his height:
Let no created greatness dare
With our eternal God compare,
Arm'd with his uncreated might.
3. He bows his glorious head to view
What the bright hosts of angels do,
And bends his care to mortal things:
His sov'reign hand exalts the poor,
He takes the needy from the door,
And makes them company for kings;
4. When childless families despair,
He sends the blessing of an heir,
To rescue their expiring name:
The mother, with a thankful voice,
Proclaims his praises and her joys:
Let ev'ry age advance his fame.

Psalm CXIII. Long Metre.

God Sovereign and Gracious.

1. Ye
Ye Servants of th' almighty king,
In ev'ry age his praises sing;
Where'er the sun shall rise or set,
The nations shall his praise repeat.
Above the earth, beyond the sky,
Rises his high throne of Majesty;
For time nor place his pow'r restrain,
For bound his universal reign.
Which of the sons of Adam dare,
Or angels, with their God compare?
His glories how divinely bright,
Who dwells in uncreated light!
Behold his love, he stoops to view
What saints above and angels do;
And condescends yet more to know
The mean affairs of men below.
From dust and cottages obscure
His grace exalts the humble poor;
Gives them the honour of his sons,
And fits them for their heav'ly thrones.
[A word of his creating voice
Can make the barren house rejoice:
Tho' Sarah's ninety years were past,
The promis'd seed is born at last.
With joy the mother views her son,
And tells the wonders God has done:
Faith may grow strong when sense despairs;
If nature fails, the promise bears.]
PSALM CXIV. Long Metre.

Miracles attending Israel's Journey.

When Israel, freed from Pharaoh's hand,
Left the proud tyrant and his land,
The tribes with cheerful homage own
Their king, and Judah was his throne.

2. Across the deep their journey lay:
The deep divides to make them way,
Jordan beheld their march and fled
With backward current to his head.

3. The mountains shook like frightened sheep
Like lambs the little hillocks leap;
Not Sinai on her base could stand,
Conscious of sovereign power at hand.

4. What power could make the deep divide?
Make Jordan backward roll his tide?
Why did ye leap, ye little hills?
And whence the fright that Sinai feels?

5. Let ev'ry mountain, ev'ry flood,
Retire and know the approaching God,
The king of Israel: see him here!
Tremble, thou earth, adore and fear.

6. He thunders, and all nature mourns:
The rock to standing pools he turns;
Elints spring with fountains at his word,
And fires and seas confess the Lord.

The true God our Refuge; or Idolatry reprove.

Not to ourselves, who are but dust,
Not to ourselves is glory due,
P S A L M C X V .

P S A L M

Eternal God, thou'ret only just,
Thou only gracious, wise and true.

Shine forth in all thy dreadful name;
Why should a heathen's haughty tongue
Sful: us, and to raise our shame,
Say, "Where's the God you've serv'd so long?"

The God we serve maintains his throne
Above the clouds, beyond the skies;
Thro' all the earth his will is done,
He knows our groans, he hears our cries.

1. But the vain idols they adore
Are senseless shapes of stone and wood;
At best a mass of glitt'ring ore,
A silver saint, or golden God.

2. [With eyes and ears, they carve their head;
Deaf are their ears, their eyes are blind,
In vain are costly off'nings made,
And vows are scatter'd in the wind.

3. Their feet were never made to move,
Nor hands to save when mortals pray;
Mortals that pay them fear or love,
Seem to be blind and deaf as they.]

4. O Israel make the Lord thy hope,
Thy help, thy refuge, and thy rest;
The Lord shall build thy ruins up,
And bless the people and the priest.

5. The dead no more can speak thy praise,
They dwell in silence and the grave;
But we shall live to sing thy grace,
And tell the world thy pow'r to save.

PSALM CXV. As the New 50th Psalm.
Pepish Idolatry reproved.
A Psalm for the 5th of November.

1. Not to our names then only just and true,
   Not to our worthless name is glory due:
   Thy pow'r and grace, thy truth and justice claim
   Immortal honors to thy sov'reign name.
   Shine thro' the earth from heav'n thy blest abode.
   Nor let the heathens say; "And where's your God?"

2. Heav'n is thy higher court, there stands thy throne,
   And thro' the lower worlds thy will is done:
   Our God from all this earth, these heav'ns he spread,
   But fools adore the Gods their hands have made.
   The kneeling crowd, with locks devout, behold
   Their silver favours, and their saints of gold.

3. [Vain are those artful shapes of eyes and ears;
   The molten image neither sees nor hears;
   Their hands are helpless nor their feet can move;
   They have no speech, nor to, nor pow'r, nor love;
   Yet foolish mortals make their long complaints
   To their deaf idols, and their moveless saints.

4. The rich have statues well adorn'd with gold;
   The poor content with Gods of coarser mould;
   With tools of iron carve the senseless flock,
   Lopt from a tree, or broken from a rock;
   People and priest drive on the solemn trade,
   And tryst the Gods that saws and hammers made.]

5. Be heav'n and earth amaz'd! 'tis hard to say
   Which is more stupid, or their Gods or they.
   O Israel, trust the Lord: he hears and sees,
   He knows thy sorrows, and restores thy peace:
   His worship does a thousand comforts yield,
   He is thy help, and he thine heav'nly shield.

O let my heart no more despair,
   While I have breath to pray!

3. My flesh declin'd, my spirits fell,
   And I drew near the dead;
While inward pangs and fears of hell
   Perplex'd my wakeful head.

4. "My God, I cry'd, thy servant save,
   "Thou ever good and just;
   "Thy pow'r can rescue from the grave;
   "Thy pow'r is all my trust."

5. The Lord beheld me sore distrest;
   He bids my pains remove:
Return, my soul, to God thy rest,
   For thou hast known his love.

6. My God hath sav'd my soul from death,
   And dry'd my falling tears:
Now to his praise I'll spend my breath,
   And my remaining years.
WHAT shall I render to my God
For all his kindness shown?
My feet shall visit thine abode,
My songs address thy throne.

1. Among the saints that fill thine house
My offerings shall be paid;
There shall my zeal perform the vows
My soul in anguish made.

2. How much is mercy thy delight,
Thou ever blessed God!
How dear thy servants in thy sight!
How precious is their blood!

3. How happy all thy servants are!
How great thy grace to me!
My life, which thou hast made thy care,
Lord, I devote to thee.

4. Now I am thine, for ever thine,
Nor shall my purpose move;
Thy hand has loos'd my bands of pain,
And bound me with thy love.

5. Here in thy courts I leave my vow,
And thy rich grace record;
Witness, ye saints, who hear me now,
If I for sake the Lord.
P S A L M C X V I I . Common Metre.

Praise to God from all Nations.

O All ye nations, praise the Lord,
Each with a different tongue;
Ev'ry language learn his word,
And let his name be sung.

2. His mercy reigns thro' ev'ry land;
Proclaim his Grace abroad;
For ever firm his truth shall stand:
Praise ye the faithful God.

P S A L M C X V I I . Long Metre.

1. From all that dwell below the skies
Let the creator's praise arise,
Let the redeemer's name be sung
Thro' ev'ry land, by ev'ry tongue.

2. Eternal are thy mercies, Lord;
Eternal truth attends thy word;
Thy praise shall found from shore to shore,
Till sun shall rise and set no more.

P S A L M C X V I I . Short Metre.

1. Thy name, almighty Lord,
    Shall sound thro' distant lands:
Great is thy grace, and sure thy word;
Thy truth for ever stands.

2. Far be thine honor spread,
And long thy praise endure,
Till morning light and ev'ning shade
Shall be exchanged no more.
PSALM CXVIII. Ver. 6—15.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.

Deliverance from a Tumult.

1. THE Lord appears my helper now,
   Nor is my faith afraid
Of what the sons of earth can do,
   Since heav’n affords its aid.

2. ’Tis safer, Lord, to hope in thee;
   And have my God my friend,
Than trust in men of high degree,
   And on their truth depend.

3. Like bees my foes beset me round,
   A large and angry swarm;
But I shall all their rage confound
   By thine almighty arm.

4. ’Tis thro’ the Lord my heart is strong;
   In him my lips rejoice;
While his salvation is my song,
   How cheerful is my voice!

5. Like angry bees they girt me round;
   When God appears they fly;
So burning thorns with crackling sound
   Make a fierce blaze and die.

6. Joy to the saints and peace belongs;
   The Lord protects their days:
Let th’el tune immortal songs
   To his almighty grace.

PSALM
Second Part. Common Metre.

Public praise for Deliverance from Death.

1. LORD, thou hast heard thy servant cry; And rescu'd from the grave;
   Now shall he live: (and none can die,
   If God resolve to save.)

2. Thy praise more constant than before
   Shall fill his daily breath;
   Thy hand that hath chastis'd him fore,
   Defends him still from death.

3. Open the gates of Zion now.
   For we shall worship there,
   The house where all the righteous go,
   Thy mercy to declare.

4. Amongst th' assemblies of thy saints
   Our thankful voice we raise;
   There we have told thee our complaints,
   And there we speak thy praise.

Christ the Foundation of his Church.

1. Behold the sure foundation-stone
   Which God in Zion lays,
   To build our heav'nly hopes upon,
   And his eternal praise.

2. Chosen of God, to sinners dear,
   And saints adore the name;
They trust their whole salvation here;
Nor shall they suffer shame.

3. The foolish builders, scribe and priest,
Reject it with disdain;
Yet on this rock the church shall rest,
And envy rage in vain.

4. What tho' the gates of hell withstand,
Yet must this building rise:
'Tis thy own work, almighty God,
And wondrous in our eyes.

PSALM CXVIII. Ver. 24, 25, 26.

Fourth Part. Common Metre.

Hosanna; the Lord's Day; or Christ's Resurrection, and our Salvation.

1. THIS is the day the Lord hath made,
He calls the hours his own;
Let heav'n rejoice, let earth be glad,
And praise surround the throne.

2. To day he rose and left the dead,
And Satan's empire fell;
To day the saints his triumphs spread,
And all his wonders tell.

3. Hosanna to th' anointed king,
To David's holy son!
Help us, O Lord; descend and bring
Salvation from thy throne.

4. Blest be the Lord who comes to men.
With messages of grace;
Who comes in God his Father's name,
To save our sinful race.

5. Hosanna
Psalm CXVIII. Ver. 22—27.

Hosanna in the highest strains
The church on earth can raise:
The highest heav'ns in which he reigns,
Shall give him nobler praise,

And Hosanna for the Lord's day; or a new song of Salvation by Christ.

1. See what a living stone
The builders did refuse;
Yet God hath built his church thereon,
In spite of envious Jews.

2. The scribe and angry priest
Reject thine only son;
Yet on this rock shall Zion rest,
As the chief corner-stone.

3. The work, O Lord, is thine,
And wondrous in our eyes;
This day declares it all divine,
This day did Jesus rise.

4. This is the glorious day
That our Redeemer made;
Let us rejoice, and sing, and pray;
Let all the church be glad.

5. Hosanna to the king
Of David's royal blood;
Bless him, ye saints; he comes to bring
Salvation from your God.

6. We bless thine holy word
Which all this grace displays;

And
And offer on thine altar, Lord,
Our sacrifice of praise.

PSALM CXVIII. 22—27. Long Met.

An Hosanna for the Lord's-day; or A new Song of Salvation by Christ.

1. O! what a glorious corner stone
The Jewish builders did refuse;
But God, hath built his church thereon,
In spite of envy and the Jews.

2. Great God, the work is all divine,
The joy and wonder of our eyes;
This is the day that proves it thine,
The day that law our favour rise.

3. Sinners rejoice, and saints be glad:
Hosanna, let his name be blest;
A thousand honors on his head,
With peace and light and glory rest!

4. In God's own name he comes to bring
Salvation to our dying race;
Let the whole church address their king
With hearts of joy, and songs of praise.

PSALM CXIX.

I have collected and disposed the most useful Verses of this Psalm under eighteen different heads, and form'd a Divine Song upon each of them. But the Verses are much transposed to attain some Degree of Connection.

In some places, among the words Law, Commands, mains, Judgments, Testimonies, I have used Gospel, Word, Grace, Truth, Promises, &c.
is more agreeable to the New Testament, and the common Language of Christians, and it equally answers the design of the Psalmist, which was to recommend the Holy Scriptures.

PSALM CXIX.

FIRST PART. Common Metre:

The Blessedness of Saints, and Misery of Sinners.

Ver. 1, 2, 3.

1. BLEST are the undefil’d in heart,
   Whose ways are right and clean;
   Who never from thy law depart,
   But fly from ev’ry sin.

2. Blest are the men that keep thy word
   And practise thy commands:
   With their whole heart they seek the Lord;
   And serve thee with their hands.

Ver. 16, 56.

3. Great is their peace who love thy law;
   How firm their souls abide!
   Nor can a bold temptation draw
   Their steady feet aside.

4. Then shall my heart have inward joy,
   And keep my face from shame,
   When all thy statutes I obey,
   And honor all thy name.

Ver. 21, 118, 119, 155.

5. But haughty sinners God will hate:
   The proud shall die accurst;

The
The sons of falsehood and deceit
Are trodden to the dust.
6. Vile as the dross the wicked are:
   And those that leave thy ways
Shall see salvation from afar,
But never taste thy grace.

PSALM CXIX.

SECOND PART. Common Metre.

Secret Devotion and Spiritual mindedness; or Constant Converse with God.

Ver. 147, 55, 81.

1. To Thee, before the dawning light,
   My gracious God, I pray;
I meditate thy name by night,
   And keep thy law by day.
2. My spirit faints to see thy grace;
   Thy promise bears me up;
And while salvation long delays,
   Thy word supports my hope.
   Ver. 164, 62.

3. Seven times a day I lift my hands,
   And pay my thanks to thee;
Thy righteous providence demands
   Repeated praise from me.
4. When midnight-darkness veils the skies,
   I call thy works to mind;
My thoughts in warm devotion rise,
   And sweet acceptance find.

PSALM
PSALM CXIX: THIRDS PART. COM. MET.

Prefessions of sincerity, repentance and obedience.
Ver. 57, 60, 30, 14.

1. Thou art my portion, O my God;
   Soon as I know thy way,
   My heart makes haste t' obey thy word,
   And suffers no delay.

2. I choose the path of heav'nly truth,
   And glory in my choice;
   Not all the riches of the earth
   Could make me so rejoice.

   Ver. 59.

3. The testimonies of thy grace
   I set before my eyes:
   Thence I derive my daily strength,
   And there my comfort lies.

4. If once I wander from thy path,
   I think upon my ways;
   Then turn my feet to thy commands,
   And trust thy pard'ning grace.

   Ver. 94, 114, 112.

5. Now I am thine, forever thine,
   O save thy servant, Lord;
   Thou art my shield, my hiding-place;
   My hope is in thy word.

6. Thou hast inclin'd this heart of mine
   Thy statutes to fulfil;
   And thus till mortal life shall end
   Would I perform thy will.

PSALM
HOW shall the young secure their hearts,
And guard their lives from sin?
Thy word the choicest rules imparts
To keep the conscience clean.

2. When once it enters to the mind,
It spreads such light abroad,
The meanest souls instruction find,
And raise their thoughts to God.

Ver. 9. 130.

3. 'Tis like the sun, a heav'ly light,
That guides us all the day;
And thro' the dangers of the night,
A lamp to lead our way.

4. The men that keep thy law with care,
And meditate thy word,
Grow wiser than their teachers are,
And better know the Lord.

Ver. 105, 99, 100.

5. Thy precepts make me truly wise;
I hate the sinner's road:
I hate my own vain thoughts that rise,
But love thy law, my God.

6. The starry heav'n's thy rule obey,
The earth maintains her place:
And these thy servants, night and day,
Thy skill and pow'r express.

Ver. 160, 140, 9, 116.

7. But
Psalm CXIX.

1. But still thy law and gospel, Lord,
   Have lessons more divine:
Not earth stands firmer than thy word,
   Nor stars so nobly shine.]

8. Thy word is everlasting truth,
   How pure is ev’ry page!
That holy book shall guide our youth,
   And well support our age.

Psalm CXIX. First Part. Com. Met.

Delight in scripture; or the word of God dwelling in us.

Ver. 97, 148.

1. O How I love thy holy law!
   'Tis daily my delight:
And thence my meditations draw
   Divine advice by night.

2. My waking eyes prevent the day,
   To meditate thy word:
My soul with longing melts away
   To hear thy gospel Lord.

Ver. 3, 13, 54, 19, 103.

3. How doth thy word my heart engage!
   How well employ my tongue!
And in my tiresome pilgrimage,
   Yields me a heav’nly song.

4. Am I a stranger, or at home:
   'Tis my perpetual feast;
Not honey dropping from the comb
   So much allures the taste,

Ver. 72, 127, 28, 49, 175.

5. No
5. No treasures so enrich the mind;
   Nor shall thy word be sold
For loads of silver well refin'd,
   Nor heaps of choicest gold.
6. When nature sinks, and spirits droop,
   Thy promises of grace
Are pillars to support my hope,
   And there I write thy praise.

PSALM CXIX.

SIXTH PART. Common Metre.

Holiness and Comfort from the word.

Ver. 128, 97, 9.

1. LORD, I esteem thy judgments right,
   And all thy statutes just;
Thence I maintain a constant fight
   With ev'ry flattering lust.
2. Thy precepts often I survey:
   I keep thy law in sight,
Thro' all the business of the day,
   To form my actions right.

Ver. 62, 162.

3. My heart in midnight silence cries,
   "How sweet thy comforts be!"
My thoughts in holy wonder rile,
   And bring their thanks to thee.
4. And when my spirit drinks her fill
   At some good word of thine,
Not mighty men that share the spoil,
   Have joys compar'd to mine.

PSALM
PSALM CXIX.

SEVENTH PART. Common Metre.

Imperfect of nature, and perfection of scripture.

Ver. 96, paraphras'd.

1. LET all the heathen writers join
   To form one perfect book,
   Great God, if once compar'd with thine,
   How mean their writings look!

2. Not the most perfect rules they gave
   Could shew one sin forgiv'n,
   Nor lead a step beyond the grave;
   But thine conduct to heav'n.

3. I've seen an end to what we call
   Perfection here below,
   How short the pow'rs of nature fall,
   And can no farther go.

4. Yet men would fain be just with God
   By works their hands have wrought;
   But thy commands, exceeding broad,
   Extend to ev'ry thought.

5. In vain we boast perfection here,
   While sin defiles our frame!
   And sinks our virtues down so far,
   They scarce deserve the name.

6. Our faith, and love, and ev'ry grace,
   Fall far below thy word;
   But perfect truth and righteousness
   Dwell only with the Lord.
The word of God is the saint's portion; or The excellency and variety of scripture.

Ver. 111, paraphras'd.

1. LORD, I have made thy word my choice,
My lasting heritage;
There shall my noblest pow'rs rejoice,
My warmest thoughts engage.

2. I'll read the hist'ries of thy love,
And keep thy laws in sight,
While thro' the promises I rove,
With ever-fresh delight.

3. 'Tis a broad land of wealth unknow,
Where springs of life arise,
Seeds of immortal bliss are sown,
And hidden glory lies.

4. The best relief that mourners have;
It makes our sorrows blest;
Our fairest hope beyond the grave,
And our eternal rest.

Desire of knowledge; or, The teachings of the Spirit with the word.

Ver. 64, 68, 18, 73, 125.

1. THY mercies fill the earth, O LORD,
How good thy works appear!
Open my eyes to read thy word,
And see thy wonders there.

2. My heart was fashion'd by thy hand;
My service is thy due;
O make thy servant understand
The duties he must do.

Ver. 19, 26,

3. Since I'm a stranger here below,
Let not thy path be hid,
But mark the road my feet should go,
And be my constant guide.

4. When I confess'd my wand'ring ways,
Thou heard'st my soul complain;
Grant me the teachings of thy grace,
Or I shall stray again.

Ver. 33, 34, 50, 71.

5. If God to me his statutes shew,
And heav'nly truth impart,
His work for ever I'll pursue,
His law shall rule my heart.

6. This was my comfort when I bore
Variety of grief;
It made me learn thy word the more,
And fly to that relief.

Ver. 51, 27, 171.

7. (In vain the proud deride me now;
I'll ne'er forget thy law,
Nor let that blessed gospel go,
Whence all my hopes I draw.

8. When I have learn'd my father's will,
I'll teach the world his ways:
My thankful lips, inspir'd with zeal,
Shall loud pronounce his praise.)
PSALM CXIX. Tenth Part. Common Metre.

Pleading the Promises.

Ver. 38, 49, 41, 58, 107.

1. Behold thy waiting servant, Lord,
   Devoted to thy fear;
Remember and confirm thy word,
   For all my hopes are there.

2. Hast thou not writ salvation down,
   And promised quick'ning grace?
Doth not my heart address thy throne?
   And yet thy love delays.

Ver. 133, 42, 49, 74.

3. Mine eyes for thy salvation fail;
   O bear thy servant up;
Nor let the scoffing lips prevail,
   Who dare reproach my hope.

4. Didst thou not raise my faith, O Lord?
   Then let thy truth appear:
Saints shall rejoice in my reward,
   And trust as well as fear.

PSALM CXIX.

Eleventh Part. Common Metre.

Breathing after holiness.

Ver. 5, 33, 29.

1. O that the Lord would guide my ways
   To keep his statutes still!
O that my God would grant me grace
   To know and do his will!

2. O
O send thy Spirit down to write
Thy law upon my heart!
Nor let my tongue indulge deceit;
Nor act the liar's part.

Ver. 37, 36, 133.

3. From vanity turn off my eyes;
Let no corrupt design,
Nor covetous desires arise
Within this soul of mine.

4. Order my footsteps by thy word,
And make my heart sincere;
Let sin have no dominion, Lord,
But keep my conscience clear.

Ver. 176, 35.

5. My soul hath gone too far astray;
My feet too often slip;
Yet since I've not forgot thy way,
Restore thy wand'ring sheep.

5. Make me to walk in thy commands;
'Tis a delightful road;
Nor let my head, or heart, or hands,
Offend against my GOD.

Psalm CXIX.

Twelfth Part: Common Metre.

Breathing after Comfort and deliverance.

My God, consider my distress,
Let mercy plead my cause;

Though
Though I have finn'd against thy grace,
I can’t forget thy laws.

2. Forbid, forbid the sharp reproach
Which I so justly fear;
Uphold my life, uphold my hopes,
Nor let my shame appear.

Ver. 122, 135, 82.

3. Be thou a surety, Lord, for me;
Nor let the proud oppress;
But make thy waiting servant see
The shinings of thy face.

4. My eyes with expectation fail;
My heart within me cries,
"When will the Lord his truth fulfil,
And make my comforts rise?"

Ver. 132.

5. Look down upon my torrows, Lord,
And shew thy grace the same,
As thou art ever wont to afford
To those that love thy name.

With my whole heart I've fought thy face
O let me never stray
From thy commands, O God of grace,
Nor tread the sinners way.

2. Thy word I've hid within my heart,
To keep my conscience clean,
And be an everlasting guard
From ev'ry rising sin.

Ver. 63, 53, 158, 161, 163.

I'm a companion of the saints,
Who fear and love the Lord;
My sorrows rise, my nature faints,
When men transgress thy word.

While sinners do thy gospel wrong;
My spirit stands in awe;
My soul abhors a lying tongue,
But loves thy righteous law.

Ver. 161, 120, 166, 174.

My heart with sacred rev'rence hears
The threat'nings of thy word;
My flesh with holy trembling fears
The judgments of the LORD.

My God, I long, I hope, I wait
For thy salvation still;
While thy whole law is my delight;
And I obey thy will.

PSALM CXIX.

FOURTEENTH PART. Common Metre.

Benefit of Afflictions, and Support under them.

Ver. 153, 81, 82, 71.

1. CONSIDER all my sorrows, Lord,
And thy deliverance send;
My soul for thy salvation faints,
When will my troubles end!

W

2. Yet
2. Yet I have found 'tis good for me
   To bear my father's rod;
   Afflictions make me learn thy law,
   And live upon my God.

   Ver. 50, 92.

3. This is the comfort I enjoy
   When new distress begins,
   I read thy word, I run thy way
   And hate my former sins.

4. Had not thy word been my delight,
   When earthly joys were fled,
   My soul oppress'd with sorrow's weight
   Had sunk amongst the dead.

   Ver. 75. 67.

5. I know thy judgments, Lord, are right,
   Tho' they may seem severe;
   The sharpest suff'ring's I endure
   Flow from thy faithful care.

6. Before I knew thy chast'ning rod
   My feet were apt to stray;
   But now I learn to keep thy word,
   Nor wander from thy way.

   PSALM CXIX:
   Fifteenth Part. Common Metre.

   Holy Resolutions.

   Ver. 93, 15, 16.

1. That thy statutes ev'ry hour
   Might dwell upon my mind!
   Thence I derive a quick'n'ing pow'r,
   And daily peace I find.

2. To
2. To meditate thy precepts, Lord,
Shall be my sweet employ;
My soul shall never forget thy word,
Thy word is all my joy.

Ver. 32, 13, 46.

3. How would I run in thy commands,
If thou my heart discharge
From sin and Satan’s hateful chains,
And set my feet at large?

4. My lips with courage shall declare
Thy statutes and thy name;
I’ll speak thy word, thy kings should hear;
Nor yield toful shame.

Ver. 61, 69, 70, 115.

5. Let bands of persecutors rise.
To rob me of my right,
Let pride and malice forge their lies;
Thy law is my delight.

6. Depart from me, ye wicked race;
Whole hands and hearts are ill;
I love my God, I love his ways,
And must obey his will.

P S A L M C X I X.

Sixteenth Part. Common Metre:

Prayer for quickening Grace.

Ver. 25, 37.

My soul lies cleaving to the dust;
Lord, give me life divine;
From vain delusions, and ev’ry lust,
Turn off these eves of mine.
PSALM CXIX.

2. I need the influence of thy grace
To speed me in thy way,
Left I should loiter in my race,
Or turn my feet astray.

Ver. 107, 156, 40.

3. When sore afflictions press me down,
I need thy quick'ning pow'r's;
Thy word that I have rested on,
Shall help my heaviest hours.

4. Are not thy mercies fov'regn still,
And thou a faithful God?
Wilt thou not grant me warmer zeal
To run the heav'nly road?

Ver. 159, 40, 93.

5. Does not my heart thy precepts love,
And long to see thy face;
And yet how slow my spirit move,
Without enlivening grace!

6. Then shall I love thy gospel more,
And ne'er forget thy word,
When I have felt its quick'ning pow'r,
To draw me near the Lord.

PSALM CXIX.

Seventeenth Part. Long Metre.

Courage and Perseverance under Persecution; or,
Grace shining in Difficulties and Trials.

Ver. 143, 28, 51, 69, 110.

WHEN pain and anguish seize me, Lord,
All my support is from thy word;

My
My soul dissolves for heaviness,
Uphold me with thy strengthening grace.

2. The proud have fram'd their scoff & lies,
They watch my feet with envious eyes,
And tempt my soul to snares and sin,
Yet thy commands I ne'er decline.

Ver. 161, 78.

3. They hate me, Lord, without a cause;
They hate to see me love thy laws;
But I will trust and fear thy name,
'Till pride and malice die with shame.

PSALM CXIX. LAST PART. Long Met.

Sanctified Afflictions, or, Delight in the Word of GOD.

Ver. 67, 59.

FATHER, I bless thy gentle hand;
How kind was thy chastising rod,
That forc'd my conscience to a stand,
And brought my wand'ring soul to God!

2. Foolish and vain I went astray;
Ere I had felt thy scourges, Lord,
I left my guide, and lost my way;
But now I love and keep thy word.

Ver. 71, 72.

3. 'Tis good for me to wear the yoke;
For pride is apt to rise and swell;
'Tis good to bear my Father's stroke.
That I might learn his statutes well.

4. The law that issues from thy mouth,
Shall raise my cheerful passions more
Than all the treasures of the south,
Or western hills of golden ore.

5. Thy hands have made my mortal frame;
Thy Spirit form'd my soul within;
Teach me to know thy wondrous name,
And guard me safe from death and sin.

6. Then all that love and fear the Lord,
At my salvation shall rejoice;
For I have hoped in thy word,
And made thy grace my only choice.

P S A L M C X X.
Complaint of quarrelsome Neighbours; or, A devout Wish for Peace

THOU God of Love, thou Ever-bless'd,
Pity my suffering state;
When wilt thou set my soul at rest
From lips that love deceit?

2. Hard lot of mine! my days are cast
Among the sons of strife,
Whole never-ceasing brawlings waste
My golden hours of life.

3. O might I fly to change my place,
How would I choose to dwell
In some wild lonesome wilderness,
And leave these gates of hell!

4. Peace is the blessing that I seek;
How lovely are its charms!
I am for peace; but when I speak,
They all declare for arms.

5. New
New passions still their souls engage,
And keep their malice strong;
What shall be done to curb thy rage,
O thou devouring tongue!

Should burning arrows smite thee thro',
Strict justice would approve:
But I had rather spare my foe,
And melt his heart with love.

P S A L M CXXI. Long Metre:

Divine Protection.

1. Up to the hills I lift mine eyes,
Th' eternal hills beyond the skies;
Thence all her help my soul derives;
There my almighty refuge lives.

2. He lives, the everlasting GOD
That built the world, that spread the flood;
The heav'ns with all their hefts he made,
And the dark regions of the dead.

3. He guides our feet, he guards our way;
His morning smiles bless all the day:
He spreads the ev'ning veil, and keeps
The silent hours while Isr'el sleeps.

4. Isr'el, a name divinely blest,
May rise secure, securely rest;
Thy holy guardian's wakeful eyes
Admit no slumber nor surprize.

5. No sun shall smite thy head by day;
Nor the pale moon with sickly ray

Shall
Shall blast thy couch; no baleful star
Dart his malignant fire from far.
6. Should earth and hell with malice burn,
Still thou shalt go, and still return
Safe in the Lord; his heav'ly care
Defends thy life from ev'ry snare.
7. On thee foul spirits have no pow'r!
And in thy last departing hour,
Angels that trace the viny road,
Shall bear thee homeward to thy God.

Preservation by Day and Night.

1. To heav'n I lift my waiting eyes,
   There all my hopes are laid:
The Lord who built the earth and skies
   Is my perpetual aid.
2. Their feet shall never slide or fall
   Whom he designs to keep;
   His ear attends the softest call;
   His eyes can never sleep.
3. He will sustain our weakest pow'rs
   With his almighty arm,
   And watch our most unguarded hours
   Against surprising harm.
4. He'el rejoice and rest secure,
   Thy keeper is the Lord;
   His wakeful eyes employ his pow'r
   For thine eternal guard.
5. Nor scorching sun, nor sickly moon
   Shall have his leave to smite;
He shields thy head from burning noon,
From blasting damps at night.

6. He guards thy soul, he keeps thy breath,
Where thickest dangers come.
Go and return, secure from death,
'Till God commands thee home.

PSALM CXXI. As the 148th Psalm.

GOD our Preserver.

1. UPWARD I lift mine eyes;
From God is all my aid;
The God that built the skies,
And earth and nature made;

God is the tower
To which I fly:
His grace is nigh
In ev'ry hour.

2. My feet shall never slide,
Or fall in fatal snares,
Since God, my guard and guide,
Defends me from my fears.

Those wakeful eyes
That never sleep,
Shall He'sel keep,
When dangers rise.

3. No burning heats by day,
Nor blasts of ev'ning air,
Shall take my health away,
If God be with me there:

Thou art my Sun,
And thou my shade,
To guard my head
By night or noon.
4. Hast thou not given thy word
To save my soul from death?
And I can trust my Lord
To keep my mortal breath;
I'll go and come,
Nor fear to die,
'Till from on high
Thou call me home.

The church adorna'd with grace,
Stands like a palace built for God,
To shew his milder face.

3. Up to her courts with joy unknown
The holy tribes repair;
The Son of David holds his throne,
And sits in judgment there.

4. He hears our praises and complaints;
And while his awful voice
Divides the sinners from the saints,
We tremble and rejoice.

Going to Church.

1. How pleas'd and blest was I
   To hear the people cry,
   "Come, let us seek our God to-day;"
   Yes, with a cheerful zeal,
   We haste to Zion's hill,
   And there our vows and honors pay.

2. Zion, thrice happy place,
   Adorn'd with wondrous grace,
   And walls of strength embrace thee round;
   In thee our tribes appear
   To pray, and praise, and hear
   The saviour gospel's joyful sound.

3. There David's greater Son
   Has fix'd his royal throne,
   He fits for grace and judgment there;
   He bids the saint be glad,
   He makes the sinner sad,
   And humble souls rejoice with fear.

4. May peace attend thy gate,

PSALM CXXIII. Common Metre.

O Thou whose grace and justice reign,
Erected above the skies,
To thee our hearts would tell their pain,
To thee we lift our eyes.

2. As servants watch their master's hand,
And fear the angry stroke!
Or maids before their mistress stand,
And wait a peaceful look:

3. So for our sins we justly feel
Thy discipline, O God;
Yet wait the gracious moment still,
'Till thou remove thy rod.

4. Those that in wealth and pleasure live,
Our daily groans deride,
And thy delays of mercy give
Fresh courage to their pride.

5. Our foes insult us, but our hope
In thy compassion lies:
This thought shall bear our spirits up,
That God will not despise.
PSALM CXXIV. Long Metre.

A Song for the Fifth of November.

Had not the Lord, may Jir’el say,
Had not the Lord maintain’d our side,
When men to make our lives a prey
Rose like the swelling of the tide:
The swelling tide had stop’d our breath,
So fiercely did the waters roll,
We had been swallow’d deep in death;
Proud waters had o’erwhelm’d our soul.

5. We leap for joy, we shout and sing,
Who just escap’d the fatal stroke;
So flies the bird with cheerful wing,
When once the fowler’s snare is broke.

4. Forever blessed be the Lord,
Who broke the fowler’s cursed snare,
Who sav’d us from the murd’ring sword,
And made our lives and souls his care!

5. Our help is in Jehovah’s name,
Who form’d the earth and built the skies;
He that upholds that wondrous frame,
Guards his own church with watchful eyes.

The Saints Trial and Safety.

1. Unshaken as the sacred hill,
And firm as mountains be,
Firm as a rock the soul shall rest
That leans, O Lord, on thee.

2. Not walls nor hills could guard so well
Old Salem’s happy ground,

As
As those eternal arms of love
That ev'ry faint surround.
3. While tyrants are a smarting scourge
To drive them near to God,
Divine compassion does allay
The fury of the rod.
4. Deal gently, Lord, with souls sincere,
And lead them safely on
To the bright gates of paradise,
Where Christ their Lord is gone.
5. But if we trace those crooked ways
That the old serpent drew,
The wrath that drove him first to hell,
Shall smite his followers too.

PSALM CXXV. Short Metre:
The Saints Trial and Safety; or, Moderated Afflictions.

1. Firm and unmoved are they
That rest their souls on God;
Firm as the mount where David dwelt,
Or where the ark abode.
2. As mountains stood to guard
The city's sacred ground,
So God, and his almighty love,
Embrace his saints around.
3. What tho' a father's rod
Drop a chastising stroke,
Yet, least it wound their souls too deep,
It's fury shall be broke.
4. Deal gently, Lord, with those
Whole faith and pious fear.
Whose hope and love, and ev'ry grace,
Proclaim their hearts sincere.

5. Nor shall the tyrant's rage
Too long oppress the faint;
The God of Is'r'el will support
His children least they faint.

6. But if our flaviish fear
Will choose the road to hell,
We must expect our portion there.
Where bolder sinners dwell.

When God restor'd our captive state.
Joy was our song, and grace our theme;
The grace beyond our hopes to great,
That joy appear'd a painted dream.

2. The scoffer owns thy hand, and pays
Unwilling honors to thy name;
While we with pleasure shout thy praise,
With cheerful notes thy love proclaim.

3. When we review our dismal fears,
'Twas hard to think they vanish'd so;
With God we left our flowing tears,
He makes our joys like rivers flow.

4. The man that in his furrow'd field
His scatter'd seed with sadness leaves,
Will shout to see the harvest yield
A welcome load of joyful sheaves.
WHEN God reveal'd his gracious name,
And chang'd my mournful state.
My rapture seem'd a pleasing dream,
The grace appear'd so great.
2. The world beheld the glorious change,
And did thy hand confess;
My tongue broke out in unknown strains,
And sung surprizing grace:
3. Great is the work, my neighbours cry'd,
And own'd the pow'r divine;
Great is the work, my heart reply'd
And be the glory thine.
4. The Lord can clear the darkest skies,
Can give us day for night;
Make drops of sacred sorrow rise
To rivers of delight.
5. Let those that low in sadness wait
'Till the fair harvest come,
They shall confess their sheaves are great,
And shout the blessings home.
6. Tho' seed lie bury'd long in dust,
It shan't deceive their hope!
The precious grain can ne'er be lost,
For grace infuses the crop.

Each like a plant of honor shine,
   And learn to fear the Lord.

4. The Lord shall thy best hopes fulfil
   For months and years to come;
The Lord who dwells on Zion's hill,
   Shall send thee blessings home.

5. This is the man whose happy eyes
   Shall see his house increase,
Shall see the sinking church arise,
   Then leave the world in peace.
PSALM CXXIX. Common Metre.

Persecutors punished.

Up from my youth, may Is'el say,
Have I been nurs'd in tears;
My griefs were constant as the day,
And tedious as the years.

2. Up from my youth I bore the rage
Of all the sons of strife;
Oft they assail'd my riper age,
But not destroy'd my life.

3. Their cruel plough had torn my flesh
With furrows long and deep,
Hourly they vex'd my wounds afresh,
Nor let my sorrows sleep.

4. The Lord grew angry on his throne,
And with impartial eye
Measur'd the mischiefs they had done,
Then let his arrows fly.

5. How was their insolence surpriz'd
To hear his thunders roll!
And all the foes of Sion seiz'd
With horror to the soul!

6. Thus shall the men that hate the saints
Be blasted from the sky;
Their glory fades their courage faints,
And all their projects die.

Pardoning Grace.

OUT of the deeps of long distress,
   The borders of despair,
I sent my cries to seek thy grace,
   My groans to move thine ear.

2. Great God, should thy severer eye,
   And thine impartial hand
Mark and revenge iniquity,
   No mortal flesh could stand,

3. But there are pardons with my God
   For crimes of high degree;
Thy Son has bought them with his blood,
   To draw us near to thee.

4. [I wait for thy salvation, Lord,
   With strong desires I wait;
My soul, invited by thy word,
   Stands watching at thy gate.]

5. [Just as the guard that keeps the night

Pardoning Grace.

F R O M deep distress and troubled tho'ls,
To thee, my God, I rais'd my cries!
If thou severely mark our faults,
   No flesh can stand before thine eyes.
2. But thou has built thy throne of grace,
Free to dispense thy pardons there,
That sinners may approach thy face,
   And hope and love as well as fear.
3. As the benighted pilgrims wait,
And long, and wish for break of day,
So waits my soul before thy gate;
   When will my God his face display?
4. My trust is fix'd upon thy word,
Nor shall I trust thy word in vain:
Let mourning souls address the Lord.
   And find relief from all their pain.

5. Great
5 Great is his love, and large his grace,
Thro' the Redemption of his Son:
He turns our feet from sinful ways,
And pardons what our hands have done.

Psalm CXXXI

Humility and Submission.

Is there ambition in my heart?
Search, gracious God, and see;
Or do I act a haughty part?
Lord, I appeal to thee.

2. I charge my thought, be humble still,
And all my carriage mild;
Content, my Father, with thy will,
And quiet as a child.

3. The patient soul, the lowly mind,
Shall have a large reward:
Let saints in sorrow lie resign'd,
And trust a faithful Lord.

Psalm CXXXII. 5, 13—18. Long Metre

At the Settlement of a Church or the Ordination of a Minister.

Where shall we go to seek and find
An habitation for our God,
A dwelling for the eternal Mind,
Amongst the sons of flesh and blood?

And reign forever, faith the Lord;
Here shall my pow'r and love be known,
And blessings shall attend my word.

4. Here will I meet the hungry poor,
And fill their souls with living bread;
Sinners that wait before my door,
With sweet provision shall be fed.

5. Girded with truth, and clothed with grace,
My priests, my ministers shall shine;
Not Aaron in his costly dress
Made an appearance so divine.

6. The saints, unable to contain
Their inward joys, shall shout and sing,
The son of David here shall reign,
And Zion triumph in her King.

7. Jesus shall see a numerous seed
Born here to uphold his glorious name;
His crown shall flourish on his head,
While all his foes are clothed with shame."

PSALM CXXXII. 4,5,6,7,8,15—17. C. M.

A Church established.

No sleep nor slumber to his eyes
Good David would afford,
Till he had found below the skies
A dwelling for the Lord.

2. The Lord in Zion plac'd his name,
His ark was settled there:
To Zion the whole nation came
To worship thrice a year.
Psalm CXXXIII.

PAUSE.

2. Arise, O King of Grace, arise,
   And enter to thy rest!
Lo! thy church waits with longing eyes
   Thus to be own'd and blest.

5. Enter with all thy glorious train,
   Thy spirit and thy word;
All that the ark did once contain,
   Could no such grace afford.

6. Here, mighty God, accept our vows,
   Here let thy praise be spread;
Bless the provisions of thy house,
   And fill thy poor with bread.

7. Here let the Son of David reign;
   Let God's anointed shine;
Justice and truth his court maintain,

3. 'Tis like the oil divinely sweet
    On Aaron's rev'rend head,
The trickling drops perfum'd his feet,
    And o'er his garments spread.
4. 'Tis pleasant as the morning dews
    That fall on Sion's hill,
Where God his mildest glory shews,
    And makes his grace distil.

BLEST are the sons of peace,
    Whose hearts and hopes are one,
Whose kind designs to serve and please
    Thro' all their actions run.
2. Blest is the pious house
    Where zeal and friendship meet,
Their songs of praise their mingled vows,
    Make their communion sweet.
3. Thus when on Aaron's head
    They pour'd the rich perfume,
The oil through all his raiment spread,
    And pleasu e fill'd the room.
4. Thus on the heav'ly hills

   Shall still endure;
   And ever sure
   Abides thy word.

He sent his only Son
To save us from our woe,
From satan, sin, and death,
   And ev'ry hurtful foe.
   His pow'r and grace
   Are still the same!
   And let his name
   Have endless praise.

Give thanks aloud to God,
   To God the heav'nly King;
And let the spacious earth
   His works and glories sing.
   Thy mercy, Lord,
   Shall still endure;
   And ever sure
   Abides thy word.

Give to our God immortal praise;
   Mercy and truth are all his ways;
Wonders of grace to God belong,
   Repeat his mercies in your song.

Give
2. Give to the Lord of Lords renown,
The King of kings with glory crown:
His mercies ever shall endure,
When lords and kings are known no more.

3. He built the earth, he spread the sky,
And fix'd the starry lights on high:
Wonders of grace to God belong;
Repeat his mercies in your song.

4. He fills the sun with morning light,
He bids the moon direct the night:
His mercies ever shall endure,
When suns and moons shall shine no more.

5. The Jews he freed from Pharaoh's hand,
And brought them to the promis'd land:
Wonders of grace to God belong;
Repeat his mercies in your song.

6. He saw the Gentiles dead in sin,
And felt his pity work within:
His mercies ever shall endure,
When death and sin shall reign no more.

7. He sent his Son with pow'r to save
From guilt and darkness, and the grave:
Wonders of grace to God belong,
Repeat his mercies in your song.

8. Thro' this vain world he guides our feet,
And leads us to his heav'nly seat:
His mercies ever shall endure,
When this vain world shall be no more.

P S A L M CXXXVIII. Long-Metre.

Restoring and preserving Grace.
WITH all my powers of heart and tongue,
I'll praise my maker in my song:
Angels shall hear the notes I raise.
Approve the song, and join the praise.

2. Angels that make thy church their care,
Shall witness my devotion there,
While holy zeal directs my eyes
To thy fair temple in the skies.

3. I'll sing thy truth and mercy Lord;
I'll sing the wonders of thy word;
Not all thy works and names below,
So much thy power and glory show:

4. To God I cry'd when troubles rose;
He heard me, and subdued my foes:
He did my rising fears control,
And strength diffus'd thro' all my soul.

5. The God of heav'n maintains his state,
Frowns on the proud, and scorns the great;
But from his throne descends to see
The sons of humble poverty.

6. Amidst a thousand snares I stand,
Upheld and guarded by thy hand;
Thy words my fainting soul revive,
And keep my dying faith alive.

7. Grace will compleat what grace begins;
To save from sorrows or from sins:
The work that wisdom undertakes,
Eternal mercy ne'er forsakes.
Psalm CXXXIX

First Part. Long Metre.

The all seeing GOD.

LORD, thou hast search’d & seen me thro’
Thine eye commands with piercing view
My rising and my resting hours,
My heart and flesh, with all their pow’rs.

2. My thoughts, before they are my own,
Are to my God distinctly known;
He knows the words I mean to speak,
Ere from my op’ning lips they break.

3. Within thy circling pow’r I stand;
On ev’ry side I find thy hand:
Awake, asleep, at home, abroad,
I am surrounded still with God.

4. Amazing knowledge, vast and great!
What large extent! what lofty height!
My soul, with all the pow’rs I boast,
Is in the boundless prospect lost.

5. O may these thoughts possess my breast,
Where’er I rove, where’er I rest!
Nor let my weaker passions dare
Consent to sin, for God is there.

6. Could I so false, so faithless prove,
To quit thy service and thy love,
Where, Lord, could I thy presence shun,
Or from thy dreadful glory run?

7. Up to heav’n I take my flight.
’Tis there thou dwellest enthron’d in light;
Or dive to hell, there vengeance reigns,
And Satan groans beneath thy chains.

8. If, mounted on a morning ray,
I fly beyond the western sea,
Thy swifter hand would first arrive,
And there arrest thy fugitive.

9. Or should I try to shun thy sight
Beneath the spreading veil of night,
One glance of thine, one piercing ray
Would kindle darkness into day.

10. O may these thoughts possess my breast,
Where'er I rove, where'er I rest!
Nor let my weaker passions dare
Consent to sin, for God is there.

PAUSE II.

11. The veil of night is no disguise,
No screen from thy all-searching eyes;
Thy hand can seize thy foes as soon
Thro' midnight shades as blazing noon.

12. Midnight and noon in this agree,
Great God, they're both alike to thee;
Not death can hide what God will spy,
And hell lies naked to his eye.

13. O may these thoughts possess my breast,
Where'er I rove, where'er I rest!
Nor let my weaker passions dare
Consent to sin, for God is there.

PSALM CXXXIX.
SECOND PART. Long Metre.
The wonderful Formation of Man.
'TWAS
'Twas from thy hand, my God, I came,
A work of such a curious frame;
In me thy fearful wonders shine,
And each proclaim thy skill divine.

2. Thine eyes did all my limbs survey,
Which yet in dark confusion lay;
Thou saw'st the daily growth they took,
Form'd by the model of thy book.

3. By thee my growing parts were nam'd,
And what thy sov'reign counsels fram'd,
(The breathing lungs, the beating heart)
Was copy'd with unerring art.

4. At last, to shew my maker's name,
God stamp'd his image on my frame,
And in some unknown moment join'd
The finish'd members to the mind.

5. There the young seeds of thought began,
And all the passions of the man:
Great God, our infant nature pays
Immortal tribute to thy praise.

6. Lord, since in my advancing age
I've acted on life's busy stage,
Thy thoughts of love to me surmount
The pow'r of numbers to recount.

7. I could survey the ocean o'er,
And count each land that makes the shore,
Before my swiftest thoughts could trace
The num'rous wonders of thy grace.

8. These on my heart are still impress,
With these I give my eyes to rest;
And at my waking hour I find
God and his love possess my mind.

My God, what inward grief I feel
When impious men transgress thy will?
I mourn to hear their lips profane
Take thy tremendous name in vain.

1. My God, what inward grief I feel
When impious men transgress thy will?
I mourn to hear their lips profane
Take thy tremendous name in vain.

2. Does not my soul detest and hate
The sons of malice and deceit?
Those that oppose thy laws and thee,
I count them enemies to me.

3. Lord search my soul, try ev'ry thought;
Tho' my own heart accuse me not
Of walking in a false disguise,
I beg the trial of thine eyes.

4. Doth secret mischief lurk within?
Do I indulge some unknown sin?
O turn my feet whene'er I stray,
And lead me in thy perfect way.

In all my vast concerns with thee,
In vain my soul would try
To shun thy presence, Lord, or flee
The notice of thine eye.

2. Thy all-surrounding sight surveys
My rising and my rest,
My public walks, my private ways,
And secrets of my breast.

3. My thoughts he open to the Lord,
Before they're form'd within;
And ere my lips pronounce the word,
He knows the sense I mean.

4. O wondrous knowledge, deep and high!
Where can a creature hide?
Within my circling arms I lie,
Beset on ev'ry side.

5. So let thy grace surround me still,
And like a bulwark prove,
To guard my soul from ev'ry ill,
Secur'd by thy reign I live.

6. Lord, where shall guilty souls retire,
Forgotten and unknown;
In hell they meet thy dreadful fire,
In heav'n thy glorious throne?

7. Should I suppress my vital breath,
To 'scape the wrath divine,
Thy voice would break the bars of death,
And make the grave resign.

8. If, wing'd with beams of morning-light,
I fly beyond the west,
Thy hand which must support my flight,
Would soon betray my rest.

If o'er my sins I think to draw
The curtains of the night,
Those flaming eyes that guard thy law
Wou'd turn the shades to light.
10. The beams of noon, the midnight hour,
Are both alike to thee:
O may I ne'er provoke that pow'r,
From which I cannot flee.

PSALM CXXXIX.
SECOND PART. Common Metre.
The Wisdom of GOD in the Formation of Man.

WHEN I with pleasing wonder stand,
And all my frame survey,
Lord, 'tis thy work; I own thy hand
Thus built my humble clay.

2. Thy hand my heart and reins possest,
Where unborn nature grew;
Thy wisdom all my features trac'd,
And all my members drew.

3. Thine eye with nicest care survey'd
The growth of ev'ry part;
'Till the whole scheme thy tho'ts had laid
Was copy'd by thy art.

4. Heav'n, earth, and sea, and fire and wind,
Shew me thy wondrous skill;
But I review myself and find
Diviner wonder still.

5. Thy awful glories round me shine;
My flesh proclaims thy praise;
Lord, to thy works of nature join
Thy miracles of grace.

PSALM
PSALM CXLII.

Third Part. Common Metre.
The Mercies of GOD innumerable.
An Evening Psalm.

LORD, when I count thy mercies o'er,
They strike me with surprise;
Not all the sands that spread the shore,
To equal numbers rise.

2. My flesh with fear and wonder stands,
The product of thy skill;
And hourly blessings from thy hands,
Thy thoughts of love reveal.

3. These on my heart by night I keep;
How kind, how dear to me!
Q may the hour that ends my sleep,
Still find my thoughts with thee.

PSALM CXLII. 2—5. Long Metre.

Watchfulness and Brotherly Reproof.
A Morning or Evening Psalm.

MY God, accept my early vows,
Like morning incense in thine house:
And let my nightly worship rise,
Sweet as the ev'ning sacrifice.

2. Watch o'er my lips and guard them Lord,
From ev'ry rash and heedless word;
Nor let my feet incline to tread
The guilty paths where sinners lead.
O may the righteous, when I stray,
Smite, and reprove my wand'ring way!
Their gentle words, like ointment shed,
Shall never bruise, but cheer my head.

When I behold them press with grief,
I'll cry to heav'n for their relief;
And by my warm petitions prove,
How much I prize their faithful love.

GOD is the Hope of the help'efs.

TO God I made my sorrows known;
From God I sought relief;
In long complaints before his throne
I pour'd out all my grief.

My soul was overwhelm'd with woes;
My heart began to break;
My God, who all my burdens knows,
He knows the way I take.

On ev'ry side I cast mine eye,
And found my helpers gone;
While friends and strangers past me by
Neglected or unknown.

Then did I raise a louder cry,
And call'd thy mercy near;
"Thou art my portion when I die,
"Be thou my refuge here."

Lord, I am brought exceeding low,
Now let thine ear attend,
And make my foes who vex me know
I've an almighty friend.

6. From my sad prison set me free,
    Then shall I praise thy name;
    And holy men shall join with me
    Thy kindness to proclaim.

PSALM CXLIII. Long Metre.

Complaint of heavy afflictions in mind and body.

MY righteous Judge, my gracious God!
Hear when I spread my hands abroad
And cry for succour from thy throne;
O make thy truth and mercy known.

2. Let judgment not against me pass;
    Behold thy servant pleads thy grace:
    Should justice call us to thy bar,
    No man alive is guiltless there.

3. Look down in pity, Lord, and see
    The mighty woes that burden me:
    Down to the dust my life is brought,
    Like one long bury'd and forgot.

4. I dwell in darkness and unseen;
    My heart is desolate within:
    My thoughts in musing silence trace
    The ancient wonders of thy grace.

5. Thence I derive a glimpse of hope,
    To bear my sinking spirits up;
    I stretch my hands to God again,
    And thirst like parched lands for rain.

6. For
6. For thee I thirst, I pray, I mourn;
When will thy smiling face return?
Shall all my joys on earth remove;
And God forever hide his love?
7. My God, thy long delay to save,
Will sink thy pris'ner to the grave;
My heart grows faint, and dim mine eye;
Make haste to help before I die.
8. The night is witness to my tears,
Distressing pains, distressing fears;
O might I hear thy morning voice,
How would my weary'd powers rejoice.
9. In thee I trust, to thee I fly,
And lift my heavy soul on high;
For thee sit waiting all the day,
And wear the tiresome hours away.
10. Break off my fetters, Lord, and show
Which is the path my feet should go;
If snares and foes beset the road,
I flee to hide me near my God:
11. Teach me to do thy holy will,
And lead me to thy heav'nly hill;
Let the good Spirit of thy love
Conduct me to thy courts above.
12. Then shall my soul no more complain
The tempter then shall rage in vain;
And flesh, that was my foe before,
Shall never vex my spirit more.

PSAL
PSALM CXLIV.

FIRST PART. Common Metre.
Assistance and Victory in the spiritual Warfare.

1. For ever blessed be the Lord,
   My Saviour and my shield;
He sends his Spirit with his word,
   To arm me for the field.

2. When sin and hell their force unite,
   He makes my soul his care,
Instructs me to the heav'nly fight,
   And guards me thro' the war.

3. A friend and helper so divine,
   Does my weak courage raise;
He makes the glorious vict'ry mine,
   And his shall be the praise.

PSALM CXLIV. 3--6.

SECOND PART. Common Metre:
The Vanity of Man, and Condescension of God's

1. Lord, what is man, poor feeble man,
   Born of the earth at first?
His life a shadow, light and vain,
   Still hast'ning to the dust.

2. O what is feeble dying man,
   Or any of his race,
That God should make it his concern
   To visit him with grace!

   That God who darts his lightnings down,
   Who shakes the world's above,
   And mountains tremble at his frown,
   How wondrous is his love!

PSALM
PSALM CXLIV. 12—15.

FIRST PART. Long Metre.
Grace above Riches; or, The happy Nation.

1. HAPPY the city, where their sons,
   Like pillars round a palace set,
   And daughters, bright as polish'd stones,
   Give strength and beauty to the state.

2. Happy the country where the sheep,
   Cattle and corn have large increase;
   Where men securely work or sleep,
   Nor sons of plunder break their peace.

3. Happy the nation thus endow'd,
   But more divinely blest are those
   On whom the all sufficient God
   Himself with all his grace bestows.

PSALM CXLIV.
SECOND PART. Long Metre.
The Greatness of GOD.

MY GOD my king, thy various praise
Shall fill the remnant of my days:
Thy grace employ my humble tongue,
Till death and glory raise the song.

2. The wings of ev'ry hour shall bear
Some thankful tribute to thine ear;
And ev'ry setting sun shall see
New works of duty done for thee.

3. Thy truth and justice I'll proclaim;
Thy bounty flows, an endless stream;
Thy
Thy mercy swift, thine anger slow,
But dreadful to the stubborn foe.

4. Thy works with sov'reign glory shine;
And speak thy majesty divine;
Let Britain round her shores proclaim
The sound and honor of thy name.

5. Let distant times and nations raise
The long succession of thy praise:
And unborn ages make my song
The joy and labour of their tongue.

6. But who can speak thy wondrous deeds!
Thy greatness all our thoughts exceeds;
Vast and unsearchable thy ways,
Vast and immortal be thy praise.

Psalm CXLV. 1—7, 11—13.
First Part. Common Metre.
The Greatness of GOD.

1. LONG as I live I'll bless thy name,
   My King, my God of love;
My work and joy shall be the same,
   In the bright world above.

2. Great is the Lord, his pow'r unknown,
   And let his praise be great:
I'll sing the honors of thy throne,
   Thy works of grace repeat.

3. Thy grace shall dwell upon my tongue!
   And while my lips rejoice,
The men that hear my sacred song
   Shall join their cheerful voice.

4. Fathers to sons shall teach thy name,
   And children learn thy ways;
Ages to come thy truth proclaim,
And nations found thy praise.

5. Thy glorious deeds of ancient date
Shall thro' the world be known;
Thine arm of pow'r, thy heav'nly state;
With public splendor shown.

6. The world is manag'd by thy hands,
Thy faints are rul'd by love;
And thine eternal kingdom stands,
Tho' rocks and hills remove.

PSALM CXLV. 7, &c. Sec. Part. C. Met.
The Goodness of GOD.

Sweet is the mem'ry of thy grace;
My God, my heav'nly king;
Let age to age thy righteousness
In sounds of glory sing.

2. God reigns on high, but not confines
His goodness to the skies;
Thro' the whole earth his bounty shines;
And ev'ry want supplies.

3. With longing eyes thy creatures wait
On thee for daily food,
Thy liberal hand provides their meat,
And fills their mouths with good.

4. How kind are thy compassions, Lord!
How slow thine anger moves!
But soon he sends his pard'ning word,
To cheer the souls he loves.

5. Creatures with all their endless race,
Thy pow'r and praise proclaim.

But
But saints that taste thy richer grace,
Delight to bless thy name.

P S A L M CXLV. 14, 17, &c.

THIRD PART. Common Metre.

Mercy to Sufferers; or, GOD hearing prayer.

Let ev'ry tongue thy goodnews speak,
Thou sov'reign Lord of all;
Thy strengthening hands uphold the weak,
And raise the poor that fall.

2. When sorrow bows the spirit down,
Or virtue lies distress
Beneath some proud oppressor's frown,
Thou giv'ft the mourner rest.

3. The Lord supports our tottering days,
And guides our giddy youth:
Holy and just are all his ways,
And all his words are truth.

4. He knows the pain his servants feel,
He hears his children cry,
And their best wishes to fulfil
His grace is ever nigh.

5. His mercy never shall remove
From men of heart sincere;
He saves the souls whose humble love
Is join'd with holy fear.

6. [His stubborn foes his word shall say,
And pierce their hearts with pain;
But none that serve the Lord shall say
They sought his aid in vain.]

7. [My lips shall dwell upon his praise,
And spread his fame abroad;]
Let all the sons of Adam raise
The honors of their God.

PSALM CXLVI. Long Metre.
Praise to GOD for his Goodness and Truth.

PRAISE ye the Lord, my heart shall join
In work so pleasant, so divine,
Now while the flesh is mine abode,
And when my soul ascends to God.

2. Praise shall employ my noblest pow'rs,
While immortality endures;
My days of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life and thought and being last.

3. Why should I make a man my trust?
Princes must die and turn to dust;
Their breath departs, their pomp and pow'r,
And thoughts all vanish in an hour.

4. Happy the man whose hopes rely
On Is'el's God; he made the sky,
And earth, and sea, and all their train;
And none shall find his promise vain.

5. His truth forever stands secure:
He saves th' oppress'd, he feeds the poor;
He sends the lab'ring conscience peace,
And grants the pris'ners sweet release.

6. The Lord hath eyes to give the blind;
The Lord supports the sinking mind;
He helps the stranger in distress,
The widow and the fatherless.

7. He loves his saints he knows them well;
But turns the wicked down to hell;
PSALM CXLVI.

Thy God, O Zion, ever reigns;
Praise him in everlasting strains.

PSALM CXLVI. As the 113th Psalm.

Praise to GOD for his Goodness and Truth.

I'LL praise my maker with my breath;
And when my voice is lost in death,
Praise shall employ my nobler pow'rs;
My days of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life and thought and being last,
Or immortality endures.

2. Why should I make a man my trust?
Princes must die and turn to dust:
Vain is the help of flesh and blood;
Their breath departs, their pomp and pow'r;
And thoughts, all vanish in an hour;
Nor can they make their promise good.

3. Happy the man whose hopes rely
On Isr'el's God: he made the sky,
And earth, and sea, with all their train;
His truth forever stands secure:
He saves th' opprest he feeds the poor;
And none shall find his promise vain.

4. The Lord hath eyes to give the blind;
The Lord supports the sinking mind;
He sends the lab'ring conscience peace;
He helps the stranger in distress,
The widow and the fatherless,
And grants the pris'ner sweet release.

5. He loves his saints, he knows them well;
But turns the wicked down to hell.

Thy God, O Zion, ever reigns;
Let ev'ry tongue, let ev'ry age,
In this exalted work engage;
Praise him in everlasting strains!

6. I'll praise him while he lends me breath,
And when my voice is lost in death,
Praise shall employ my nobler pow'rs:
My days of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life, and thought, and being last,
Of immortality endure.

PSALM CXLVII. FIRST PART. L. METRE.
The Divine Nature, Providence, and Grace.

PRAISE ye the Lord; 'tis good to raise
Our hearts and voices in his praise:
His nature and his works invite
To make this duty our delight.

2. The Lord builds up Jerusalem,
And gathers nations to his name:
His mercy melts the stubborn soul,
And makes the broken spirit whole.

3. He form'd the stars those heav'nly flames;
He counts their numbers, calls their names;
His wisdom's vast, and knows no bound,
A deep where all our thoughts are drown'd.

4. Great is our Lord and great his might:
And all his glories infinite;
He crowns the meek, rewards the just,
And treads the wicked to the dust.

PAUSE.

5. Sing to the Lord exalt him high,
Who spreads his clouds all round the sky;
There he prepares the fruitful rain,
Nor lets the drops descend in vain.

6. He...
6. He makes the grass the hills adorn,
   And clothes the smiling fields with corn;
   The beasts with food his hands supply,
   And the young ravens when they cry.

7. What is the creature's skill or force?
   The sprightly man, the warlike horse?
   The nimble wit, the active limb?
   All are too mean delights for him.

8. But fains are lovely in his sight:
   He views his children with delight:
   He sees their hope he knows their fear,
   And looks and loves his image there.

PSALM CXLVII. Sec. Part. Long Metre

Summer and Winter.

A Song for Great-Britain.

O Britain, praise thy mighty God,
   And make his honor known abroad,
He bids the ocean round thee flow;
   Not bars of brass could guard thee so.

2. Thy children are secure and blest;
   Thy shores have peace, thy cities rest;
He feeds thy sons with finest wheat,
   And adds his blessing to their meat.

3. Thy changing seasons he ordains,
   Thine early and thy latter rains;
His flakes of snow like wool he sends,
   And thus the springing corn defends.

4. With hoary frost he strews the ground,
   His hail descends with clatt'ring sound:
Where is the man so vainly bold,
   That dares defy his dreadful cold?
5. He bids the southern breezes blow:
The ice dissolves, the waters flow:
But he hath nobler works and ways
To call the Britons to his praise.

6. To all the isle his laws are shown;
His gospel through the nation known:
He hath not thus reveal'd his word
To ev'ry land: Praise ye the Lord.

PSALM CXLVII. 7, &c. Common Metre.

The Seasons of the Year:

WITH songs and honors sounding loud
Addreis the Lord on high;
Over the heav'n's he spreads his cloud,
And waters veil the sky.

2. He sends his show'rs of blessings down,
To cheer the plains below:
He makes the grass the mountains crown,
And corn in valleys grow.

3. He gives the grazing ox his meat;
He hears the ravens cry:
But man, who taints his finest wheat,
Should raise his honors high.

4. His steady counsels change the face
Of the declining year;
He bids the sun cut short his race,
And wintry days appear.

5. His hoary frost, his fleecy snow,
Descend and clothe the ground;
The liquid streams forbear to flow,
In icy fetters bound.

6. When from his dreadful stores on high,
He pours the ratling hail,
The wretch that dares his God defy
Shall find his courage fail.

7. He sends his word and melts the snow:
The fields no longer mourn:
He calls the warmer gales to blow,
And bids the spring return.

8. The changing wind, the flying cloud,
Obey his mighty word:
With songs and honors sounding loud
Praise ye the sovereign Lord.

Psalm CXLVIII Proper Metre:

Praise to GOD from all Creatures.

1. Ye tribes of Adam join
With heav'n and earth and seas,
And offer notes divine
To your Creator's praise.
Ye holy throng
Of Angels bright,
In worlds of light
Begin the song.

2. Thou sun with dazzling rays,
And moon that rules the night,
Shine to your Maker's praise,
With stars of twinkling light.
His pow'r declare,
Ye floods on high,
And clouds that fly
In empty air.

3. The shining worlds above
In glorious order stand,
Or in swift courses move
By his supreme command.
He spake the word,
And all their frame
From nothing came.
To praise the Lord.

4. He mov'd their mighty wheels
In unknown ages past,
And each his word fulfils
While time and nature last.
In diff'rent ways
His works proclaim
His wondrous name,
And speak his praise.

5. Let all the earth-born race,
And monsters of the deep,
The fish that cleave the seas,
Or in their bosom sleep,
From sea and shore
Their tribute pay,
And still display
Their Maker's pow'r.

6. Ye vapours, hail and snow,
Praise ye th' almighty Lord,
And stormy winds that blow,
To execute his word.
When lightnings shine,
Or thunders roar,
Let earth adore
His hand divine.

7. Ye mountains near the skies,
With lofty cedars there,
And trees of humbler size
That fruit in plenty bear;
Basts wild and tame,
Birds, flies and worms,
In various forms
Exalt his name.

8. Ye kings and judges fear
The Lord, the lov'reign king;
And while you rule us here,
His heav'ly honors sing.
Nor let the dream
Of pow'r and state,
Make you forget
His pow'r supreme.

9. Virgins and youth engage
To found his praise divine,
While Infancy and age
Their feeble voices join.
Wide as he reigns
His name be sung
By ev'ry tongue
In endless strains.

10. Let all the nations fear
The God that rules above;
He brings his people near,
And makes them taste his love.
While earth and sky
Attempt his praise,
His saints shall raise
His honors high.

PSALM CXLVIII. Paraphrased in Long Met.
Universal Praise to GOD.
LOUD hallelujahs to the Lord,
From distant worlds where creatures
Let heav'n begin the solemn word (dwell
And sound it dreadful down to hell.

Note. This Psalm may be sung to the Tune of the old 112th or 127th Psalm, if these two Lines
be added to every Stanza, namely,
Each of his works his name displays,
But they can ne'er fulfil his praise.
Otherwise it must be sung to the usual Tunes of the Long Metre.

2. The Lord! how absolute he reigns!
Let ev'ry angel bend the knee,
Sing of his love in heav'nly strains,
And speak how fierce his terrors be.

3. High on a throne his glories dwell,
An awful throne of shining bliss:
Fly thro' the world, O sun, and tell
How dark thy beams compare'd to his.

4. Awake, ye tempests, and his fame
In sounds of dreadful praise declare;
And the sweet whisper of his name
Fill ev'ry gentler breeze of air.

5. Let clouds, and winds and waves agree,
To join their praise with blazing fire:
Let the firm earth, and rolling sea,
In this eternal song conspire.

6. Ye flow'ry plains, proclaim his skill;
Vallies lie low before his eye;
And let his praise from ev'ry hill,
Rise tuneful to the neigh'ring sky.

7. Ye
7. Ye stubborn oaks and stately pines,
Bend your high branches and adore:
Praise him, ye beasts, in different strains;
The lamb must bleat, the lion roar.

8. Birds, ye must make his praise your theme,
Nature demands a song from you;
While the dumb fish that cut the stream
Leap up and mean his praises too.

9. Mortals, can you refrain your tongue;
When nature all around you sings?
O for a shout from old and young,
From humble swains and lofty kings!

10. Where as his vast dominion lies
Make the Creator's name be known;
Loud as his thunder shout his praise,
And sound it lofty as his throne.

11. Jehovah! 'tis a glorious word!
O may it dwell on ev'ry tongue!
But saints who best have known the Lord,
Are bound to raise the noblest song.

12. Speak of the wonders of that love
Which Gabriel plays on ev'ry chord:
From all below, and all above,
Loud hallelujahs to the Lord!

PSALM CXLVIII. Short Metre.

Universal Praise.

LET ev'ry creature join
To praise th' eternal God;
Ye heav'nly hosts the song begin,
And sound his name abroad.

2. Thou sun with golden beams,
And moon with paler rays,
Ye starry lights, ye twinkling flames,
Shine to your Maker's praise.

3. He built those worlds above,
And fix'd their wond'rous frame;
By his command they stand or move,
And ever speak his name.

4. Ye vapours, when ye rise,
Or fall in show'rs of snow,
Ye thunders murm'ring round the skies,
His pow'rfu! and glory show.

5. Wind, hail, and flashing fire,
Agree to praise the Lord,
When ye in dreadful storms conspire
To execute his word.

6. By all his works above
His honors be express'd;
But saints that taste his saving love,
Should sing his praises best.

7. Let earth and ocean know
They owe their Maker praise;
Praise him ye wat'ry worlds below,
And monsters of the seas.

8. From mountains near the sky
Let his high praise resound,
From humble shrubs and cedars high,
And vales and fields around.

9. Ye lions of the wood,
And tamer beasts that graze,
Ye live upon his daily food,
And he expects your praise.
Psalm CXLIX.

10. Ye birds of lofty wing,
    On high his praises bear;
Or sit on flowry boughs and sing
    Your Maker's glory there.
11. Ye creeping ants and worms,
    His various wisdom show,
And flies in all your shining swarms,
    Praise him that dress'd you so.
12. By all the earth-born race
    His honors be express'd,
But saints that know his heav'nly grace,
    Should learn to praise him best.

Pause II.

13. Monarchs of wide command,
    Praise ye th' eternal King;
Judges adore that sov'reign hand
    Whence all your honors spring.
14. Let vig'rous youth engage
    To found his praises high;
While growing babes and with'ring age,
    Their feeble voices try.
15. United Zeal be shown
    His wond'rous fame to raise;
God is the Lord; his name alone
    Deserves our endless praise.
16. Let nature join with art,
    And all pronounce him blest;
But saints that dwell so near his heart,
    Should sing his praises best.

P S A L M CXLIX. Common Metre.
Praise GOD all his Saints; or, The Saints judging the World.
PSALM CXLIX.

ALL ye that love the Lord rejoice,
And let your songs be new;
Amidst the church with cheerful voice
His later wonders shew.

2. The Jews, the people of his grace,
Shall their Redeemer sing:
And Gentile nations join the praise,
While Zion owns her King.

3. The Lord takes pleasure in the just,
Whom sinners treat with scorn:
The meek that lie despis'd in dust,
Salvation shall adorn.

4. Saints should be joyful in their King,
Ev'n on a dying bed:
And like the souls in glory sing;
For God shall raise the dead.

5. Then his high praise shall fill their tongues;
Their hands shall weild the sword:
And vengeance shall attend their songs,
The vengeance of the Lord.

6. When Christ the judgement-seat ascends,
And bids the world appear,
Thrones are prepar'd for all his friends,
Who humbly lov'd him here.

7. Then shall they rule with iron rod
Nations that dar'd rebel:
And join the sentence of their God
On tyrants doom'd to hell.

8. The royal sinners bound in chains;
New triumphs shall afford;
Such honor for the saints remains:
Praise ye and love the Lord.
PSALM CL.

A Song of Praise.

In God's own house pronounce his praise,
His grace he there reveals;
To heav'n your joy and wonder raise,
For there his glory dwells.

2. Let all your sacred passion move,
While you rehearse his deeds;
But the great work of saving love,
Your highest praise exceeds.

3. All that have motion, life and breath,
Proclaim your Maker blest;
Yet when my voice expires in death,
My soul shall praise him best.

The Christian DOXOLOGY.

Long Metre.

To God the Father, God the Son,
And God the Spirit, three in one,
Be honor, praise, and glory giv'n,
By all on earth and all in heav'n.

Common Metre.

Let God the Father, and the Son
And Spirit be ador'd,
Where there are works to make him known
Or saints that love the Lord.
Common Metre. Where the Tune includes two Stanzas.

1. THE God of mercy be ador'd,
   Who calls our souls from death;
   Who saves by his redeeming word,
   And new creating breath.

2. To praise the Father, and the Son,
   And Spirit all divine,
The one in Three, and Three in One,
   Let saints and angels join.

Short Metre.

YE angels round the throne,
   And saints that dwell below,
Worship the Father, praise the Son,
   And bless the Spirit too.

As the 113th Psalm.

NOW to the great and sacred Three,
The Father, Son, and Spirit, be
   Eternal praise and glory giv'n,
Thro' all the works where God is known,
   By all the angels near the throne,
   And all the saints in earth and heav'n.

As the 148th Psalm.

TO God the Father's throne
   Perpetual honors raise;
Glory to God the Son,
   To God the Spirit praise:
   With all our pow'rs,
   Eternal King,
   Thy name we sing,
   While faith adores;

A TABLE to find out any Psalm, or Part of a Psalm, by the first Line of it:

A
All ye that love the Lord
Rejoices,
Almighty ruler of the skies
Amidst thy wrath remember love
Among the assemblies of the great
Among the princes earthy gods
And will the God of grace
Are all the foes of Sin fools
Are saviors now so baseless grown
Arise, my gracious God
Awake, ye saints, to praise your King

---

B
Behold the lofty sky
Behold the love, the generous love
Behold the morning sun
Behold the sure foundation stone
Behold thy waiting servant, Lord
Bless, O my soul, the living God
Blest are the sons of peace
Blest are the souls that hear and know
Blest are the undaunted in heart
Blest is the man, forever blest
Blest is the man whose bowels move
Blest is the man who shuns the place
Blest is the nation where the Lord

---

C
Children in years and knowledge young
Come, children, learn to fear the Lord
Come, let our voices join to raise
Come sound his praise abroad
Consider all my sorrows, Lord,

---

D
David rejoiced in God his Strength
Deep in our hearts let us record

TABLE.

LET all the earth their voices raise
Let all the Heathen writers join
Let children hear the mighty deeds
Let every creature join
Let every tongue thy goodness speak
Let God arise in all his might
Let sinners take their course
Let Sion in her King rejoice
Let Sion and her sons rejoice
Long as I live I'll bless thy name
Lord, haft thou callt the nation off
Lord, I am thine; but thou wilt prove
Lord, I am vile, conceiv'd in sin
Lord, I can suffer thy rebukes
Lord, I execrate thy judgments right
Lord, if thine eyes survey our faults
Lord, if thou dost not soon appear
Lord, I have made thy word my choice
Lord, in the morning thou shalt hear
Lord, I will bless thee all my days
Lord, I would spread my sore distress
Lord of the worlds above
Lord, thou hast call'd thy grace to mind
Lord, thou hast heard thy servant cry
Lord, thou hast search'd and seen me thou'
Lord, thou hast seen my soul sincere
Lord, thou wilt hear me when I pray
Lord, 'tis a pleasant thing to stand
Lord, we have heard thy works of old
Lord, what a feeble piece
Lord, what a thoughtless wretch was I
Lord, what is man, poor feeble man
Lord, what was man when made at first
Lord, when I count thy mercies o'er
Lord, when thou didst ascend on high
Lord hallelujahs to the Lord
Lo! what a glorious corner stone
Lo! what an entertaining sight

MAKER and sov'reign Lord
| Mercy and judgement are my song | 215 |
| Mine eyes and my desire | 62 |
| My God, accept my early vows | 314 |
| My God consider my distress | 274 |
| My God how many are my fears | 101 |
| My God in whom are all the springs | 125 |
| My God, my everlasting hope | 150 |
| My God, my king, thy various praise | 319 |
| My God permit my tongue | 132 |
| My God, the steps of pious men | 86 |
| My God what inward grief I feel | 311 |

| My spirits seeks within me, Lord | 95 |
| My trust is in my heavenly friend | 16 |

NO sleep nor slumber to his eyes | 293 |
Not to our names thou only just and true | 252 |
Not to ourselves who are but dust | 250 |
Now be my heart inspir'd to sing | 99 |
Now from the roaring lion's rage | 52 |
Now I'm convinc'd the Lord is kind | 155 |
Now let our lips with holy fear | 146 |
Now let our mournful songs record | 53 |
Now may the God of power and grace | 48 |
Now plead my cause, almighty God | 78 |
Now shall my solemn vows be paid | 140 |
O all ye nations praise the Lord | 255 |
O blessed souls are they | 68 |
O bless the Lord my soul
O Britain, praise thy mighty God
Of justice and of grace I sing
O for a shout of sacred joy
O God my refuge hear my cries
O God of grace and righteousness
O God of mercy hear my call
O God to whom revenge belongs
O happy man whose soul is still'd
O happy nation where the Lord
O how I love thy holy law
O Lord, how many are my foes
O Lord our heav'nly king
O Lord our God, how wondrous great
O that the Lord would guide my ways
O that thy statutes ev'ry hour
O thou that hearest when sinners cry
O thou whose grace and justice reigns
O thou whose justice reigns on high
Our God, our help in ages past
Out of the deeps of long distress
O what a stiﬀ rebellious house

TEACH me the measure of my days
Th’ almighty reigns exalted high
That man is blest who stands in awe
The earth for ever is the Lord’s
They will I love, O Lord my strength
The God of glory sends his summons forth
The God of our salvation hears
The heav’n’s declare thy glory, Lord
The King of saints how fair his face
The King, O Lord, with lungs of praise
The Lord appears my helper now
The Lord how wondrous are his ways
The Lord Jehovah reigns
The Lord is come; the heavens proclaim
The Lord my Shepherd is
The Lord of glory is my light
The Lord of glory reigns, he reigns on high
The Lord the judge before his throne
The Lord the judge his churches warres
The Lord the tow’r reigns King
The Lord the tow’r reigns leads his summons forth
The man is ever blest
The praise of Zion waits for thee
The wonders Lord, thy love has wrought
Think mighty God on feeble man
This is the day the Lord hath made
This spacious earth is all the Lord’s
Thou art my portion, O my God
Thou God of love, thou ever blest
Thou’ every age, eternal God

Thrice happy man who fears the Lord 246
Thus I resolv'd before the Lord 88
Thus faith the Lord, the spacious fields 109
Thus faith the Lord, your work is vain 91
Thus the eternal Father spake 241
Thus the great Lord of earth and sea 241
Thy mercies fill the earth, O Lord 268
Thy name, almighty Lord 255
Thy works of glory, mighty Lord 237
'Tis by thy strength the mountains stand 137
To God I cry'd with mournful voice 165
To God I made my sorrows known 315
To God the great, the ever blest 232
To heav'n I lift my waiting eyes 280
To our almighty Maker God 211
To thee before the dawning light 262
To thee most holy and most high 162
To thine almighty arm we owe 42
'Twas for thy sake eternal God 149
'Twas from thy hand, my God I came 310
'Twas in the watches of the night 130

VAIN man on foolish pleasures bent 286
Unshaken as the sacred hill 285
Up from my youth may Isr'el say 291
Up to the hills I lift mine eyes 279
Upward I lift mine eyes 281

WE bless the Lord the just the good 144
We love thee, Lord, and we adore 41
What shall I render to my God 254
When Christ to judgment shall descend 110
When God is nigh my faith is strong 34
When God provok'd with daring crimes 239
When God restor'd our captives state 287
When God reveal'd his gracious name 283
When Isr'el freed from Pharaoh's hand 250
When Isr'el sins the Lord reproves 169
When I with pleasing wonder stand 313
When man grows bold in sin
When o'erwhelm'd with grief
When pain and anguish seize me Lord
Where shall the man be found
Where shall we go to seek and find
While I keep silence and conceal
While men grow bold in wicked ways
Who shall ascend thy heav'nly place
Who shall inhabit in thy hill
Who will arise and plead my right
Why did the Jews proclaim their rage
Why did the nations join to fly
Why do the proud insult the poor
Why do the wealthy wicked boast
Why doth the Lord stand off so far
Why doth the man of riches grow
Why hast my God my soul forsook
Why should I vex my soul and fret
Will God forever cast us off
With all my powers of heart and tongue
With earnest longings of the mind
With my whole heart I'll raise my song
With my whole heart I've sought thy face
With reverence let the saints appear
With songs and honors sounding loud
Would you behold the works of God

Ye holy souls in God rejoice
Ye islands of the northern sea
Ye nations round the earth rejoice
Ye servants of th' Almighty King
Ye sons of men a feeble race
Ye sons of pride that hate the just
Ye that delight to serve the Lord
Ye that obey th' immortal King
Ye tribes of Adam join
Yet (faith the Lord) if David's race.
